

Red Lantern And Booze Get Drunk Into Jail House

Although police officers characterized the Fourth of July as comparatively quiet, "considering" the police court this morning was crowded to the brim with a dozen or so men from different walks of life with distinct "hangover Monday" breaths.

Some paid the usual fine of $20 and some didn't and were escorted two floors below the jail. Chief of Police Loucks' eyes widened with surprise Saturday night when a Diogenes II wended his laborious way down Main street with a red lantern. Every person on the amusing drunk met, was politely but forcefully shoved into the gutter. He had just deposited a young woman and escort in the pattern when Chief Loucks and Patrolman Collins took the matter in charge.

Like a lamb, the drunk accompanied the officers for several blocks. But just when Loucks and Collins were becoming confident that all would be well, the drunk let out a war whoop and galloped wildly up Main street, Collins closely at his heels. He was recaptured and was among those present in police court this morning.

OUTING AT LAKE Returned Last Evening From Lake of the Woods

Mrs. Landis, accompanied by her son Herbert, Boyd Hayden and Mercedes Hayden, returned last evening from Lake of the Woods, where they spent the holidays.

FROM HLY Harry Oberchain of Hly was among the week-end visitors in the city.

Earthquake Pictures

Where Earthquake Made a New Lake

An exclusive picture of what happened when the recent Montana earthquake slid Chilo mountain, of the Teton range in the western part of the state, into a river. It dammed the stream and made a lake. The nature-made dam is a half mile across and 225 feet above the former river bed. Several ranch houses were carried down the mountain by the slide.

Still Have Faith in Santa Barbara

Is the spirit of Santa Barbara destroyed? No, not even by an earthquake. Early the day after the big tremor, one bank established itself—"doing business as usual."

He Saved Lives In Earthquake

William Engle, power house employee, whose bravery in face of falling roofs and walls, saved Santa Barbara from fire disaster that usually follows in the wake of earthquakes. Bricks fell all around him, but Engle remained at the switch and turned off Santa Barbara's electricity. Otherwise broken wires, shooting sparks, would doubtless have started many fires.

BIBLE STUDENT PREPARES FOR ORIENTAL RESEARCH
BALTIMORE.—(AP)—Dr. Raymond P. Dougherty, professor of Biblical literature at Goucher college, has been appointed annual professor of the American Schools of Oriental Research at Jerusalem and Bagdad for 1925-26. He has been granted a year's leave of absence by the local institution, and will leave for the near east the latter part of July.
Dr. Dougherty said his work will include lecturing and field work along archaeological lines, with special time given to a study of the topography of the land and an examination of mounds with the possibility of identifying sites of ancient cities. The new appointee is well known for his work in the translation of Babylonian tablets.
