Bits of July

This summer now, sweet, winsome July,
Beneath whose magic wand
The earth lies wreathed in loveliness
And melody profound
Of song birds trilling in the trees
And crickets on the ground.

But fall will come, and frost
and wind
Some bright October day,
And all will be a bed of death
Where once grew flowers gay;
So haste thee now and in thy heart
Store bits of it away.

—HARRIET TYING.

HONOR MISS CONBOY WITH DINNER PARTY

Complimenting Miss Grace Conboy who left Sunday for Florida, where she will make her future home, the Misses Louise Cattuzza and Cecilia McMahan were joint hostesses on Saturday evening at a prettily appointed dinner at the Tin Hing Guey parlor. The dinner table was centered with a lovely center piece of the seasons flowers. Covers were laid for Miss Conboy, the honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard, Miss Mary Howard, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Murray, Miss Bernadine Hannon and Mr. Walter Hannon and the hostesses.

RETURNS TO SOUTHERN HOME

Miss Agnes Donley who for the past fortnight has been the attractive house guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Graham, will leave on Monday for Los Angeles, California, from which point she will motor on to her home in Birmingham, Alabama, with a group of some two hundred southern girls from Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee, known as the Alexander Tourists. While in the city Miss Donley has been the inspiration for a number of informal social affairs, being one of the summers most charming visitors.

FRINGED SKIRTS SMART

The fringed skirt is extremely popular, the fringe varying from a silken strand to inch strips of the material.

Miss Vanderbilt Will Be Married At Four O'Clock

Wedding of Heiress Important Social Event at Newport Today

NEWPORT, R. I., July 25.—Newport Haven of America's socially elite, was in gala attire today for the wedding at four o'clock this afternoon of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt, daughter of one of the country's wealthiest men and Frederick C. Church, Boston insurance man.

Airplane, yacht, motor and train brought guests for the reception that will be held at Beach Mound, after the ceremony at the Palatial Villa which looks out over the harbor that sparkles with the color of flag bedecked craft. Details of the reception are being withheld by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, II, the bride's mother, but it was rumored that 500 invitations had been sent.

A small number was invited to the ceremony itself. The guests being limited to immediate members of the Vanderbilt and church families and a few intimate friends. There were reports that Miss Vanderbilt would be given away by her father, William K. Vanderbilt II, and that her sister, Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, would be maid of honor.

Miss Vanderbilt's wedding gown was selected by her mother in Paris recently. It will be white, the bride's favorite color.

Mr. Church's best man came from Japan to attend the wedding and arrived in Newport only yesterday. He is Robert G. Payne of Boston, a classmate of the bridegroom at Harvard.

Miss Vanderbilt who is 25 years of age is the heiress to a large fortune. She is a great-grand daughter of Commodore Vanderbilt and the grand daughter of James Fair, who after emigrating from Ireland to Chicago, went to California in 1849 and later removed to Nevada, where he amassed wealth in mining became United States senator.

Recently Muriel visited California and expressed delight over the west. She even rode a broncho in Chaps. As a society girl she is exceptional, her friends say, in that she does not drink, smoke, nor use rouge. Her father and mother have been estranged for some years.

Mr. Church is of a well to do family, the wealth of which does not compare with the Vanderbilt riches. He is 27 years old and was graduated seven years ago from Harvard, where he played football.

Gleanings

"He is the happiest who renders the greatest number happy."

"The most completely lost of all days is the one on which we have not laughed."

"Pleasure is the flower that passes; remembrance the lasting perfume."

"Politeness is a wreath of flowers that adorns the world."

"There is something of woman in everything that pleases."

DELZELL-CROXTON NUPTIALS

Of outstanding social interest this past week was the wedding of Mr. Tom W. Delzell of this city to Miss Sally Croxton of St. Louis, Missouri, which was solemnized in San Francisco on Friday, July 17th, in the First Presbyterian church, with Rev. Thomas F. Day officiating. Mr. Cy Perry of this city was the only attendant and following the simple, yet impressive, ceremony, a brief honeymoon was spent in the southern city after which the young people returned to Klamath Falls by motor.

