

The Acid Test

During the past few months dealers all over the west have been swinging to SEIBERLING tires.

This is not due to salesmanship, but rather due to the fact that the dealers are responding to public demand—a demand which is establishing new records in the tire industry.

Seiberling tires are good tires. The first motorists to try them out spread the news. Other motorists now demand them.

You should have them on your car.

They have an exceptionally heavy tread and the famous ALL-TREAD feature—the heavy ribbed sidewall.

This protects the side of the tire and gives traction in sand or mud. We will be glad to show you how these tires are constructed—they sell themselves.

Klamath Falls Man Appointed Bend Secretary

L. K. Cramb to Manage Commercial Organization

BEND, May 26.—Lincoln Antles, who has been secretary of the Bend Commercial Club for four and a half years, has resigned to accept a similar position with the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce. Antles came to Bend from Denver and has previously been secretary of the commercial club at Grand Junction, Colorado.

L. K. Cramb, recently of Klamath Falls, was last night appointed secretary of the Bend commercial club at a special meeting of the board of directors. He will take over the work here at once.

Antles was to have gone to Roseburg June 1, but because of a misunderstanding as to the date he had made plans for a brief vacation and business trip and may not be able to get to Roseburg before July 1, but hopes to be there by June 15, he said this morning.

Mr. Cramb came to Klamath Falls late last fall and had been engaged in newspaper work here up until a few weeks ago. He came here from Baker, Ore., where he had been engaged in newspaper work.

A precaution always to be taken with regard to cream to be whipped is that it must be fresh and ice cold. It is kept on ice until ready for use, and then whipped in a cold place. If it stiffens too slowly the bowl or dish containing it is set directly on the ice and whipped.

Gasman said he had insurance of about $75,000.

STILL NO WORD FROM AMUNDSEN

ing that the weather in the north has changed for the worse.

The possibility of Amundsen having continued his flight to Alaska was discounted by some arctic experts here. They said the distance for such a flight would require too much expenditure of gasoline.

Still Have Hope

It was pointed out that if Amundsen encountered storms in the vicinity of Danes Island upon his return flight he might land either in northern Spitzbergen or change his course and find safety in Franz Josef land. In the latter event, it might be some time before Amundsen could communicate with the outside world because Franz Josef land is composed of many small islands with no habitations except in the most southern part.

NEW YORK, May 26.—(A.P.)—While tentative plans for relief expeditions are discussed, experienced Arctic explorers are still convinced in the ability of Captain Roald Amundsen and his five companions to return safely from their airplane flight to the North Pole. Amundsen, his American financial backer, Lincoln Ellsworth, two pilots and two mechanics left Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, last Thursday at 5:15 a. m., or 11:15 a. m. eastern standard time.

Un-equipped with wireless apparatus there is no possibility of their communicating with the civilized world.

Explorer Not Worried

"Nobody in Norway is anxious regarding the fate of Amundsen," Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous Arctic traveler, is quoted by a Copenhagen newspaper as declaring. "He is capable of handling himself under difficulties of any kind. There is no reason to feel nervous about him."

Amundsen never thought seriously of returning from the pole by airplane, in the opinion of Captain G. I. B. Ellis, a member of the Oxford University expedition of last year. This authority believes the party reached the pole, abandoned their two planes and are now on their way back on foot.

Colonel Koch, Danish explorer, says eight days must elapse before hearing from the expedition, allowing several days for Amundsen to verify his arrival at the pole before attempting the return.

The latest cable dispatch from the north, received through Oslo, says the Arctic regions are threatened with storms, which it is thought will compel Captain Amundsen to return immediately if he is able. Snow and fog are forecast for tomorrow.

Possible Relief

Four possible relief expeditions are under discussion. The United States navy department with the dirigible Los Angeles and Shenandoah at its disposal, is understood to be prepared to go to the relief of the Amundsen party if a call is made upon it.

Grettar Algarsson, young Icelandic, who has been preparing at Liverpool for a polar flight in a non-rigid airship or "blimp" is possible assistance. Commander Donald MacMillan, who will lead an American expedition into the polar region next month, is quoted as promising his immediate help if any relief work.

Haakon H. Hammer, former associate of Amundsen, says he has a airplane in Switzerland which could leave fully equipped for the north within a short time.

LONDON, May 26 (A. P.)—Grettar Algarsson, the young Icelandic, who planned to race Captain Roald Amundsen to the North Pole, is quoted by a Copenhagen newspaper as declaring: "He is capable of handling himself under difficulties of any kind. There is no reason to feel nervous about him."

airship, is quoted by the Daily Express today as saying that the polar question has been entirely changed by Amundsen's continued absence.

"It was not a question of who was to be the first to reach the pole by air, but who would be the first to reach Amundsen." The competitors interest in the race he said would be the American explorer, Dr. Donald MacMillan and himself.

NOME, Alaska, May 25. (A. P.)—Amundsen's penchant for startling the world makes it difficult to tell when news will be received from the explorer, George S. Maynard, mayor of Nome, and a personal friend of Amundsen's declared today.

"In case a landing is made at Point Barrow, it would probably take at least two weeks to get word to Kotzebue or Nome," Mr. Maynard said "from Wainwright, which was Amundsen's former starting place, it might be possible to hear in about ten days, unless he chooses to wait along the Alaskan north coast until some vessel with a wireless apparatus should make its way north through ice floes on a trading trip.

"This is possible, but would not be accomplished much before a week or two."

Local Lettuce Soon to Find World Market

Los Angeles Firm Gets Option on Eighty Acres of Land

Between forty and eighty acres of lettuce will be sowed on a tract of land on the Geary holdings in Wocus valley, if present plans of the Los Angeles firm of Sawday & Hunt materialize, it was announced today.

Arthur Hunt, senior member of the California firm of wholesale lettuce dealers, has been in Klamath for the past four days inspecting soil conditions of the Wocus valley and conferring with the county agent on climatic conditions and crop production in the Klamath basin country.

Impressed with the possibilities of Klamath as a lettuce producing section—and in particular with the Wocus valley country for this purpose—Mr. Hunt secured an option on a tract of the choicest land of Wocus valley. He is expected to return to Klamath Falls within the next few weeks when it is understood that final announcement of the plans in Klamath of the big wholesale concern will be announced.

Mr. Hunt, while here, pointed out that the lettuce crop would be harvested in Klamath just about the time when the California crop would be consumed, and that the demand for the product would be big.

Big Jewel Haul Made By Bandits

CHICAGO, May 26.—(A.P.)—Diamonds and jewelry of an estimated value of between $100,000 and $150,000 were taken by three robbers who held up three employees in the Adolph Gastman Loan bank in the heart of the downtown district today.

The vaults had been opened and the employees were arranging the window and show case displays when the robbers entered, drawing their revolvers.

"March back there, boys," one of the robbers commanded, and sent the employees to a rear room, where they were bound. Then the robbers helped themselves to the diamonds and jewelry and escaped.

McCament Gets Appointment to Federal Bench

Coolidge Gives Portland Man Life Job in San Francisco

WASHINGTON, May 26. (A. P.)—Wallace McCament of Portland, Ore. was appointed today Circuit Judge in the ninth judicial circuit court.

Judge McCament is a former associate justice of the Oregon supreme court, is a personal friend of the president and has long been prominent in republican politics in his state. In the 1920 republican national convention, he upset the plans of the party chiefs by placing Mr. Coolidge in nomination for the vice presidency at a moment when the delegates were in a mood to disregard the advice of their leaders and throw an overwhelming block of votes into the Coolidge column.
