

All Fighters Well Matched on Card Here

Good Battles Appear Sure—Olson Is Confident

One man's guess is as good as another, is the verdict of the wise ones who have watched boxers working out for the coming fight card next Tuesday night at Scandinavian hall.

The card is arranged like a sandwich, with heavyweights at beginning and end and fast boys in the middle.

Sammy Olson, 190-pounder, will headline with Rocco Strambo, 170-pounder. Olson realizes fully that a lot of reputation depends on his taking Strambo and he is fully confident that he can do so.

Strambo is popular here, despite the fact he has had only two fighters in Klamath Falls. His contagious grin and the fact that he will give away 20 pounds is sure to give him a lot of moral support when he goes on next Tuesday.

The Johnny Carlson-Joe Coffman semi-windup is also scheduled to be torrid. Carlson is training hard for his coming match and Coffman is doing likewise, hoping that this time he can score a knockout in his mix with the shifty-slugging Spokane boy.

The Maurice Harris-Heinie Meyers fight is also due to provide the fans with plenty of action. Meyers can take them and come back for more and Harris is a willing giver.

The curtain raiser will be a four-round slugging contest between two 190-pounders, Gunboat Smith of Chico and Jack Brush of Dorris. An early knockout is forecast.

"Pipe" tobacco —in every sense of the word

From start to finish—Granger Rough Cut is made for pipes!

In the first place, it's made solely of ripe old Burley, the finest pipe tobacco that grows. Then it's cut for pipes (rough cut) to make it smoke slow and cool.

But—most important of all—it is mellowed by the famous Wellman method, a secret process which makes Granger just about the smoothest-smoking, best-tasting tobacco you ever put in your pipe.

WATCHMAN MISSING

YAKIMA, Wash., June 12.—After punching the warehouse clock at 1 this morning D. J. Wynkoop, former deputy marshal of Nome and night watchman of the Big Y Storage Plant here, dropped from sight leaving the back door to the warehouse open and all lights on. A half eaten lunch adds strength to the belief of Yakima officers that Wynkoop was taken from the building, though there were no signs of any struggle. Wynkoop had frequently spoken of difficulties with vagrants who wished to sleep in the warehouse.