Mrs. Delzell is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bates Holland McFarland of Hollywood, California, and just recently returned from abroad, where she spent the past year and one-half in research and literary work. During the time Mr. Delzell attended Oregon Agricultural college, Mrs. Delzell was a student at the Oregon college and it was there that their romance culminated.

Mr. Delzell is one of the prominent and popular young business men of this city, where he has spent a greater part of his life, holding the responsible position of assistant division manager of the California Oregon Power company. Mr. and Mrs. Delzell are at home to their friends in the McCarthy apartments on Pine street.

CALL ON EASTERN VISITORS

On Wednesday evening a group of the younger social set called on the Misses Julia Fairchild and Norma Sparks of Chicago, Illinois, who are the attractive house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schallack. Later in the evening the party motored to Altamont pavilion, where they enjoyed dancing. In the party were Misses Agnes Donley of Birmingham, Alabama; Inez Jenkins, Elizabeth Graham, Norma Sparks and Julia Fairchild. Messrs. Tom Malarkey, Cy Perry and Howard Graham.

AT ROGERS SUMMER HOME

With their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wayne Hopkins and son, Earl Wayne Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers and children, Zepha, Jean, James and Donald, are enjoying a delightful week-end party at the Rogers lodge at Lake of the Woods. They are being joined at the lake by a number of relatives from the Rogue river valley.

MOE'S ANNUAL PICNIC ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the annual picnic of the employes of Moe's store, which was held Friday evening at Wul-Kee beach. Motor cars left the city shortly after five o'clock with the party who enjoyed a delicious picnic supper and swimming party at the popular beach. Among those attending were: Miss Wyma Brotherton, Miss Agnes Gallagher, Mrs. Gallagher, Mrs. Dorcia Norris, Mrs. White, Mrs. Helene Hayes, Miss Lillian Scofield, Mrs. Betty Kazee, Mr. and Mrs. Albert May and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baxter and family, Madame Panario, Goldie Miller, Mrs. T. S. Abbott, Mrs. A. G. Meisner, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McNealy and daughter, Miss Lila Moe of Spokane, Miss Louise Hefeler and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Moe.

SLAW-MORANDE NUPTIALS

A quiet yet impressive wedding of the past week was that of July eighteenth, when Miss Leona Morande became the bride of Mr. Ferrand Shaw of Montague, California, at the home of Rev. Yarnes, who officiated. Mrs. Anita Allan and Mr. George Hixon were the attendants. Others present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Morande and Mr. Lester Hixon. Both young people are well known in this vicinity and have a host of friends who wish them happiness.

COMPLIMENTS DAUGHTER ON BIRTHDAY

Little Marjorie Tyson, whose seventh birthday was Monday, was complimented by her mother with a delightful birthday party at the family home, when a number of her playmates called between the hours of two and four. Games were played after which the hostess served a dainty luncheon. Each guest was presented with a gift, which was cleverly drawn from a basket, which centered the birthday table. The guests present were: Ardis Leech, Ruth Muehcnacker, Ruth Peebler, Nina Gwinn, Wendall Gwinn, Frederick Glover, Margaret Young and the honor guest, Marjorie Tyson.

MISS MOE RETURNING TO SPOKANE

Miss Lila Moe, who for the past fortnight has been the house guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Moe, will leave Sunday for her home in Spokane, Washington.

INFORMAL DANCING PARTY ENJOYED

One of the most enjoyable informal affairs of the past week for a number of the younger social set was that of Wednesday evening, when Miss Margaret Cummings was at hostess at the Cummings home on Riverside. Following a game of tennis in the early evening the guests enjoyed dancing followed by dainty refreshments. Those enjoying the informal affair were Misses Zepha Rogers, Mary Hunt, Margaret Cummings, Frank Hall, Innis Roberts, Fred Goeller and Jack Simpson.

