STILL NO WORD FROM AMUNDSEN

er MacMillan already has expressed his intention of going to the rescue provided there is a call.

LONDON, May 25.—(A.P.)—Not since the world waited for months in 1912 for news from the ill-fated expedition of Robert F. Scott, the British explorer, to the south pole has the fate of any polar explorer excited so much speculation and interest in England as has that of Amundsen-Ellsworth expedition, now overdue at Spitzbergen.

Throughout continental Europe also, Amundsen's plight is the one absorbing topic of interest and anxiety. Newspapers give the greatest prominence to dispatches from Spitzbergen, as well as to the speculations of other explorers and of arctic exploits as to what might have happened after the party hopped off for the north pole.

May Use Dirigibles Reports from the United States that the United States navy dirigible Shenandoah or Los Angeles might be pressed into service to search for the explorers have aroused the keenest interest.

So far it is the general opinion there is no immediate cause for anxiety. Many Norwegian, other Scandinavian and English authorities say it is probable the party reached the pole and that Amundsen now is awaiting favorable weather conditions before attempting to return.

Sir John Scott Keltie, for many years secretary of the royal geographical society and recognized as an authority on matters relating to the Arctic, told the Associated Press today that Amundsen had the greatest confidence that there is and in the vicinity of the North Pole. Sir John said he believed that if Amundsen has found this land he undoubtedly had descended to make a thorough investigation.

Sir John expressed the opinion that such an attempt would be extremely hazardous, but in view of Amundsen's long record of Arctic exploration, he declared that if any explorer could land at the pole and return safely that man is Amundsen. In connection with the reports of proposed rescue flights by American dirigibles, the opinion was expressed in scientific circles that should there be no news of Amundsen within the next few days such a relief expedition would be of the greatest value.

Three Men Burned To Death In Fire

MARTINEZ, Calif., May 25.—Three men were burned to death early today in a fire which destroyed a two story garage and outbuildings on the Parmalee ranch two miles from Concord, south of here. All three apparently were overcome by smoke as they slept and perished in their beds in the second story of the garage building.

The dead are James Grennan, tractor driver, and Joseph Avedo, truck driver, both of Concord and George Jones, a painter of Oakland. The loss is estimated at $25,000. The fire is believed to have started from a discharged cigarette stub.

PRENTICE APPOINTED

Dr. C. O. Prentice of this city was appointed official stock salesman for the Klamath Farm Bureau Co-operative exchange, at a meeting of the board of directors held in the county agent's office. At the meeting, the need of securing the unanimous support of the farmers was stressed. An attempt to sell every farmer in Klamath a share in the stock will be made, not so much for the stock's sake but for the purpose of setting every farmer financially interested in the project, it was said. It was hoped that by fall when crops began pouring into the city, that support of exchange would be assured.

STILL THEY COME

More Chickens Hunt Their Old Nesting Place in Klamath

The farewell prophecy, "You may go, but you'll come back," has again been fulfilled, this time in the person of none other than J. I. Johnstone. Mr. Johnstone, who was for years in the furniture business in this city, has been spending the winter in California, Arizona and Northern Mexico. He will spend the summer and fall in this city. As a result of his return there is joy in the hearts of Fred English and J. E. Dodge. Since his departure the latter two have been acting like a three-legged stool with one of the supports missing.

"Sour-Doughs" Outsledded

"Sour-doughs of the Yukon had to admit that Don Stewart, a student at the Oregon Agricultural College, showed them something new in sledding. Equipping a motorcycle and sidcar with runners, Stewart made a 225 mile "rush" from Slegway, Alaska, to Keno City in two and a half days. The average time for dog sleds is 10 days.

Three Indians Spearing Fish Drown at Dam

YAKIMA, Wash., May 25.—Three Yakima Indians, members of the group that has for days been camped at the Sunnyside dam while engaged in spearing their winter supply of salmon, were drowned yesterday afternoon when the float on which they were standing was overturned. Two others on the float managed to make their way to shore. One of the drowned Indians got away safely then returned to attempt to rescue his companion and was himself drowned. The dead Indians, whose bodies have not yet been recovered though a call for the whole tribe to seek them has been sent out, are Charley Harrison, Fred Andrews and Jacob Emunot.
