HENLEY WINS 2 CHAMPIONSHIPS IN BALL LEAGUE

Boys' Team and Girls' Nine Each Victorious; Two Cups to Be Awarded

Henley high school today stands winner of two 1925 baseball titles and the two cups that go with the titles.

By the defeat of Merrill high school yesterday afternoon the Henley school won the championship of the Klamath county high school baseball league.

The Henley girls' baseball team, by suffering only one defeat, won the cup for the championship of the Klamath county high school girls' ball league.

Only one defeat was chalked up against the Henley boys, and that was at the hands of the Klamath county high school team this week, in an extra inning game. The winning team has a record of five victories and one defeat.

K. C. H. S. Second
Klamath county high school stands in second place in the league, with four victories and two defeats. The local team was defeated once by Henley and once by Malin.

Malin, with an average of .500 per cent, stood third in the league, and Merrill, with six defeats chalked up against her, held down the cellar.

Jackson Pitches

In the final game with Merrill excellent pitching by Jackson of Henley, supported by fast fielding and heavy batting, resulted in the overwhelming defeat of Merrill. The only run gained by Merrill was through errors. A walk in the sixth inning, a stolen base, a passed ball and a boot got the only Merrill man into home. Merrill made but two hits off of Jackson, and the Henley pitcher struck out 11. Kiger, who delivered for Merrill, struck out five, but allowed 24 safeties.

P. M. Nash coached the Henley boys to victory after victory. He taught them the finer points of the game, base stealing, hit and run plays, double steals, delayed steals and squeeze plays, and it was through the use of these plays that Henley was able to win consistently throughout the season.

Tomorrow R. E. Wright, James Maguire Sr., and Charles I. Roberts will leave in the early morning for Medford, where they will confer with H. Chandler Egan, Pacific coast golf champion, on the matter of golf link plans with which Egan is most familiar. At one time Egan was national amateur champion and his knowledge of the green will be of vital importance when a golf course is installed in Klamath. While in Medford the three will enjoy an afternoon of golf as well.

City Park Board Revived; Work Is Planned for 1925

After hibernating for several months, the city park board met last night and tentatively outlined improvements of the city parks, which if adopted will be the biggest stride for better city parks taken in Klamath for several years.

The following projects were suggested: Grading of Riverside park, in order to have the grounds smooth enough for a baseball diamond and general athletic field for boys and girls; installing equipment in Hot Springs park and spreading sand on the park grounds where needed; hiring of a caretaker whose business it would be to keep all city parks in good condition.

All the suggestions brought favorable reactions from the board. City Engineer E. B. Henry was asked to get estimates on the cost of the grading of Riverside park and other work which was contemplated on other parks. The board passed a resolution unanimously deciding to carry on the work of former members who have resigned.

The board will meet next Thursday and make a personal inspection of all city parks of the city and see at first hand the needs of the city parks. Friday night, a public meeting will be held in the council chambers of the city council at which final action on improvements will be made.

It developed that the park board had approximately $5000 available. All members of the board were present except Rufus Moore.

Hulet there will be no other delegate sent from Klamath county, although the work in this section is exceedingly heavy.

THERE'LL BE ANOTHER FISH STORY MONDAY

Whether it was the stirring tale that "Cap" Reed had to tell after he returned from his successful fish hunt on Sprague River below Chiloquin or whether they had just set Sunday aside to go and get 'em, will not be learned until Monday morning, for the number of Klamath fishermen who have signified their intentions of going to Sprague River to fish exceeds largely the amount who are planning to go to the old stamping grounds at Keno.

Among the parties who are on their way at dawn will be C. S. Currie, Leo Houston, Harry Messer and Frank Carlson, the latter to be the guest of honor while spending the week-end from Portland.

SMALL CHILD DROWNS IN LAKE

James West, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter West Is Dead

James West, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter West of South Riverside, was drowned this afternoon shortly after 2 p. m. in Lake Ewana, where he was playing with boy companions.

A young friend saw him fall into the water and obtained assistance. One half hour after the little boy fell in the body was found and rushed to the Klamath General hospital, where all agencies of resuscitation were employed to bring him back to life, but to no avail.