DINNER PARTY AT MILLER HOME

Among the delightful informal affairs of the past week was the dinner party of Wednesday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller complimented their daughter, Miss Letha Miller, at the Miller country home, the occasion being her 20th birthday. The prettily appointed dinner table was centered with a birthday cake upon which twenty shell pink candles were placed. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cane, the Misses Marjiam Wortley, Dixie Elaine Emmons, Thora Miller, Letha Miller, Charles Miller and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Miller.

SASH TIES IN FRONT

The sash of this season is much more apt to tie in front than in the back, and the collar, as you have no doubt noticed, usually ties in the back.

MISS WHITE RETURNS SOUTH

Miss Tess White, who for the past fortnight has been the attractive house guest of Mrs. William Carson Dalton, has returned to her home in San Francisco. With a number of the cities other lovely summer guests, Miss White was the motif for a number of informal afternoons during her visit here.

OUR VACATION THOUGHTS

The important thing about a vacation is that it should afford to you a rest from your work of the year. If you are a reader, then give up your books for a short time. If you have danced yourself until you are most weary, give up dancing on your vacation.

Do something different.
Have a real recreation.
Stretch out in an entirely new line.

Vacation days are free from the authority of work, to be sure, but they have a responsibility just the same. The laxity that is astonishing to a serious observer of men and women has no excuse in the fact that it is vacation. Strangers are human beings after all.

The lazy summer days invite you to the open. Vacation days are at hand, we turn irresistibly to the woods and hills, smooth roads for motoring through wonderful scenery, hikes among mountains, long happy days on lakes and woodland streams, sailing over sun-kissed waters.

And when you throw all the worn clothes into the trunk, and come back to work and earth, do not regret the fact that you cannot play all the time.

Klamath Falls' numerous and beautiful resorts, which are but a few short miles from the city, are the centers of many delightful week-end parties these summer days. No prettier sights may be imagined than those of pretty maids and matrons, of which our vicinity can indeed boast, in dainty sport costumes, bright hued sweaters, dashing bathing costumes, riding habits and hiking clothes, leisurely enjoying all out of door sports.

And then comes the plans for the summer exodus, which are getting fairly under way. Klamath Falls is experiencing a real touch of summer weather ushered in by mid-summer days with the result of summer wardrobes blossoming out in all their beauty and bewildering variety.

The numerous out-door affairs, which from now on will be so much in evidence, give a wonderful opportunity to display the dainty summer creations amid the picturesque setting of green lawns, trees, foliage and gorgeous garden flowers and shrubbery, which is found in such luxurious abundance in our home here in this mountainous utopia.

A particularly effective touch is noted this season in the gay parasols carried with the dainty summer toilettes. All of the rich colors and pastel shades now so much in vogue are seen, artistic effect either to match the predominating note in the costume or to form perhaps a startling contrast.

The newest and most striking thing in parasols is the chin-chin which lends a piquant "Japanesey" oriental touch to the bewitching summer gown.

Another vivid color effect is noted in the handsome silk sweaters now such an indispensable article of mid-lady's wardrobe. The rich rose, orange, green, purple, orchid and the old blue shades forming a charming addition to the white summer costume.

The heavier sweaters of wool so worn in the world of fashion are also particularly attractive as well as useful for evenings and motor parties.

Hats were never prettier than they are this present season, and it is a pleasure in itself to note the wonderful creations worn by the maids and matrons of today.

THE KITCHEN ALCOVE By JANE SNEDECOR

As a result of modern social conditions and hand in hand with the movement towards an electrical kitchen, has come the breakfast alcove of today, so-called but often the family dining room, week in and week out except when guests make it necessary to seek enlarged quarters and the library table suddenly becomes a good sized dining table.

