

VACATION

Of most importance for an enjoyable vacation is good eyesight.

If the bright glare from the sun beating down on the water or highways makes you squint and hurts your eyes—

Or your vision does not seem as clear and comfortable as it should be—

You should have your eyes examined, as the only permanent relief to be had is in the wearing of properly fitted glasses.

At the PINE TREE

"TOODLE-OO, FOLKS!
I'm Charley's Aunt from Brazil
Where the nuts come from.
I'll bet I can make you laugh
Longer and louder than you have
Ever laughed before.
When I walk in the park the
Squirrels all chase me;
When I walk on the screen
The men all run after me.
I'm a riot, I tell you.
Come up and see me.
I'll be at the Pine Tree today.

At The LIBERTY

One smashing big fight—an Irish policeman against a dozen or more gangsters, bomb explosion in a newspaper office, a beautiful girl, clad in her wedding gown escaping from her husband-to-be by sliding from a two-story window, and a host of tensely dramatic situations. . . . Such are the highlights in "The Man in Blue," co-starring Herbert Rawlinson and Madge Bellamy, which opened today in the Liberty theater.

Also, and no less enjoyable, albeit less breath-taking, are a number of pictures of a happy domestic life, wherein a fighting policeman sheds his uniform to become the bond servant of a couple of happy youngsters, and, running through the entire story, is traced the sinister influence of the Italian gangster, his hand against everyone and everything except the orders of the big, suave boss, whose word is law.

Nevada Plains Hot, Dusty And Uncomfortable

"Don't mind the heat—just be thankful you live in this section if Oregon and not in some parts of Nevada."

This was the demand of Garry Cozad, returning from a trip which took him through Fallon and Reno and other parts of the southern state.

Little rain has fallen in Nevada this year and for mile after mile the motorist sees nothing but burned sandy wastes, without even a touch of green. Cozad, who has made the trip before, declares conditions are worse this year than he ever encountered before.

Reno is thronged with people and rooms are impossible to get, he said, due to the fact that the racing season is due to begin July 1.

The visitors are from San Francisco or from eastern points, very few being seen from Oregon.
