

Vancouver Will Hold Centennial

VANCOUVER, WASH., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Vancouver is making preparations for the reception of thousands of visitors during the week beginning August 17 when the oldest city in the state of Washington will open the celebration of its Centennial. It was in 1825 that Dr. John McLaughlin came to this place and, as chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company, established the trading post here which he called Fort Vancouver and from which he ruled the Oregon empire from California on the south to the North Pole and from the Pacific ocean to the Rocky mountains.

Under a special act of Congress the minting of half dollar pieces commemorating the Vancouver Centennial is now under way and on August 8 the first consignment is to be shipped from the San Francisco mint. These coins have a profile of Dr. John McLaughlin on one side and of old Fort Vancouver on the other side and they are unique in that unlike all other coin issues since the Columbian exposition at Chicago they bear the name of the town at which the celebration is held thereon. The directors of the Centennial have ordered but a limited minting of this coin, and already have thousands of orders for these at one dollar each. The celebration, underwritten by local capital, is hoping to meet a large part of its expenses through the sale of these coins.

The celebration will consist of night for the week beginning August 17, with the co-operation of the Oregon Historical Society and the Washington Historical Society.

Opening exercises, set for August 17, will attract notable persons from the two states and a big reception for that date has been planned. The governors of Washington and Oregon and the Congressional delegations from the two states, with mayors of many of the cities, have been invited to participate in these exercises.

Doug Is Star 'Witness' Whether on Screen or Not

Doug is a star wherever he is. Right now, and in the picture, he's a star witness. He happens to be in court in connection with the prosecution of three men who are supposed to have plotted to kidnap Mrs. Douglas Patbanks (better known as Mary Pickford) several weeks ago. Doug is snarled in court while in conference with Prosecutor McCartney.

Shaws Play Makes Big Hit In Berlin

BERLIN, (AP)—Max Reinhardt's theaters have concluded an unusually prolific season. The total number of premieres was 25. Shaw's "Saint Joan," with 147 nights had the greatest number of performances. Pirandello's "Six Persons in Search of an Author" was produced 79 times and "The Dead Aunt" of Curt Goetz attained a round 100 nights.

Newly staged and revised plays produced were: "Othello," "Coriolan," "The Imaginary Patient," "Cabal and Lays," "A Servant of Two Masters," "The Revisor," "Caesar and Cleopatra," Michael Kramer's "Last of Decency," "Pillars of Society" and "The Krampus."

The plays of older authors retained in the repertory comprised: Wedekind's "Spring Awakening," "Pandora's Basket" and Strindberg's "Miss Julia." The old farce "Robert and Bertram" and the pantomime "Samuray" were also revived.

Biography of Lincoln in German Favorably Received in Berlin

BERLIN, (AP)—One of the latest publications of the German book market is a biography of Abraham Lincoln in German. Hitherto only the German translation of Carl Schurz sketch of Abraham Lincoln's life existed. The author of the German work is Count Albrecht Montgelas.

The book has met with a favorable reception by the press. Reviewing it the Vossische Zeitung says: "Despite the obvious thoroughness of Count Montgelas' investigations and research work among the mass of existing Lincoln biographies, his book reads like an interesting short story." Another paper states: "Even among educated Germans, there are not many who fully realize Lincoln's historical importance."

RAILWAYS OF JAPAN SUFFER FROM DECREASED REVENUES

TOKYO, (AP)—Even Japan is having its railway troubles, a statement recently attributed to Vice Minister of Railways Aoki shows. Mr. Aoki said that trade depression had caused a decided drop in the railway traffic revenue and that there were many freight cars lying idle. Unless there is a detour it is feared the situation may hinder improvement in the near future seriously affect the budget for the current fiscal year.

During May there was a falling off of 3259 tons from the normal freight handled. The average freight revenue was 518,180 yen, or 22,743 yen less than for the same period last year.

