Psyche

PATRICA is but five... with dancing feet.
Bright silk of golden hair and eyes leaf-brown.
Brimming with mischief; lashes shily down.
She seems demure; but when your glances meet,
You have a vision of an airy fleet
Of Elfish spangled wings.
She feels a frown—
It makes a shadow on her smiles will crown
Her brow with happiness, responsive sweet.

Pain captured her last week.
"Mother," she said,
"When you are sick, you just begin to die,
And then, if no one stops you, you'll be dead."
My heart missed beating, but I laughed reply
With soothing answers to my sudden dread.
To-day she's well once more... my butterfly.

MRS. M. R. ANDERSON HOSTESS

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. M. R. Anderson was hostess at her home on Washington, to the Women's Missionary Society of the Christian church. An interesting topic, "Speaking of Books" was discussed. Mrs. M. L. Miller gave a most interesting review of "The Bell of the Blue Pagoda." Mrs. R. H. Dunbar and Mrs. George A. Wirtz each gave talks on "books." During the afternoon Mrs. W. E. Bobbitt outlined a course of missionary reading for the ensuing year.

Eighteen of the members of the society attended and at the close of the program the hostess served a dainty luncheon.

SPEND HONEYMOON AT SEASIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Powell Peyton, whose marriage was a social event of June twenty-eighth at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Leona Ady in Portland, have returned from their honeymoon, which they spent at Seaside and will be at home during the summer months at Beatty.

Mrs. Peyton nee Miss Dorris Ady of this city was the inspiration for a number of lovely social functions following the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Peyton, who is one of the well known young men of this city. This fall they will return to the city to make their home, when Mrs. Peyton will again take up her position as teacher in the public schools.

MISS O'SULLIVAN BRIDE OF MR. J. C. MURPHY

A pretty wedding of interest this week was that of Thursday morning at the Catholic church when Miss Ellen O'Sullivan became the bride of Mr. J. C. Murphy. Rev. Father Looser performed the ceremony at eight o'clock mass. Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Sullivan were the attendants and only the immediate relatives and friends were present.

The bride was most charming in a gown of ivory all over lace worn over a satin slip of shell pink. Her bridal veil was caught with tiny orange blossoms. Ophelia and Teardrops were used in her shower bouquet. Mrs. O'Sullivan, the bridesmaid, was prettily gowned in apple green crepe, her headdress being a solid spray of tiny orange blossoms.

After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will be at home to their many friends in this city.

SOUTHERN VISITORS HERE

Mrs. F. W. Patrick of Cascade, California, and Mrs. L. F. Terwilliger of Vallejo, California, are among the lovely visitors in the city. During their stay here a number of social functions have been planned in their honor. Mrs. Terwilliger will be the house guest of Mrs. Fred Dunbar while her mother will be a guest at the home of Mrs. J. A. Gordon. Both are former residents of this city and have hosts of friends here who welcome their visit.

HONORS COLLEGE BOYS WITH ITALIAN DINNER PARTY

Outstanding among the social events of this week was the Italian dinner party given at the Maguire home on Tuesday evening, when Mr. J. F. Maguire Jr. complimented a number of the college boys who are spending the summer months here. Following the dinner at seven o'clock, dancing was enjoyed by the guests. Covers were laid for: Misses Pauline Clift, Ruth Lindsey, Inez Jenkins, Louise L. Wadsworth of Berkeley, Elma Jenson, Alice Hanson and Mrs. Helene Breitenstein; Messrs Alfred M. Beekler, Jay Caizek, Duncan McKay, Dick Wright, M. H. Chamberlain, Edwin B. Weaver and the host.

HOUSE GUEST OF MRS. PAUL DALTON

Mrs. Dorothy Weaver and daughter, Miss Leah, of Salt Lake City are the lovely house guests of Mrs. Weaver's sister, Mrs. Paul Dalton. During their visit, which will last well into the summer, they will be the inspiration for a number of social functions.

SOUTHERN GIRLS TO BE SUMMER GUESTS

Miss Beth Hamilton of Sacramento and Miss Audrey Breneman of Oakland are the lovely house guests of Mrs. H. J. Winters for the remainder of the summer. During their visit here Mrs. Winters will open the Winters lodge at Lake of the Woods where they will spend the greater part of the summer.

AT LAKE OF THE WOODS

Dr. and Mrs. Warren Hunt and children, with Mrs. Hunt's mother, Mrs. James Blackwell of Ashland are spending the week-end at Lake of the Woods. Mrs. Blackwell will be the house guest of her daughter for the remainder of the summer.

MRS. HENSLEY COMPLIMENTS DAUGHTERS

Honoring her daughters, the Misses Pauline and Georgiana Clift, Mrs. A. E. Hensley will be hostess at a prettily appointed dinner party at her home in the Jacob apartments tomorrow at two o'clock. The occasion honoring the two sisters' birthdays, which fall within a few days of each other. The table appointments will be in red and white, with a low Dresden bowl of Jack roses centering the table. Covers will be laid for the Misses Pauline and Georgiana Clift, Genevieve Hensley, Messrs. J. F. Maguire Jr., Harold Larson, Milton Swantwood and the hostess, Mrs. A. E. Hensley.

MRS. BOYD PROVES LOVELY HOSTESS

One of the loveliest affairs of this week was the bridge on Friday afternoon, when Mrs. W. R. Boyd was hostess to the P. E. O. club and her house guest, Mrs. C. P. Harding of Portland. The color motif was carried out in the club colors of yellow and white with dainty baskets of daisies. During the afternoon five tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Boyd was assisted by Mrs. L. L. Truax.