Circumstances of the tragedy could not be learned beyond the fact that the child slipped off a dock into the water on the west side of the lake and could not reach shore. Deputy sheriffs and physicians joined in the effort to find the boy's body in the murky waters of Lake Ewana.

The tragedy to the West family follows a similar bereavement to the family of several months ago when another son died, following a short illness. At 3:30 p. m. hospital authorities reported that there was no chance to bring the child back to life.

Crimes of Tanko and Hall Are Lesson to Sob Sisters

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 2.—Governor Richardson today issued a statement declaring that the crimes of Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, escaped San Quentin convicts and murderers, should prove a valuable lesson to sob sisters, whose influence caused the San Mateo county jury to give the slayers of the city marshal of San Bruno life imprisonment rather than the death penalty.

The governor's statement, issued in connection with his official announcement of $500 reward offered by him for the capture of Hall and Tanko, dead or alive, is as follows: "Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall committed a cold-blooded murder in San Mateo county, the city marshal of San Bruno apprehended them for violating a traffic rule and followed them on a motorcycle and tried to stop them.

EVIDENCE SPILLED IN JUSTICE COURT BY CONSTABLE

A strange odor of something familiar permeated the court house and particularly the court room. The crowd attending the McQueen trial increased. All because Garry Cozad spilled the evidence!

The E. T. McQueen trial was in progress, with Mr. and Mrs. McQueen charged with possession of liquor. The evidence, consisting of three whiskey glasses, a bottle of alleged gin, an alleged bottle of "moon" and a silver tray had been introduced and recognized by the state. Garry Cozad was requested to carry it upstairs in the deputy district attorney's office for safe keeping.

Quite often had Cozad been entrusted with liquor, but at this moment with a crowd watching him in his role of porter, he was slightly frustrated. The bottle of Gordon gin tipped on the unsteady tray. The beer bottle of moonshine swayed to meet it, and the whiskey glasses clinked merrily. Garry was becoming panicky and reached up to save the bottle of Gordon. His other hand failed him and silver tray, glasses, Gordon gin, moonshine and all toppled on the floor of sedate Justice of the Peace Hunsaker's court. The witnesses tittered, the audience laughed out loud, Hunsaker smiled and the jury looked down to the floor. All because Garry spilled the evidence! And the trial went on!

Cottage Grove Man Makes Good Threat Of Drowning Self

EUGENE, Ore., May 2.—The body of Morton Galvia Robbins of Cottage Grove was found yesterday morning in Mosby creek, about a mile from his old home. The body was found by his two sons, George and Chester. He had been missing since early Wednesday morning.

Robbins had been despondent for some time, according to relatives. He had suffered an attack of flu, and his illness was ascribed as the cause.

According to the members of the family, he had remarked before he left home that the place where he ended his life would be a "fine place to jump into the creek", from a large flat rock. He had wrapped a wire rope about his waist several times, and fastened a large rock to it.

Klamath Dairies Are Criticised By State Deputy

Majority of Klamath dairies are lax in respecting food and sanitation regulations, Dr. E. D. Lamb, deputy state dairy and food commissioner, declared today in announcing a general check up of all dairies in the county.

"Owing to difficulty in obtaining an assistant, dairy inspections have been discontinued since last January," he said. "City Patrolman Argraves has been appointed by the council as my assistant and now the dairy inspection work can be carried on efficiently.

"There are between 25 and 30 small dairies of one and two cows that deliver milk within the city without having the necessary permit from the city council. Starting next Wednesday, these dairies who have not complied with the ordinance will be forced to stop delivering milk until they obtain the license."

Starting next week all the larger dairies will be inspected by Inspector Argraves and Travelling Deputy State Dairy and Food Commissioner Applegate will accompany Argraves on his trip in order to break him into the work.

The dairies will be rated by the inspector as in the past and the rating published in the newspaper each month.

DAIRYMAN SUES DUNN AND BAKER FOR ROAD ROCK

That valuable rock for highway use was taken from his property east of Klamath Falls on the Ashland-Klamath Falls highway, is the contention of C. L. Holliday who brought suit for the recovery of $3,815.17 from the contracting firm of Dunn & Baker.