The servant problem is becoming almost an unknown factor in all but the most elaborate of our western homes and the housekeeper is seeking built in conveniences and labor saving devices which will enable her to do all but the heaviest of the house work herself. Then the electrically equipped kitchen with its built in cabinets is much easier to keep attractive and has become so far removed from the kitchen of our grandmother's day, that one does not realize that he is "eating in the kitchen."

When ever it is possible the built in alcove is to be preferred, with its long narrow table and high backed comfortable settees on either side, but the same effect may often be achieved by placing the same pieces of furniture in one corner of a large kitchen. Many of the smaller apartments are using a combination ironing board and table, which folds into the wall when not in use. Others have a simple folding table which folds back against the wall when not in use. These last two arrangements are not quite so satisfactory from an artistic point of view for they do not permit the decorative features which the alcoves afford, and one cannot quite rid himself of the feeling that he is eating off the pantry shelf.

Color is really the most important factor in the modern room, and she who desires an attractive kitchen must not use white, brown or any gray except the lightest and softest, the first color is too glaring and harsh, and the last too depressing. Ivory is the most pleasing color of all and when brilliant flashes of other colors are combined with it gives the most satisfying, cheerful and attractive room and one which makes work a pleasure and the meal all that a proud cook may desire. In spite of all that is being shown in the markets in the way of colorful linens and cheaper materials for the table, snowy white linens are always the best and the cheapest in the end. Decorated china flowers, shaded lights and wall panels curtains and cushions for the seats give wonderful opportunities for color effects and one should be lavish even extravagant in the use of the wonderful materials which the markets offer. Do not hold to any one color scheme but use all of the brilliant colors, using them in such a way that the quality of each color is controlled. When one cannot afford to call in a decorator the safest thing to do is to purchase a piece of creton which is pleasing in its color harmony and then use the same colors in the same proportions thruout the room. Pictures should not be used in this room but gay strips of paper or cretonne with a tiny black molding around them are excellent for adding color and at the same time breaking an uninteresting bit of wall space.

NATURE'S VANITY CASE
"Nature's Vanity Case" might well be the title of an ingenious and entertaining beauty pamphlet which was recently issued by the British National Milk Publicity council, which was released to interest the general public in wholesome food.

The clever little pamphlets were sent particularly to the girls' clubs and to factories, business offices and shops throughout the country where young women and men are employed. Lecturers from the council visited the clubs and recreation centers of the various commercial centers from time to time, to emphasize the importance of good health.

The lecturer took as her model those indefatigable saleswomen placed in the large shops to interest the passer-by in some special article. Assembled upon a table in front of her were "beauty products" or samples of nature's vanity box.

"No dressing table is complete without rouge these days," said the lecturer, "but the best kind consists of creamed carrots, which we call nature's own paint or complexion brush. Eat them cooked or raw. No matter how tender or delicate your skin, you can use yellow carrots cooked in milk twice a week. By mixing these two colors within appear upon the cheeks of almost any person whose health is anywhere near normal."

"If you are pale and sallow, try our highly recommended skin softener, an apple hanging from the bough of the fruit tree. It is delivered in an air tight package, but be sure and always eat the package itself, the apple skin.

"Our most important product of all is cow's vanishing cream. Kings, queens, princesses, actresses, film stars and mothers all recommend it. It gives you good bones, white teeth and sparkling smiles. There is enough in our country for everyone to have four or five glasses each day, or even more if he desires it.

"Here is our complexion powder extracted from wholesome cereals, porridge, rice and barley; equally well suited to blond or brunette. The best powder puffs are fluffy potatoes baked in their skins, but always be sure to eat the skin, too. Eye sparklers, made from the phosphorus creamed onions, are excellent.

"We have also vanity cases in several shades of green, made from leafy vegetables. The spinach case is perhaps the most popular among business women. And always remember that the beauty secrets of the bonniest English girls are yours, for the eating."
