Hot Weather Hints

Meat is a necessary item of food in hot weather as well as cold, but care should be exercised to see that your market's system of refrigeration is perfect enough to protect their meat. It must be delivered to you at a temperature almost freezing and it should not be allowed to stand off the ice long.

Our system of refrigeration and sanitation will protect your health

Friends Remember 2 Klamath Couples On Anniversaries

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Hector and Mr. and Mrs. James Grimes, who yesterday celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversaries, a number of their relatives and friends motored to Sun creek early yesterday morning, where they spent the day on a picnic party, motoring to Wul'kse beach last evening, where they enjoyed a bathing party, returning to the city about 10 o'clock.

The party included Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Hector, Mr. and Mrs. James Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Emmitt, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brown, Miss Georgia Emmitt, Miss Mary Walker, Misses Bernice, Florence, Alyse and Claire Hector, Miss Maria Grimes, Miss Gertrude Cox, Richard Cox, B. S. Grigsby, Basil Brown, Faith Grimes and Walter Hector.

It's easy to be popular with your friends. All you have to do is get rich first.

Children Having A Wonderful Time At Summer School

Klamath county has the largest delegation at the O. A. C. summer school for children, and the youngsters are all having a wonderful time.

This information is given in a letter received by the Evening Herald from Anna Burnett, one of the little girls who won a summer school scholarship given by The Evening Herald. Her letter follows:

"I am writing to tell you that I am enjoying the summer school at Corvallis to the fullest extent. We arrived here by special train Sunday evening, June 14th, at 6:30. There were 70 enrolled from Klamath county.

"The total enrollment at the summer school is 450. The largest delegation came from Klamath county. Our forenoons are spent at classes, our afternoons are spent at the swimming tank and various athletic contests.

"The first ball game the boys had was won by the Klamath boys. They played a pick-up team from the rest of the state.

"I have been taking sewing lately under Miss Strickland of the O. A. C. faculty and have almost completed a dress for myself. Next week I shall take up stock judging. I know I shall enjoy this as much as I have sewing.

"I want to thank you for making this trip possible for me. I shall always remember that it was The Evening Herald that gave me this trip as a prize for my calf.

"Yours sincerely,
ANNA BURNETT."

Receives Word Of Death Of Mother

Mrs. T. Molatore Gets Sad News Just as She Was Planning Trip Home

Mrs. T. Molatore of the Metropolitan hotel received word Sunday from Genoa, Italy, telling of the death of her mother, Mrs. Cecilia Salvetti. Mrs. Salvetti was 75 years of age and up until the time of her death had been in good health.

Mrs. Molatore, who left her home some twenty years ago to come to America, had not seen her mother in that length of time, planning each year to return to her native land for a visit. Shortly after July 4th, Mrs. Molatore and her son, had made definite reservations to sail for Italy, where they planned to visit for about six months. Since the death of her mother, Mrs. Molatore will cancel reservations.

The reason more people don't stay at home is because they don't feel at home there.

Ewe Offered As Prize To Youth With Best Spuds

One of E. M. Hammond's pure-bred black-faced Hampshire ewes will be awarded to the boy or girl whose exhibit from one-eighth acre of potatoes wins at the County Fair. The Hammond flocks are second to none in their breeding and points as well as fine wool production, throughout the Pacific Northwest. The child who wins this outstanding animal will have a good start in the right direction toward sheep raising.

Mr. Hammond chose the potato project as the vehicle for his valuable prize because it represented tireless effort and patience. "You can bet the youngster that prepares one-eighth of an acre, seeds, plants, cultivates, hills, digs and sacks his potatoes has earned something," said Mr. Hammond.

The second prize in this exhibit for club boys and girls has been increased to $3.00 and third prize to $2.00. All fourth and fifth prizes have been eliminated in all divisions and classes, and in most instances added to the other awards.

A canvass of the prominent business houses is being made to match the scholarships that were offered last year as first prizes in the club work division. The names of these firms and companies will appear in the premium list which will be issued in the near future. The shortness of time forbids everyone being seen personally and all those interested in the "farmer of tomorrow" and the donating of one of these scholarships for 1926 to the O. A. C. Summer School are requested to communicate with the Fair Board in Room D., at the court house or telephone 214 for more detailed information.

At a meeting of the Fair Board Saturday at which were present H. N. Moe, E. M. Hammond and T. W. Newcomb, it was decided that a flexible fence be installed from material now at the Fair ground, to screen the inside arena from the racetrack opposite the grand stand. This will permit an unobstructed view of the arena during baseball or football games or track meets, by rolling to the end posts. An adjustable rail for the top will insure strength and the safety of race horses making a start or finish opposite the grandstand.

Contract was given for cutting hay immediately, so that the Rodeo horses will have feed at hand upon arrival. This work will commence Tuesday. Several business matters in prospect were discussed and the county court is being appealed to for six loads of gravel or crushed rock to improve the entrance driveway from the gate to the grandstand. County Agent C. A. Henderson, with one of the Fair Board, was designed as allocator of space in the display pavilion immediately after the close of the Rodeo, so that the superintendents of the various exhibits may have proper space in which to display their entries, such as a cool corner with proper and adequate ventilation for the flower exhibit, which promises to be large this year; shade for the perishable exhibits, frosted cakes, etc.

It was decided to offer a first prize of $5, second $3.00; and third $2.00, for the best three individual horses either sex of any of the draft breeds. Inspection prior to some changes for the chutes to be used during the coming Rodeo was ordered to facilitate the holding of a track event between every bucking event.

Letters to prominent stockmen and business houses that could not be seen by the secretary before the premium list goes to press, to elicit advertising space, were authorized.

ARRIVE FROM VISIT After Spending Several Months in South Returns Home

Endowment Drive
Starts Tomorrow

Given today, forgotten tomorrow. —But the little kiddies this fund is going to help are not going to forget it. Hundreds, probably thousands of kiddies, whose daddies went out and done their stuff for us during the world conflict, are going to be benefited by this fund.

Clothing, food, housing, education, social advantages are the things these kiddies (orphans) must not be deprived of. They're going to get them through this American Legion Endowment Fund. Give—every little bit helps.

Jones Receives Notice He Has Been Appointed

Notice that he had been appointed deputy district attorney was received Saturday night by Caleb Jones, local attorney, from District Attorney William Ganong, now convalescing in a veteran's hospital at Walla Walla.

The information was contained in a telegram. Written notice of the appointment was received today and Mr. Jones took office immediately.

News that Jones was to be the new assistant district attorney was made public by The Herald about 10 days ago, the fact later being denied in certain quarters.

Mr. Jones has been in active practice here for a year, having come to Klamath Falls from Spokane because of his health. He was a practicing attorney in Spokane for 16 years, and prior to that was in St. Anthony, Idaho.

David R. Vandenberg will also remain in the office as deputy district attorney.

If we came from monkeys we have picked up a lot of bad habits along the way.

Sunny, pleasant rooms. Dependable nursing care. A good place to convalesce in illness and after surgical operations. Rates are reasonable. Ambulance for stretcher cases. Resident pharmacist. Prescriptions and medicine may be obtained at all times day or night.
