

Strike Of Chinese Miners Is Serious

BEKING, July 13.—(AP)—Most of the foreign residents have been safely evacuated from Honan province in central eastern China, where there are considerable coal and iron deposits. About 40 refugees from the Peking syndicate mines in Honan arrived in Peking last night, reporting that a strike of 2000 Chinese miners began last week and that the water and food supplies of foreigners in Honan had been cut off, making it necessary for them to leave the province.

(The Peking syndicate, largely controlled by foreign capital, is one of several important coal and iron companies operating in Honan.)

SWEDEN EXPECTS TO CUT DOWN IMPORT OF AMERICAN WHEAT STOCKHOLM, July 11. (AP)—Preliminary reports from the various districts of Sweden received by the agricultural department show that the crop prospect is better than it has been for the last ten years.

The weather has been very favorable and consequently the work in the fields started much earlier than usual. Wheat and rye are very forward.

With the continued favorable weather there is no doubt that it will mean a considerable decrease in the importation of foreign food stuff, especially American wheat. The importation of American wheat has shown a steady decrease during the last 16 years.

Diamond Lake Fishing Getting Better; Anglers and Trollers All Having Exceptional Success

(Special to the Herald) LIAMOND LAKE, Ore., July 13.—One of the finest fish caught in Diamond Lake for some time was brought in this morning by M. G. Stone of Long Beach, California, who caught the limit in an hour and a half. The largest of the fish, a beautiful rainbow trout, weighed ten pounds, and was perfectly proportioned. Such a fight was put up by the trout that Mr. Stone considered himself quite fortunate that he succeeded in getting him in the boat. Even after the fish had been landed Mr. Stone for forced to gash it in the back of the head to keep it from flapping back in the water.

The big fellow was caught near the center of the lake about ninety-three when the surface of the water was fairly smooth. All of the other fish were caught in the same vicinity.

Mr. Stone used a spinned, and at the time of the big catch was trolling very slowly, maintaining just enough speed to keep the spinner going. For some time before getting any fish on the hook he felt them nibbling, but was unable to get them to take the hook. Then he tried giving a slight quick jerk to the line which secured the hook in their mouths. Following this line of attack Mr. Stone soon had achieved the limit.

Fly fishing is unusually good this year. At the south end of the lake is Silent creek, the largest stream emptying into the lake. The fish stay near the mouth of the creek in the cold water, Silent creek being much colder than the lake, which remains at an average of 70 degrees. In this area around Silent Creek the fly fishermen have had exceptionally good luck. The rainbows are rising to the brown and gray huckle and to the black gnat, especially the latter. A form of fishing rarely seen at Diamond Lake has been employed with success recently. Several men have donned high boots and waded out from shore and brought in good sized catches with flies. Most of the fish caught thusly are small ones between seven and ten inches, although it was reported that one man had taken out two specimens each twenty-seven inches long. In the evening scores of small fish can be seen jumping from the water near the shore where they get a twilight feast from the insects venturing from the shore. The fish taken from Diamond Lake are unusually fat, with the exception of the spawners which are rather lean at this time of the year. In the lake exists a great variety of natural food for the trout including water dogs, leeches, insects, moss, fresh water kelp, etc. The larger fish eat water dogs from six to eight inches in size. Recently a fish when opened was found to contain six of the unfortunate water dogs. The extremely good fishing which continues throughout the year is due to the fact that hundreds of thousands of rainbow trout are planted in the lake annually. Last year one million were placed in the lake, and this year 750,000 were planted. The egg taking station on the Lake from which 15,000,000 to 19,000,000 eggs are obtained yearly, is one of the largest in the world.

Court To Finance Trip Of Delegate To Owens Valley

Subject to permission from W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural College, C. A. Henderson, county agent, will leave this week for Owens Valley, California to persuade farmers of that section to move to Klamath county. By unanimous decision, the county court at the request of the chamber of commerce board of directors, agreed Saturday to meet the expense of Henderson's trip south. Inasmuch as one-half of the salary of the county agent is paid by the Agricultural college, it has proved necessary to secure official permission for his absence from his duties here. County Judge Hunnell tried to reach President Kerr yesterday and today, but was unable to do so. It is hoped to secure permission either tonight or tomorrow, in order that Henderson may make preparations to leave as soon as possible. BACK FROM PORTLAND John Houston and George Proctor, who have been Portland business visitors for several days, returned last evening from the northern city.