QUICK—BRYANT NUPTIALS

Simple yet most impressive was the wedding of Friday evening, when Miss Thyra M. Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Eva S. Bowdoin of this city, became the bride of Mr. Robert W. Quick at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. A. F. Simmons officiating.

The bride was most charming in a sleeveless frock of shell pink crepe and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ager attended the young couple. Mrs. Quick acting as bridesmaid at Mrs. Ager's wedding just one year ago.

Mrs. Quick is one of the charming young women of this city, having been born and raised here, graduating with the class of '24 from the local high school. Coming from one of the oldest and best known families of Oregon she has a host of friends. Mr. Quick has made his home in this city for the past two years coming here from Bend, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Quick motored to Spencer Creek on a short honeymoon trip and for the present are at home to their friends at the Simmons home on California avenue.

NOON LUNCHEON FOR MISS WATT

One of the prettiest of this week's affairs was the noon luncheon given at the Hotel White Pelican on Friday, honoring Miss Geraldine Watt, the charming young southern visitor, who is the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. E. Lamm of Modoc Point. Miss Watt was a graduate of Stanford at Christmas and one of the most popular girls of her class.

PICNIC SUPPER AT WULKSE BEACH

Thursday evening a group of the younger set motored to Wulkse beach, where they enjoyed a picnic supper and swimming party. Included in the party were the Misses Ruth Newton of Malin, who has been the house guest of Miss Wortley for the past week; Fern Hanks, Katherine Malloy and Marjiam Wortley, Blair Malloy and Walter Short.

MAKE THE MOST OF YOUR BEAUTY

EVERY one ought to be interested in an appearance which is attractive and pleasing to others. Why should we presume to be a blot on a landscape of so much natural beauty? It is a personal satisfaction to know that we are making the most of ourselves.

To radiate a truly beautiful spirit and to be sure of a sincere manner and charm of presence, we must be kindly in our thoughts as well as our words. The beauty which really lasts must be more than skin deep. No one can be beautiful or interesting who does not get enough sleep. Students and other workers who fail to get enough rest are usually short sighted and stupid. They are trying to make bricks without straw or clay, and it just simply cannot be done.

The individual who is decidedly overweight or underweight has sacrificed symmetry and beauty. Health is not at par, and efficiency and enjoyment of life are both lowered. The person of determination and strong will will keep watch of his or her weight and will use safe and logical means to keep it normal.

GUESTS AT BRADFORD LODGE

Rev. and Mrs. Parker will be the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bradford at the Bradford Lodge at Lake of the Woods.

ANNOUNCES MARRIAGE OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Eva S. Bowdoin announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Thyra Bryant, to Mr. Robert Quick of this city, on Friday evening, July 3, 1925.

The Fluttering Dance Frock

When youth dances, the mode for the newest and most beautiful of evening frocks is for the fall and fluttering gown which is frequently of chiffon.

The circular, swaying skirt, with its border of feathers to add loveliness, or its fall skirts cut in irregular hem line, or dotted and figured in glittering rhinestones, tells its story of chic and ingenuity of the Paris designers.

Quite the most pleasing example of the new mode in dance frocks is the exquisite model selected by Dorothy Mackall for her new First National film, "Chickie."

Miss Mackall, a decided blonde, whose new bob suits her wonderfully, is especially beautiful in the pastel tints, and has selected a delicate green for the fluttering skirts of her short and very full dance frock.

For a touch of the unusual, a deep border of the softest of ostrich feathers in matching color has been chosen to weight the skirt and lend a gentle swaying motion which adds to the grace of dancing.

are used to form a strap at the shoulders of the very tight bodice, which is cut quite low—in front as well as back. A new note is found in the set-in vest effect in the front of the bodice, which is brightened by a few well placed rhinestones.

Layers and layers of chiffon are used in creating the soft and fluttering motion so much desired in the mode of evening frocks. The layers of soft material are particularly effective, as the skirts are being worn shorter and shorter in the formal frocks which are made full.

In the evening frock, which is draped and fits the figure, the skirt is longer and, of course, not so wide.

In the chiffon, or equally popular lace dance frock, the sleeves are commencing to call attention to their lovely presence. Frequently they are wide and of the bell shape, heavily bordered in fur or ostrich feathers.

Ostrich trimming, by the way, remains a staunch favorite in the styles which lead the summer season. The delicate tints used in the dance frocks are particularly well adapted to the fluffy outlines created by the use of ostrich trim-

SUMMER SEASON TIME OF IMPROMPTU AFFAIRS

Social flutterings even of the gentlest kind were scarcely heard at all this week, although those whose necessity or inclination are keeping them here are really having a most enjoyable time. Especially is this true when one's intimates are also near at hand and can be depended upon to augment a dinner or a luncheon party of the impromptu kind, which goes with the summer season. The motor car as a link between the place where one sees a pleasant opportunity to wile away an evening has revolutionized the life of the business man who becomes a stay-at-home for the best of reason—his duty.

Families will take their outings this and next month, where there are young people, to whom life comes again with autumn, and for whom homes must be reopened.

EASTERN VISITOR ARRIVES FOR SUMMER

Miss Jessie R. Jones of La Fayette, Indiana, is the summer house guest of her sister, Mrs. John C. Brocknough on North Twelfth. Miss Jones will be remembered here where she has visited before as the guest of her sister.

SOUTHERN MATRON HERE FOR SUMMER

Another lovely southern matron visiting here for the summer months is Mrs. J. H. Hamilton of Sacramento, who with her son Orville arrived the early part of the week to spend the summer here with Mr. Hamilton.
