Jackson County Game Protective Association Goes on Record for Clean-Up in State Game Policies

Following is the complete resolution adopted by the Jackson county Game Protective association this week, protesting the appointment of W. L. Finley to the game commission, and criticizing the political activities of that body:

For the past two and one-half years Governor Pierce has used every means fair or foul, to secure control of the game organization of the state of Oregon, and the big game fund which is raised by the sportsmen of this state for the purpose of protection, propagation and distribution of game and game fish. This big game fund amounting to well above $300,000, is raised by voluntary license buying, by the sale of pelts and collection of fines. Not a dollar of this fund is contributed by the general tax paying public of the state. It is raised by a special class for a specific purpose, to be held in trust by the state game commission, and spent exclusively for the conservation of the wild life of the state.

After the game interests were divorced from the commercial fishing interests in 1921 and an independent game commission established, a constructive program for the propagation and distribution of fish and game entirely removed from partisan politics was inaugurated. This policy brought a feeling of security and permanency to the warden and hatchery service of the state which it had not enjoyed under the old condition that existed when the commercial fishing interests dominated both commissions.

Egg taking stations, hatcheries, housings for employees, game farms etc., have been acquired in the last three or four years with money contributed by the sportsmen of this state. Title to all of this property is lodged in the name of the state of Oregon for the benefit of the whole people. This arrangement the sportsmen of the state do not object to, provided they have something to say about how this money shall be spent and who shall spend it.

Since his inauguration Governor Pierce, in his efforts to secure control of this organization and this fund, has removed from the commission Colonel George Kelly, Blaine Hallock, M. A. Lynch, Roy Davis and Ben Dorris. Another of his appointees resigned in disgust when he found that the governor had employed the discredited Cleaver to frame some of the employees of the commission.

Finally, within the last month, the governor has accomplished his purpose of securing control of the commission by the appointment of W. L. Finley to succeed Price, resigned.

None of the sportsmen organizations of the state have ever been consulted about any of Governor

Pierce's appointees on this commission, and if he had consulted the sportsmen or the sportsmen organizations of the state about this last appointment, W. L. Finley would never have been recommended.

Immediately on the appointment of Finley, and at the first commission meeting after his appointment, he made a lot of baseless charges against Captain Burghdoff, state game warden, M. L. Ryckman, state superintendent of hatcheries, and Otto Jones, educational director. These ugly charges which Mr. Finley knew to be untrue, were made for the purpose of laying the foundation for the removal of Burghdoff, Ryckman and Jones. In this disgraceful proceedings he had the support of M. H. Bower of Corvallis and J. W. Maloney of Pendleton, two of Pierce's appointees who voted with Finley on the motion to remove these heads of departments.

Now the situation is just this, are the sportsmen of the state of Oregon going to demand that they shall have something to say about who will be appointed on the state game commission, and shall have something to say about how the money they raise to conserve the wild life of this state shall be spent, or will they turn it all over to designing politicians like Walker Pierce, Finley, Bower, Maloney and Cleaver?

WHEREAS, the above preamble sets forth in some measure a statement of facts as regards the condition of game affairs in the state of Oregon today,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, by the Jackson County Game Protective Association in special meeting assembled,

First, That we condemn in the strongest possible manner the appointment of W. L. Finley as a member of the game commission and denounce in unmeasured terms the removal of Captain A. E. Burghdoff, Matt Ryckman and Otto Jones by the action of W. L. Finley, M. H. Bower and J. W. Maloney.

Second, That this organization extend its heartiest commendation and approval to chairman Harold Clifford and commissioner I. N. Fielchner for resisting this outrageous action with all the power they had.

Third, That this organization express its fullest confidence in Captain Burghdoff, M. L. Ryckman and Otto Jones, each of whom we know to be an expert in his line and all of them able and honorable men and true sportsmen.

Fourth, That it is the sense of this organization that the sportsmen of the state should begin to organize at once to the end that when the next legislature meets we can draft and put through a measure that will place the game organization and the game fund beyond control of unworthy politicians and lodge it in the hands of the sportsmen of the state who furnish the money for the activities of the game commission.

Fifth, That these resolutions be filed in the records of our association and copies sent to the newspapers and to the different game organizations of the state of Oregon.

(Signed) Paul A. Scherer, President Jackson County Game Protective Association, Bert Anderson, Christ Gottlieb, Robert W. Clancy, J. E. Barkdull, Floyd Cook, Ralph P. Cowell, Committee on Resolutions.

Prohibition Head Is Released Last Night Under Bond

W. S. Levens, state prohibition commissioner, charged with larceny, can not be arraigned before Judge A. L. Leavitt before the first of September. Last night the court adjourned for a month and until it convenes again, the prohibition leader can not be arraigned nor enter a plea to the charge.

L. L. McBride, state prohibition agent, who was indicted on the charge of malfeasance and negligence in office and Mr. Levens, were released from the custody of the sheriff last night when their bails of $1,000 and $500 respectively, were furnished. Mr. Levens and McBride, will probably return to Salem either tomorrow or tonight.

Mrs. Bryan Will Pen Memoirs of Her Distinguished Husband, Says Story in the Chattanooga News

CHATTANOOGA News, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Chattanooga News, in a story published today says the memoirs of William Jennings Bryan will be written by his widow.

The story says: "At the time of his death, Mr. Bryan had started on the frame work of his recollections. He had intended to devote to the writing of this chronicle of American life for the past half century, the rest of the summer and fall, and in fact all the time up to his leaving for the Holy Land in February of 1926.

"He had dictated in the rough to his secretary, W. E. Thompson, the first draft, were among the material of the memoirs. Thompson now has these on yellow typewritten sheets. The headings include such copies as the great commoner's childhood and youth, the Chicago convention of 1896, the Baltimore convention of 1912, his work with peace treaties while he was secretary of state and one or two other incidents in his busy life.

"These guide posts for his memoirs, for, according to Thompson, they were more of a frame work, giving the general trend of events, rather than the detailed particulars. The commoner had expected to make by amplifying the first draft, were among the material which Mrs. Bryan will have at her disposal for her task.

When the widow of the great commoner passed through Chattanooga Wednesday morning enroute to Arlington with the heir of her husband, she told friends that she intended to give her attention to these memoirs as soon as conditions permitted. She said she would be aided in the writing by her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Owen, and the latter's husband, Major Reginald Owen. Mrs. Bryan is a gifted writer and for many years assisted her husband in his literary endeavors. She is the author of the biography of Mr. Bryan which introduces the collected volume of his speeches. She is also the author of the account of the Baltimore democratic convention of 1912, as throughout their married life she was in intimate touch with the innermost details of her husband's political career, with the train of thoughts leading to his notable political decisions, with his significant conversations and with his correspondence and files.

"It is likely that her work will be done at Marymont, the Bryan home at Coconut Grove, near Miami, Fla."

R. Lalo Lays Low In County Jail

R. Lalo is laying low these days, minions of the law at Chiloquin early this week felt that in his Bacchanalian revelries, he might lay somebody else low.

Somebody else too, Olson Charlie and George Stewart are the latest arrivals from Justice of the Peace R. C. Spink's court and are among those present in the county jail. Charlie and Lalo were fined $25 for their indiscretion and are serving out their fine in jail at the rate of $2 a day. Stewart was sentenced to 15 days in jail.
