Anti-Evolution Bill Projected

SALEM, Ore., June 30.—A replica of the Tennessee anti-evolution bill which has stirred the country through the Scopes case, will be initiated in Oregon, Washington and California to be passed on by the electorate of these three states, according to Dr. E. A. Cantrill, who has been debating Dr. W. B. Riley, in California, Oregon and Washington on the question of teaching evolution in the schools. Dr. Cantrill takes the side against the fundamentalists. He is here arranging for debates in the near future with Dr. Riley at Salem and Eugene.

Dr. Cantrill declares that the first big gun in the battle to put over the anti-evolution bills in the three coast states will be fired in September when the Rev. William Sunday, opens with a series of meetings in Portland and asserts that Sunday's opening guns will be followed by a barrage throughout the three states by such speakers as William Jennings Bryan, Dr. W. B. Riley and others.

Good Melons Are Growing Scarce

PORTLAND, Ore., June 30.—Good quality melons are so scarce on this market that prices have climbed to almost prohibitive levels. Today fancy canteloupes are held at 5.25 to 5.50 per standard crate, with pony crates at 4.50 and flats at 2.50. Supplies are limited and prices are advancing at the shipping point. Brokers are asking $5 and 5.25 on cars spotted on the local team track during the past twenty four hours.

This means that produce firms are forced to handle the melons on a very narrow margin and in some instances are moved at cost.

The same is true of watermelons. Prices are extremely high at shipping points and produce firms are paying approximately 3 3/4 cents for watermelons laid down here. They are trying to get four cents on the best melons but find them slow to move at such extreme prices.

Extreme hot weather throughout the country with the demand exceeding the supply is the principal reason for the skyrocketing market on lemons.
