A JOB FOR THE CITY

City authorities should take speedy and decisive action against a number of offending contractors who have torn up both the paved and macadam streets of the city and then failed to repair them properly.

There is a city ordinance making such things a misdemeanor. The street commission should find out who is to blame for some of these chuck holes in the pavements and swear out warrants for the arrests of the contractors. After they had been punished to the full extent of the law the contractors should be compelled to fix the streets under penalty of heavy damages.

Some contractors at times are too prone to neglect the public welfare in their efforts to make a few extra dollars, and as a result a number of streets have been left in bad condition. There is a chuck hole in the pavement along Pine street, near Sixth, which has been allowed to remain there for months.

There are similar places on other streets, most of them caused by contractors putting in pipe lines of one sort or another, and then failing to repair the damage they did to the streets.

For the good of the city and the public generally, the street commission would do well to hunt out these contractors and prosecute them to the fullest extent of the law.

Something Was Bound to Get Crowded off

Lettuce Shows Good Progress

Roy Nelson Is Making Remarkable Headway This Year

If the success of the pioneer lettuce grower in Klamath, Roy Nelson, is any means of judging, this crop will be one of the premier products of Klamath within a few years.

Mr. Nelson, whose farm is located in the Worden district, three miles south of Keno, reports startling success in two acres. He planted lettuce seed in May, but growing of the crop was held up several weeks because of late spring rains. But during the past two weeks the lettuce has shown a phenomenal growth and is heading up nicely.

Mr. Nelson has contracted with the Pacific Fruit & Produce company for his entire crop. He was informed by that concern that they could use everything that he could grow and more.

In all, Mr. Nelson has five acres of lettuce on his ranch. Several acres will be ready for harvest later in the summer.

The Worden farmer is the first to experiment with raising lettuce on a large scale. It was through his influence that the firm of Hunt & Sawdy, wholesale lettuce producers, was induced to come to Klamath and experiment with growing lettuce on Klamath soil.

This Los Angeles lettuce concern, has sown 46 acres to lettuce on their 100 acre tract in Wocus valley leased from the Geary brothers. It is their hope to grow good lettuce in Klamath which would be harvested just about the time the California lettuce season is over.

Hence the planting of lettuce in Wocus valley started on July 2, with the supposition that the crop will be harvested during the latter part of September and first part of October.

The remainder of the 100 acre tract in Wocus valley is now prepared for the sowing of lettuce seed. Special care of the soil has been taken by the spreading of fertilizer on the land.

Possession Of 2 Wings Leads To Detention Of Man

Two wings, which in the opinion of District Game Warden Marlon J. Barnes, belonged to a blue winged teal, led to the arrest today of Robert Fredericks on the charge of possession of a game bird out of season. Complaint against Fredericks was made out this morning.

Fredericks was arrested on the Mint farm, on the Skillet handle northwest of Klamath Falls. He maintains his innocence of shooting game birds unlawfully and declared this morning that he would enter a plea of not guilty.

Heat Held Fatal To Auto Tourist

(Special to The Herald)
YREKA, Calif., July 8.—Exhaustion caused by driving his automobile through the heat of the day from Willows to Dunsmuir, followed by a hot bath was found to be the cause by a coroner's jury Saturday for the death of Henry A. Moore, aged 71, of Los Angeles.

With his venerable wife, Moore recently left Los Angeles for a motor outing that they planned would take them to the northwest. Moore drove his car during the hottest part of Friday to reach Dunsmuir where he and Mrs. Moore registered at a hotel. Moore spoke of fatigue and said that he would take a hot bath in hopes of refreshing himself. He took the bath and retired and Mrs. Moore followed suit only to find that her husband had died shortly after he had retired.

With Ralph McMurray, court reporter, Coroner Felix J. Kunz went to Dunsmuir Saturday and a jury was impaneled. In addition to extreme fatigue, it was found that heart trouble had played its part in the fatality.

Arrangements were made to have the body shipped to Los Angeles where the funeral was held this week.

Fistic Mauler Back In Cooler

Because he was the aggressor in a fistic combat with G. A. Camp in the county jail, P. A. Thomas, must serve five more days in jail before he is allowed freedom.

Thomas plead guilty to assault and battery before Justice of the Peace R. E. Hunsaker yesterday afternoon and was fined $10. Unable to pay, he was returned to jail and will serve out the fine at $2 a day. He was arrested in jail on the last day of a jail sentence, on another charge.

