

Joins Managerial Ranks

Meet the new manager of the Chicago Cubs. In other words permit us to introduce Mr. "Rabbit" Maranville, long regarded as one of the best infielders in the game. Maranville came to the Cubs in a trade with Pittsburgh last winter. He's been playing professional ball over 15 seasons. He succeeds Bill Killefer, who piloted the Cubs since Aug. 4, 1921.

Dempsey Plans to Fight Soon

NEW YORK, July 17.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion, today visited the New York state athletic commission and said after the conference that he had made his peace, and that the commissioners had agreed to two of three bouts before he meets the negro, Harry Wills.

The title holder said that he had signed an agreement with Promoter Tex Rickard to box Wills and the way now was open to the contract for the bout. Commissioner Muldoon agreed. Dempsey said that he should be permitted a couple of warming up contests.

A Tunney match is in prospect, the champion admitted, and may be one of the feature attractions at the new Madison Square this winter. He expects to meet Bartley Madden at Michigan City before the summer is over, although he has not signed the papers.

Poison Formula Recommended By C. A. Henderson

Cut worms have been reported as common about the county the last few days. The following mixture is recommended in controlling this pest: 1 lb. arsenic or Paris green, 15 lbs. bran, 8 lbs. sawdust, 1-2 gal. molasses, 1 oz. amyl acetate (banana oil), 3 to 4 gals water.

The arsenic, bran and sawdust should be mixed thoroughly when dry. Molasses, water and banana oil should be mixed and added to the dry materials, stirring or shoveling over thoroughly until completely mixed. This amount of mash will cover approximately half an acre and should be used in the evening by broadcasting, preferably by hand after the sun has gone down. Half a dozen ground or crushed lemons can be substituted for the banana oil.

This mixture should never be thrown on mature plants as it is highly poisonous for human consumption, but should be applied between rows.

Stout Hatchery Is Purchased By Local Attorney

By virtue of a deal just completed, Charles F. Stone is today the owner of the Stout fish hatchery, located four miles north of Chiloquin on a small stream emptying into Spring creek. Judge Stone bought out Henry Stout and John Ramsdall.

The hatchery is one of the few private hatcheries in the state, and the product of the hatchery is sold to restaurants. Mr. Stout, according to Judge Stone, has consented to remain at the hatchery for several days. Fred Cliff will be placed in charge.

Mr. Stout plans to move to Klamath Falls to look after his extensive property interests here.

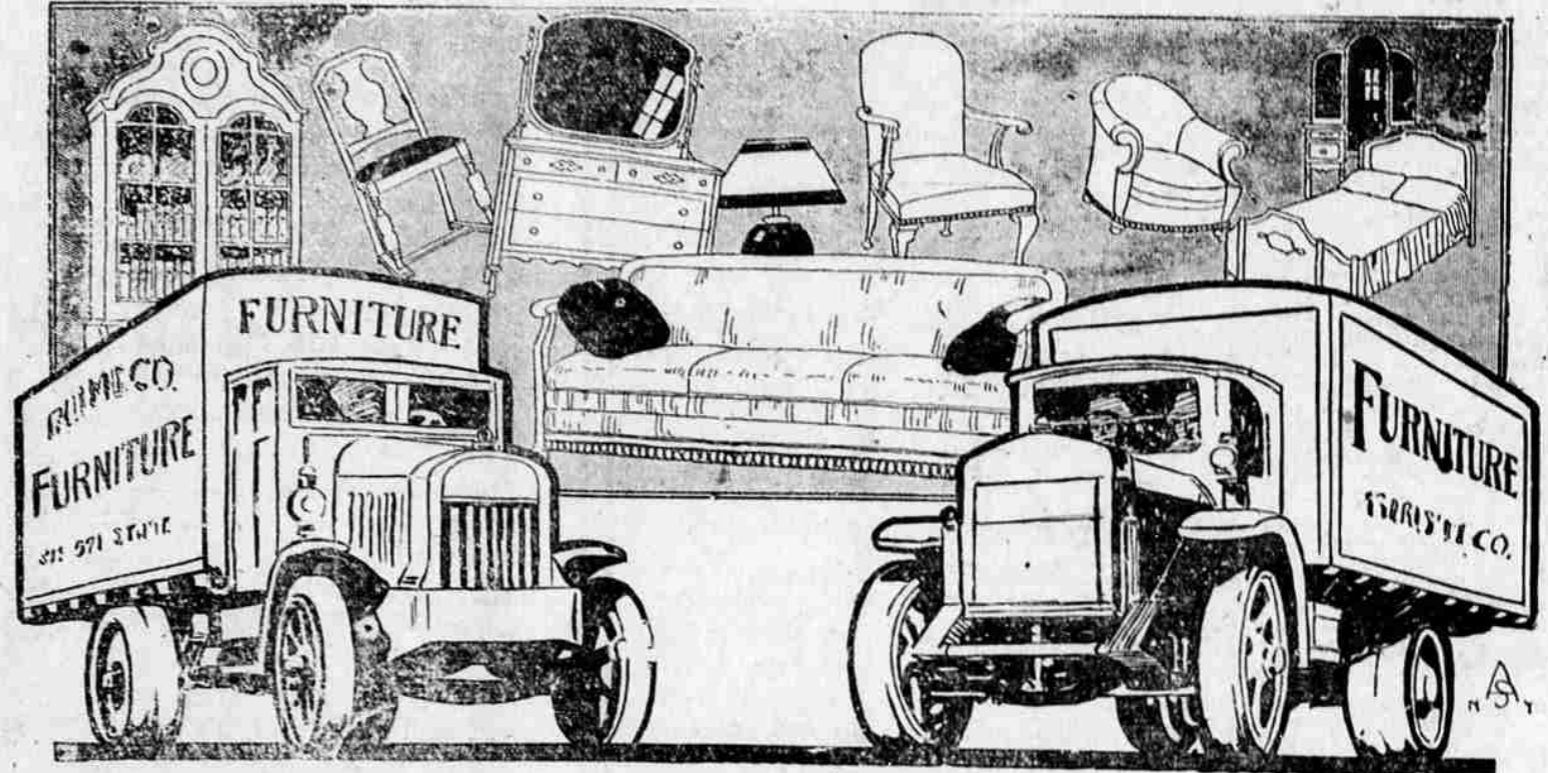

The holdings of the hatchery include approximately 150,000 rainbow and eastern brook trout, four pools in which the trout are raised, two buildings, and several log houses.

He Can Hit

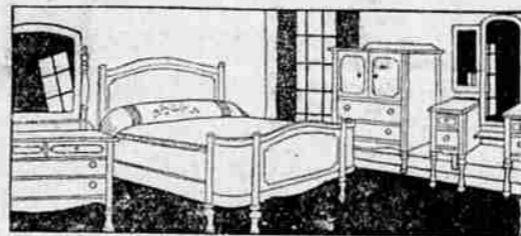

Introducing the "Eabe Ruth of the Western League." In other words, meet "Doc" Payne, of the Wichita club, one of the hardest hitters in the history of that organization. Payne is clouting the pellet over 400, leading the circuit. He's quite a home run guy, too. Over one stretch of 31 games he crashed out seven four-piers. Big league scouts have their eyes on him.
