Portrait

A SLIM and pliant as a reed,
 But tempered like fine steel and keyed
 To such a pitch that she can stand
 For hours the music of a band
 That rests not and no mercy shows
 To them whose blood more slowly flows.
 A lovely creature, vibrant, young,
 Elastic nerves and highly strung,
 A little hard, a little shrill,
 Gay and defiant—never still.
 What does not bend must break,
 they say,
 She laughs at them, as well she may.
 The feet that dance do stones despise,
 The youthful are the very wise * *
 For something broke within her there
 And she, refusing to despair,
 Though heartstrings snapped—the
 common lot,
 Danced on—and patched them with a knot * * *
 No one has seen the knot—or will—
 In perfect time she dances still.

TO VISIT MOTHER FOR FORTNIGHT
 Mrs. Laurence Mehauffey and two sons, Laurence Jr., and Donald Colver, of Antioch, California, will arrive on Sunday, June 28, for a month's visit with Mrs. Mehauffey's mother, Mrs. Wilbur Jones. Mrs. Mehauffey, nee Miss Maude Newbury will be remembered here where she formerly lived before moving to the south.
 Mr. Carl Newbury, son of Mrs. Jones is expected to arrive from the Orient about the same time as his sister and will spend sometime here visiting.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS AT LAKE OF WOODS
 Society so far as a goodly number of the younger set of the city is concerned, turned their thoughts to boating, canoeing, fishing, hiking and nature study, when two groups of the Camp Fire girls, the Winemas and Sunshades, left by motor for Lake of the Woods on Wednesday, where they will enjoy an outing of one week.
 Mrs. L. P. Sabin who acts as guardian for the Winema group, and Mrs. A. L. Rice, guardian for the Sunshades group, assisted by Miss Mae Mordoff, chaperoned the girls, whose outing was made possible by the kindness of a number of local people, who took the girls by motor to camp.
 During the week Rev. A. L. Rice will be at camp to assist in doing chores and such and at the weekend L. P. Sabin plans to go to camp.
 On the last eve at camp the girls will hold a ceremonial, which is to mark the closing of the enjoyable outing.
 The girls enjoying the outing include the Misses Ethel Carlson, Margaret Cummings, Lydia von Berthelsdorf, Anna Setzer, Mary Hunt, Ella Redkey, Thelma Grizzle, Ailsa Massey, Muriel Moore, Elvira Call, Etta Mather, Loraine Mordoff, Alexis Lyle, Fay Grizzle, Alice Harvey, Margaret Machen, Betty Zimmerman, Luella Dahlheim, Helene Mason, Marjorie Stinson, Nadine O'Flaherty, Vera Moore, Gene Rogers and Geraldine Dimock of Portland.

DELIGHTFUL LAWN PARTY AT STINSON HOME

One of the loveliest affairs of the week, was that of Thursday afternoon when Mrs. R. E. Stinson entertained the Tea Cup club with a delightful afternoon at her home on Washington. The affair was one of the first lawn parties of the season, the guests enjoying a social afternoon with fancy work on the pretty lawn at the Stinson home. The hostess was assisted by the Mesdames: B. F. Siewerd, Frank Martin, J. W. Bernom, C. H. Barnstable and John Yaden. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the social afternoon.

The guests included Mesdames: Howard Robbins and E. C. Koppen of Medford, W. J. Steinmetz, D. M. Smith, W. C. Van Emon, Nina C. Tow, J. M. Guthrie, C. Nine, J. R. McGee, F. Hill Hunter, G. R. Lindley, Stanley Berry, H. E. Peltz, L. K. Phelps, G. K. Rosenquist, C. E. Myers, G. G. Hailes, E. C. Stuckey, B. F. Siewerd, Frank Martin, J. W. Bernom, C. H. Barnstable, John Yaden and Miss Anna M. Reeves.

On Thursday, July sixteenth, the club will hold a picnic at Wlulksa.