Albino Type Of Blacktail Deer Reported Found

(Special to The Herald)
YREKA, Calif., July 8.—For the first time in Siskiyou for many years, an albino type of blacktail deer has made his appearance.

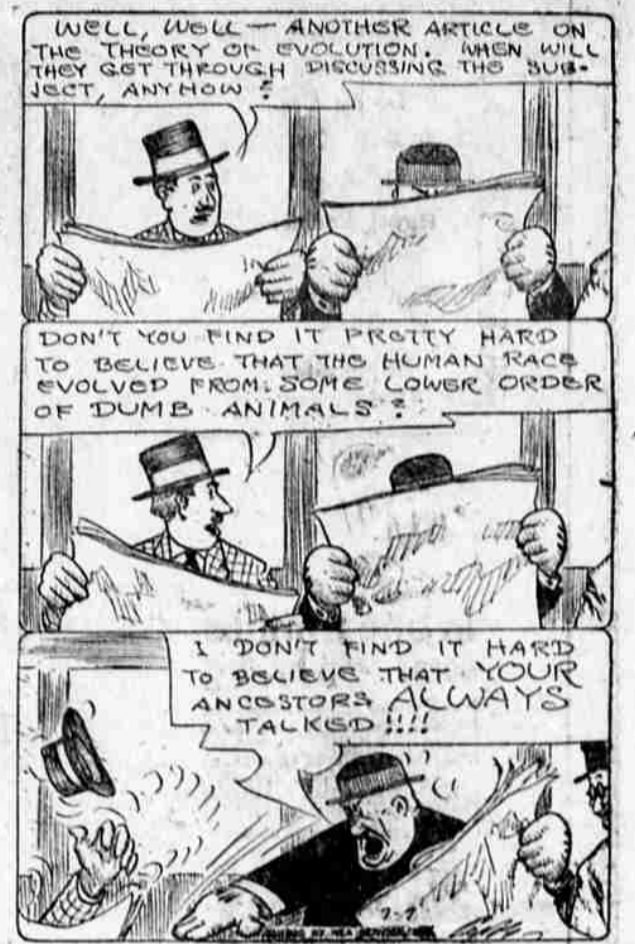

Sportsmen and ranchers in the Scott river canyon have sighted the pure white beauty on several occasions recently and several Fourth of July campers caught glimpses of him as he sauntered to the salt lick in the canyon near the Ed Turner camp, a hunting and fishing resort.

So shy is the albino, however, that it is impossible to get near enough to take photographs of him but those who have watched him through field glasses declare that he is a yearling buck.

While in the last 20 years several albino, blacktail and muletail deer have been shot by hunters in Siskiyou, this is the first white type that has been even seen in several years.

Important Issues Up Before Board Session Tomorrow

Just where the Mt. Laki school shall be moved to will be a question that will come before the county school board at a meeting to be held in the county school superintendent's office tomorrow afternoon. Since Fairview and Mt. Laki districts will be served by one school next fall, the school building will be moved to some site near the Mt. Laki store in order that both districts will be served equally.

Another question to be taken up is the question of the new school to be erected at Sprague river this summer. Plans will be examined and approved and the board is expected to authorize the superintendent to advertise for bids.

Fort Klamath To Form Organization

Organization of a community club will take place tonight at Fort Klamath, according to word received today by Mrs. Leah Smith of the chamber of commerce from Lindsey Slesmore. People of Fort Klamath are hoping for a large delegation of local people to be present this evening to assist in the organization and local business men, members of the chamber of commerce are asked to attend. Late this afternoon R. C. Groesbeck and C. A. Henderson announced they would motor to the Fort to assist this evening.

"Whoever accused you of being a gentleman had a great sense of humor. Boy, you should be in a Straight-jacket, not a dinner-jacket."

Mow Down Weeds And High Grass Is Edict Today

"Don't wait to be told," is the warning issued today by Fire Chief Keith K. Ambrose on the proposition of cutting weeds and overgrown grass.

"The condition of some property in this town has become not only a disgrace but a public nuisance," the fire chief pointed out. "Property owners should take it upon themselves to mow down weeds and high grass on their property without being told. If they do not take the initiative, then the city authorities will take the matter in hand."

The fire chief pointed out that grass allowed to grow high soon dries up in the summer and is then in fine state for brush fires.