Holliday who is a well known dairyman, is represented in the civil case by W. P. Myers, acting district attorney and in charge of all work of the district attorney's office during the convalescence of William Ganong in Walla Walla.

The dairyman claims that Dunn & Baker took 1434.5 yards of rocks from his property, which at 15 cents per yard would equal $3,815.17.

MALIN SENIORS ARE ALL BOYS

Biggest Graduating Classes in History to Be Sent From Klamath Schools

One of the most remarkable senior classes in Klamath county will be graduated in two weeks from the Malin high school, the entire class of five being boys. This, according to Rev. C. C. Hulet of Merrill, is the first time to his knowledge that the entire class was made up of boys.

Only two weeks remain of the school year of the spring of 1925. In a fortnight the boys and girls now spending eight hours in the school rooms will be employed on the ranches and farms, many will spend vacations in the south and forget for a time their studies until the bell rings them back again in September.

Henley high school, Merrill high school and Malin high school are graduating the largest senior classes that have been sent from those three high schools of southern Klamath county. The year has been a most successful one, according to many of the high school teachers who have spent the day in the city, in the athletic results as well as the finish of studies completed by the boys and girls.

N. P. JOINS G. N. IN MOVEMENT TO BUILD NEW ROAD

Board of Directors Unanimously Favors Extension to Klamath Falls

PORTLAND, Ore., May 2.—Official action was taken yesterday in New York by the directors of the Northern Pacific Railway company towards extending the Oregon Trunk Railway from Bend to Klamath Falls and on to a connection with the Western Pacific in Northern California according to advices received by officials of the Northern Pacific, the Oregon Trunk and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railway here late yesterday.

Already the Great Northern Railway, through Ralph Budd, president has declared its intention of invading the Klamath Falls region. Both the Northern lines own the Spokane, Portland and Seattle system, one of whose subsidiaries is the Oregon Trunk, reaching from the Columbia river to Bend, 150 miles.

News of the difficulty of the Northern Pacific to join with its ally, the Great Northern, in invading the Klamath Falls region, was received through a telegram late yesterday from President Charles Donnelly, to A. D. Charlton, general passenger agent. The message from New York was to the effect that the directors by unanimous vote had authorized the Oregon Trunk to make application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to permit construction of the new line.

The Northern Pacific directors also ordered that immediate definite location on the line be made, the message added.

Locations Made
The locations have been made for the southerly extension of the Oregon Trunk from Bend. One is to connect with the Southern Pacific's Eugene-Klamath Falls cut-off at Crescent, which would traverse the westerly border of the great pine timber tracts in that region. The other line would be through the easterly limits of this timber. It is said that the latter route is favored by the Northern Pacific-Great Northern executives.

The distance from Bend to Klamath Falls is 147 miles by one location and 160 via another surveyed route, but if the Northern lines are permitted to connect with the Southern Pacific's cut-off at Crescent into Klamath Falls the distance to build would be reduced to 83 miles. This question, raised by the Union Pacific, is pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Outlay of $8,500,000
The Oregon Trunk extension from Bend to Klamath Falls will require an outlay of approximately $8,500,000 and require 18 months to complete, according to W. F. Turner, president of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle system and of its subsidiary, the Oregon Trunk.

President Turner expressed gratification over the announcement of President Donnelly of the Northern Pacific. Turner pointed out that the decision now to extend the Oregon Trunk to California, via Klamath Falls, is but carrying through the intention of James J. Hill that the Great Northern-Northern Pacific joint line ultimately would reach to San Francisco Bay via Bend and Klamath Falls from the Columbia river.

U. P. to Join
The belief still prevails among railroad officials that whatever extension of the northern lines from Bend south and from Burns to Bend will be made jointly with the Union Pacific. Some authorities have declared that an agreement to this effect was made when the two groups made a compact for joint operation of half of the mileage of the Oregon Trunk and the Union Pacific between the Columbia river and Bend. It is said that this compact includes a prospective extension of the Prineville road toward Bend.

FOUND GUILTY
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 2.—A. N. Jacobs, publisher of a magazine in Minneapolis today, was found guilty on a charge of criminal libel.