DRESS FOR DINNER

Dressing up for dinner is not excluded to the class of people we call society. It should be a practice in every home, even though the dressing up consists of a clean gingham dress. And it should not be excluded to the wife and mother, but each individual should observe this rule as well. Children should be taught the habit in the high-chair days. This custom not only takes the family out of the "shiftless class," but aids digestion as well. An unkempt person at the table spoils the appetite of the rest of the family and makes the dinner less appetizing and less attractive. And when the member of the family who has cooked that dinner has labored so hard over it she is "just too tired to dress" she has defeated her purpose.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

The marriage of Miss Ina Graham and Mr. H. C. Bergman was quietly solemnized on Monday, June eighth, at the parsonage of the Methodist church in San Francisco, the Rev. Moore officiating.
 The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Graham of this city, where she attended high school, later going south to study music. She is one of the talented young ladies of the city, having just recently studied under Professor Josef Lagvinne, who conducted a master class in San Francisco.
 Mr. Bergman is one of the popular young men of the city and is employed as salesman for Mrs. Bergman's father.
 Before returning north the young couple toured southern California. At the present time they are at home to their many friends at Shippington, with Mrs. Bergman's parents.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Leona Morande, whose engagement to Mr. Ferrand Shaw of Montague, California, has recently been announced, was the honor guest at a linen shower on Thursday evening, when Mrs. Anita Allan was hostess at her home on Garden avenue. The honor guest was presented with a number of lovely linen gifts. Dainty refreshments were served late in the evening by the hostess. The guests were girls of the Klamath Manufacturing company, including Mesdames: J. D. Upton, W. P. Norande, P. P. Vogel and daughter, Decorus and son, Arnold. Misses Ruby Remmen, N. Potter, Margaurite Fisher, Mrs. Maude Franklin and the hostess.

GIVING SERIES OF BRIDGE LUNCHEONS

One of the lovely affairs of the coming week is that of Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Herbert Newell will be hostess to a number of the social matrons of the city, at the first of a series of bridge luncheons at her home at 419 High. Five tables of bridge will be in play on Wednesday afternoon.

CHARMING BRIDGE THIS AFTERNOON

Charming in its every appointment was the bridge luncheon given this afternoon at the beautiful Carr ranch home, at which Mrs. William Carson Dalton and Mrs. Paul Jackson Dalton were joint hostesses to a large number of the social matrons of the city. An attractive and novel color scheme of purple and orange with California poppies and wild lupin being used throughout the home. Ten tables were in play during the afternoon, with Mrs. R. L. Dalton and Mrs. Carr Dalton assisting the hostesses. Throughout the afternoon the Misses Florence and Clarice Elliott gave a number of delightful musical numbers.

SMITH-REED WEDDINGS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed on Walnut avenue was the scene of a lovely home wedding on Friday evening, when their youngest daughter, Miss Marlea G. Reed became the bride of Mr. Melvin F. Smith, Reverend Thomas D. Yarnes of the Methodist church officiating. The bride, charming in a gown of orchid crepe de chine, was attended by Miss Lena Lewin, who wore a gown of honey-dew colored flowered georgette. The groom was attended by Mr. H. C. Arnold.

The home was a bower of pink and white roses, the wedding being performed beneath an arch of brides' roses and greens.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding supper was served. Covers were laid for fifteen.

The young couple, who have hosts of friends in this city, will be at home at the Hotel Baldwin.
 The bride chose as her wedding day the twenty-fourth wedding anniversary of her parents.

DANCING PARTY ON WEDNESDAY EVENING

The first of a series of summer dancing parties to be given by the local Elks' lodge will be that of Wednesday evening on the Venetian dancing barge. The affair will be invitational, any member of the local lodge being permitted to invite friends. A number of out of town members are expected to attend. Attractive decorations are being arranged for as well as special music. In the past these affairs have been well attended by people throughout the entire county and it is thought the parties this summer will prove even more popular.

JOCKEY BATHING SUIT WORN TO RIDE SURF

Fashion tells us the "Jockey" bathing suit is the latest thing on the fashionable beaches. Women who want something different from the one-piece garment or the taffeta bathing suit that is made like a child's frock will appreciate this new addition to fashion.

Shiny satin is the material used for the jockey suit. The upper portion, which is made exactly like a riding vest, is of contrasting color to the trouser portion. One model, for instance, has a white satin waistcoat which extends to the hips, trimmed with mannish reverses and pockets. The vest buttons up the front just as the ordinary mannish vest does. The trousers, of black satin, are made loose and resemble trousers of a track suit. Since the vest is separate from the trousers, the trousers are attached to a snug bodice which is hidden by the vest. A rubberized jockey cap of brilliant color and a buttoniere made of rubberized flowers complete the costume.

Another model made on similar lines combines a vest of orchid satin with turquoise satin trousers. Fuchsia shades, by the way, will be among the newer bathing suit colors this season. There are many little taffeta suits with ruffled skirts which are made in fuchsia shades. Beach capes of purple are also smart this season.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dix will leave tomorrow morning for Upper Lake where they plan to spend the day on an outing.
