

SPRAGUE RIVER

The activities at Sprague River and vicinity are quite encouraging in spite of the extremely hot weather. The Campbell Lumber Co. is running full blast. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wann are the proud owners of a new Oakland coach. Mrs. Pickett is building an addition to her rooming house. W. C. Mattinson, the general manager of the Campbell Lumber Co., has his six room house nearly ready to occupy. Dave Skeen of Trout creek made a business trip to Lakeview Monday of last week, returning Tuesday. R. E. Straborn informs us that he will soon begin the installation of a water system at this place and in addition he will build several houses to rent. Ivan Pankey was shopping in Sprague River one day last week. The Pankeys are the owners of a ranch near here and this year he is trying the sheep business. If what one of the business men of Lake county told the writer is true, Mr. Pankey is on the right road to success in the sheep business, as the men in Lake county that raised the best wool were not the ones that have the largest number of sheep, but the men that raise from 500 to 1000, and instead of letting them run on the range and not take good care of them, but the ones that look after their sheep cut from eight to nine pounds to a head, while the men that do not take care of their sheep get only about six pounds per head and it was an inferior grade when harvested, so Mr. Pankey in taking care of his sheep may be wise in doing so. Frank Corbern is progressing nicely on his new dwelling house. Mr. Corbern is one of the councilmen and a very successful rancher and cattleman. A. C. Miller of Chiloquin was in Sprague River on Saturday. Mr. Miller came to bring his brother, Rev. Samuel Clinton, home. Mr. Miller returned the same day. Lou Parazo and Able McNair were Klamath Falls visitors one day last week. Deputy Sheriff Deal is at the Indian convention near the Klamath Agency. Mr. Deal is on duty there this week. F. A. Hutto, the stockman of this end of the reservation, has been quite busy for some time. He has been in Klamath Falls, and the Agency almost all this week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hood were Chiloquin visitors two days last week. S. L. Hammer is visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Clark over the week-end. The logs are being driven from Patens camp to Sprague River to be loaded on cars for Klamath Falls. Mr. Smith and Mr. Simpson have the contract for driving and loading. They will be loaded on the Saddle Mountain siding. The Campbell Lumber Co. is building a siding at their mill and it will be completed this week. The ranchers are encouraged over the outlook of their crops this year. Their grain and grass is fine this year and they will begin harvesting just after the Fourth. Dave Skeen was a week-end visitor at his brother's, William Skeen, of Chiloquin. William Cramas is spending the week at Chiloquin. Judge Jefferson and Mrs. Riddle of the Whiskey Creek vicinity was shopping here last week. Judge informs us that his health is somewhat improved. Judge and Mrs. Levi F. Walker are in Chiloquin on business this week. —The Rodeo, July 2-3-4—

Jack Burke and Lyle Merritt have returned from a business trip to Lakeview. STOCKHOLM SEES END OF SHORTAGE IN HOUSES STOCKHOLM, (AP)—More room for cradles and fewer military barracks is the order of the day in Sweden. By its recent vote the national legislature has sustained the proposal of the Social-Democratic government to cut down the number of army corps from six to four and to reduce all army and navy expenditures accordingly. All the parties of the Left, Liberals, Social-Democrats and Communists, supported this move in the teeth of determined opposition from the right wing conservatives. At the same time the officers' rooms in one of the former regimental barracks of Stockholm have already been reconstructed into emergency tenements for families unable to procure other housing, and the city itself runs a real estate bureau, where information may be had free of charge as to where vacant flats or houses may be found. With an unprecedented building activity going on, the end of housing shortage is in sight. Within the limits of Stockholm itself close to 3,999 new apartments are under construction and in the suburbs entire communities are growing up. MILTONS RETURN Mr. and Mrs. Jack Milton of Ashland who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Reed enjoying an outing of a week at East Lake, returned to their home at Ashland today.