SURVIVORS OF GERMAN BOAT CREW IN BOXER UPRISING HOLD REUNION

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—A reunion of surviving officers and crew of the former German gunboat Bils, the first war vessel to run the gauntlet of the Taku forts during the Boxer uprising 25 years ago, was held here recently. Former Commander von Lams, now a retired admiral welcomed former officers and men.

The only war correspondent aboard the vessel during the Taku forts engagement was an American, Joseph Herring, who was the first man on board to be wounded, an exploding shell fracturing two of his ribs.

No Paroles To Be Given To Brothers

SALLEM, Ore., Aug. 1.—When new pleas reached Governor Pierce yesterday for executive clemency in favor of Harry and Alex Goldstein, brothers who are serving terms of two and one-half years each in the state penitentiary for receiving stolen property, the governor declared that he will not consider leniency for them until they are subject to parole. They were received from Multnomah county.

CARRIER PIGEONS CARRY NEWS COPY IN JAPAN

TOKYO.—While there are 19 daily newspapers in Tokyo, and hundreds of others throughout the empire, the gathering of news in Japan is somewhat more difficult than it is in America and other countries. The reason is that the telephone and telegraph services are exceedingly primitive and almost worthless for the rapid transmission of news.

The tardy wire service, however, is overcome to some extent by the use of carrier pigeons. Every news agency and large newspaper has its own specially trained birds which daily are sent by train to the various correspondents. The pigeons, when released with the thinnest of "copy" sheets attached to them, make rapid time back to the editorial rooms.

ARIZONA AVIATION FIELD NAMED AFTER DEAD FLIER

WILLIAMS, Ariz.—The name of a young army aviator who sacrificed his life to the cause of flying has been given to an aviation field here which, with the development of transcontinental mail and commercial air lines, may become one of an important chain of landing places.

It is Webber field, Lieut. Chas. L. Webber killed Dec. 7, 1923, at the age of 26. He was piloting Colonel Francis C. Marshall of the aviation service from Rockwell field San Diego, Cal., to Fort Huachuca, Ariz., and both officers lost their lives. It is believed that the plane crashed into a peak of the Santa Rita mountain range. For days at the air forces of the Southwest, together with infantry and cavalry troops, searched for the missing officers. After two weeks the destroyed plane was found.

BRITISH ANXIOUS TO MAKE ANOTHER CLIMB UP EVEREST

LONDON, (AP)—Addressing the Royal Geographical Society's anniversary meeting, the president, the Earl of Ronaldshay, said neither the members of the late Mount Everest Expedition, nor of the Mount Everest committee were prepared to admit defeat with regard to the conquest of Everest.

The prospect of putting the matter to the final test, he said, depended upon the willingness, or otherwise, of the Tibetan Government to grant permission to another expedition, rather than upon the readiness and ability of the committee to organize and despatch it.

Love Trail Ends in Desert Death

Henry Kirk, musician, poet, favorite with the women, whose murdered body was found on the desert near Brawley, Calif. First believed to have died in a duel with John Truden, ex-marine of El Centro, Kirk is now said to have been murdered by Truden at the instigation of a third man. And the third man killed Truden, police say, to cover his tracks. Truden was found dead in El Centro. The whole mystery is thought to be the result of love affairs Kirk is supposed to have had from Honolulu to San Francisco and south, his conquests finally running afoul of this "third man."

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six." Never heard of it before, but he happened to be walking along Automobile Row and during a lapse moment his foot slipped—he stepped inside.

"Nifty boat," said the salesman.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dads got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical.

But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran. "Never again!" said Jim. "That car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

Advertisements are an invaluable guide to intelligent buying. Read them regularly

New Shoes $2.Pr for as low as . . .

Most people would jump at the chance to buy them, if they were assured that the shoes they could get for this price would be long-wearing and good-looking.

Don't overlook that when you bring your shoes here for repairs you DO actually get new ones for that price—and they will be both good-looking and long-wearing.

For shoes repaired by the Goodyear method are given new parts to take the place of the worn out ones. Patching is a thing of the past in the shoe repair game.

You may see examples of Goodyear repairing at the shop any time.
