You can get from 15 to 30 miles more to the tankful of "Red Crown" if you follow the practical instructions in the Red Crown Mileage Card. Here's one motorist who got more:

"I've been following my mileage with a Red Crown Mileage Card, and I'll say the Standard Oil Company knows how to make real mileage gasoline. I'm getting 280 miles on a 20-gallon tank against 220 miles just a month ago, so I'm 60 miles to the good. How's that?"

You, too, can get extra mileage from "Red Crown"—start "saving miles" today. Buy from any Red Crown pump in town.

LONE PINE CALF CLUB MEETS SOON

County Club Leader Sexton is calling a meeting of the Lone Pine Calf Club for Sunday evening at 7 p. m., August 9th at the Kiger ranch near Merrill, at which time plans for the showing of the calves owned by the nineteen members of this club at the county fair will be perfected.

The calves embrace Holsteins, Jerseys and Guernseys and every year the calf club exhibit proves one of the most attractive features of the county fair. Arrangements are under way to house the livestock of boys' and girls' separately from the general entry livestock, thereby giving this division a much better opportunity to show off their animals. Each boy or girl in the Calf Club work must feed, care for and keep records of the cost of feed and amount of time devoted to this project and the form in which some of the calves are exhibited would do justice to old and experienced exhibitors.

This is one of the largest livestock clubs in Oregon and great things are expected from its members in the exhibit line. The enrollment includes Ellis Moyer, Thelma and Phelps Lewis, Eugene Merritt, Billy Bailey, Cecil Haley, Kenneth Kiger, Vernon Hursb, Lorian and Pauline Beasley, Marjorie Bowman, James and Earl Jackson, Louis Williams, Carl, Audrey and Esther Kiger, Roy Beasley and Bryant Williams.

Some of the animals owned by these club members are eligible for entry in the American National Bank special class for Tillamook calves, although a few are from local herds. All are eligible for entry in the open classes as well as in the club work division of the county fair.

OWENS FARMERS FAVOR KLAMATH

north to look over the Klamath country.

"They did not express any preference as to what section of Klamath they would like to settle in. They said they would look everything over and pick that section which looked the best."

Good Farmers

"The farmers of the section are all of old American stock, thrifty, industrious and good farmers. The population of the valley is approximately 7000 and the valley is about 100 miles long. They were so anxious to hear about the opportunities in Klamath that I had a difficult time in getting away from one farmer to talk to another. Wherever I went it was the same. Everybody had heard about or had read about Klamath county, and all expressed either their decision or their desire to come to Klamath and settle here if conditions were as favorable as had been described.

"The valley is on the down grade. Already one can see where the water that Los Angeles has bought is bringing a return to desert land, sage brush and waste. Business men of the town of Bishop told me that business had fallen of between 20 and 50 per cent.

As a result, not only farmers but business men want to get out. But they can sell only to Los Angeles because under the existing circumstances nobody wants to buy property in Owens valley. Los Angeles, however, buys up the property just as it needs the water and therefore many farmers must await till they can sell to that city. Business men of Bishop told me that they favored Klamath Falls to any other city that they had heard of and intended to come here and look over the business opportunities."

Cattlemen May Stay

Mr. Henderson interviewed many livestock men and found that while 18 or 20 planned to move away, either to Klamath or some other section, that the majority had decided to await developments.

"With nearly everybody in the valley moved away and with some water available, livestock men would have an abundance of grazing land in the valley", Mr. Henderson said. "So they plan to see what happens before selling out."

The county agent interviewed fruit growers of the Sunland district in the valley and found these farmers anxious to move to Klamath. They had, it appeared, been livestock men and diversified farmers before moving to Owens valley, and were anxious to forsake fruit growing and return to their original occupation.

"Altogether the situation looks good," Mr. Henderson said. "I feel that Klamath will get a large percentage of the Owens valley farm-

Mountain Climber Is Badly Injured

PORTLAND Ore., Aug 7.—John D. Scott, leader of the Portland party of the Mazamas Club, which set out this week to scale the Jefferson Peak, was injured Wednesday on the mountain, and is being carried on an improvised stretcher along the Sky Line Trail. His bearers left Conception Camp, in Jefferson Park at 7 am today, and intend taking him to Government Camp, from where he can be brought to Portland by auto.

Reports by telephone from a member of the party, relayed thru Albany today, said Scott jumped into a snow field to get out of the way of a falling rock chimney, that he slid to the bottom of the field and there struck a large rock. One hip was badly hurt.

Health Unit Head Inspects Water of Topsy Lumber Co.

Dr. G. S. Newsom of the Klamath county public health unit made an inspection Wednesday of the Topsy mill Co.'s plant, looking into the water supply and general sanitary conditions.

One case only of typhoid was reported from the Topsy mill, one of the employees having been treated for typhoid in the hospital at Dorris, California.

"Inasmuch as the mill plant has a community water supply, it hardly seems possible that the water supply could be contaminated with typhoid germs, and only one case developed out of about 200 people using the same water," Dr. Newsom said today. "Samples of the water have been sent to the Oregon State Board of Health Laboratory for analysis."
