CREDITORS TO MEET IN PORTLAND MAY 12

Notices have been mailed to creditors of E. H. Jefferson advising them that he has sought relief from his debts through bankruptcy proceedings. The first meeting of the creditors will be held in Portland on May 12.

Jefferson was formerly a resident of this city, for a time representing a wholesale firm of grocers and later running the Golden Glow cafe, which institution left the business men holding the sack to the tune of nearly $10,000.

PRINCESS IS BETTER

REINDEER WILL GIVE LIVESTOCK RACE IN MARKET

NEW YORK, May 4.—Alaska has its eye on the gradual falling off in American beef production, and aspires to develop an equivalent of the once famous Texas steer in its own Arctic reindeer. Charles DeWitt Brower, a New Yorker who has lived 41 years in Alaska, told a gathering at the City club recently that New York City was already taking 150,000 pounds of reindeer beef a year, and predicted by the end of 1925 it would consume 375,000 pounds.

What Mr. Brower called a definitely established beef industry in the north rested, he said, upon herds of 300,000 beef-bred reindeer which fatten in a great grass triangle as large as Texas whose apex is Point Barrow, 200 miles north of the Arctic Circle. By 1940 he expected 4,000,000 head.

Future Great

None was the packing house center, and so far the meat output was only about large enough to meet the domestic demand, according to Mr. Brower. However, the nucleus of a future export business was provided in the growing New York trade, and refrigerator boats were bringing beef direct to the Hudson River, by way of Seattle and the Panama Canal.

The reindeer, Santa Claus to the contrary, had become synonymous with steaks and chops in the north country rather than sleigh bells, said Mr. Brower. Sledging there was now done exclusively by dogs, which could traverse stretches reindeer could not.

Fur is Good

Beef possibilities of the reindeer were first discovered when Dr. Sheldon Lewis, a missionary imported them from Siberia to succor the Eskimauz who were threatened with starvation by extinction of game animals. The present herds have been bred up from the 1,280 original animals brought over Bering Sea between 1882 and 1902. Reindeer calfskin furnishes what Mr. Brower said was the warmest fur for its weight in the world, peculiarly favored for clothing by Eskimauz and Chukchees, inhabitants and explorers, Alaskan calves however, were too valuable as beef and Alaska is arranging to buy skins from the Russian Soviet in Siberia, where there is a present an oversupply of reindeer meat.

EVENING HERALD AT LAST WINS A GAME

By using a high degree of baseball strategy, the Evening Herald nine yesterday afternoon won a ragged game from the Merrill nine, 15 to 14. The strategy consisted in having Jack Anthony, foreman of the Herald composing room, selected as umpire.

The game early became a question of endurance. Hits were plentiful and ordinary two-baggers were in four instances stretched to home runs.

With the Merrill team leading by 13 to 2 the Herald team in the fifth inning went on a hitting orgy and closed the gap and in the first of the ninth succeeded in passing the Merrills.

Eddie Dervan, who started the game for the Herald, tired in the seventh and was replaced by Tom Richardson who with only a fast ball and a prayer held the Merrill nine hitless until the eighth when one run was scored.

The only casualty of the game occurred when Otto Ellis, Associated Press operator, turned his ankle sliding. He appeared on the job with a pair of crutches Monday and promises to be in shape for the next Merrill-Herald game.

Jack Franey, catching for The Herald team, slammed out four safe hits in five times up and by his slick work made it possible for the newspaper team to esp the game.

OPEN HOUSE TO BE HELD MAY 7

High School Students to Have Work on Display Thursday Afternoon

Three departments of the Klamath county high school will hold open house on Thursday, May 7 from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. The public is extended an invitation by the faculty and while the classes are in progress they are asked to hear the recitations so they can inspect the work and the methods employed in the teaching of the students in Klamath schools.

Under the direction of Miss Esther Martinson of the home economics department, clothing made in the art classes will be displayed as well as articles which display hand painting and dyeing. Food classes will portray the correct manner to set a table, serve at different meals of the day, infant care, infant feeding and of the care of diet in relation to health.

In the science department which is under the tutelage of Miss Helen Withycombe, chemical tests, first aid and other features of the year work will be stressed. This should be one of the most interesting of the "open house" departments.

Zeno Welas of the manual training department will have an excellent display of work done by the boys of the classes, including some hand carved work, hand tooled and painted as well as stained products. The display will include useful as well as ornamental pieces of furniture which will be used in the boys' homes with the completion of the school year in two weeks.

COUNTY HEALTH STATUS BETTER

Only 49 Infectious Cases for April as Against 149 for March

Health conditions in Klamath have improved 200 per cent during the past month, the health report of Dr. G. S. Newsom, county health officer, discloses.

Just 49 cases of infectious or semi-infectious diseases were reported to the county health department during April. In March 149 cases were reported. In cases of influenza the health doctor enforced isolation of the patients. Only in the more serious infectious diseases were strict quarantine regulations enforced. As a result only eight cases were quarantined during April, as against 28 for March.

The most startling feature of the report was the decrease shown in influenza cases. During March 122 cases occupied the attention of the health department. In April but 24 cases were reported.

M'QUEEN ACQUITTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE IN JUSTICE COURT

With a stench of state's evidence, in the form of two bottles of alleged liquor, still pervading the room, a justice court jury late Saturday afternoon acquitted Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McQueen on the charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. The jury deliberated 30 minutes.

Feature of the trial was the mistep of Constable Garry Cozad when he dropped the two bottles of moonshine and gin—state's evidence—and smashed them on the court room floor.

Remington of the Episcopal church will officiate at the funeral services of James West, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter West, who was drowned in Ewauna lake Saturday afternoon, when he fell from a box on a dock into the water. FIGHTING DOG

John Saalburger of Polcan City declares that he once owned a very pugnacious dog. In proof of this statement he declares that this dog was so valorous that he once killed another dog, and came trotting home carrying the dead dog over his shoulder.

Fire prevention is the most important single item in securing a new crop of trees on cut-over land, particularly in the Douglas fir region, according to federal forest officers. They point out that repeated burning of young growth makes natural reforestation impossible.
