

COOLIDGE BACK IN OLD HAUNTS

President and Wife Visit Overnight at Northampton, Mass.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Aug. 21. (AP)—Back in his home town for a fleeting call, President Coolidge visited today with old friends and neighbors before continuing on his way to Swampscott.

Men and women who knew Calvin Coolidge, as a struggling attorney, a city councilman, mayor, member of the legislature, lieutenant governor and governor, joined in respectfully honoring him as president.

A limited number of intimate friends had access to the home of Mrs. Elmira Goodhue, the president's mother-in-law, where he and Mrs. Coolidge were overnight guests.

The president and his wife arrived here late yesterday, after a 125 mile dusty automobile ride from Plymouth, Vermont, where they had spent six days at the home of the president's father. Their departure from Northampton today was timed to permit them to be back at the summer white house before nightfall.

PROHI LEADERS SLECTED TODAY

Gen. Andrews Picks Nearly Same Old Crew to Enforce Dry Laws

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The new prohibition army will be captained in large measure by the same men who now command Uncle Sam's enforcement squadrons.

Out of 24 new district administrators named today by Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, all but six already are in the service.

Although he had announced a campaign to induce practical business executives to lend new blood to the organization, General Andrews said today that after investigation he had decided there were many now in the enforcement machine who should be given a chance to make good under the new plan that is to become operative September 1. Four of the six new men taken into the service are, like General Andrews, former army officers.

In several districts acting administrators only were chosen because, the general said, he had "Not yet determined on the man who may meet the requirements."

If you could fasten your money up as tight as a bottle of olives all the burglars would starve.

German Refugees Flee Poland

Because they refused to renounce their allegiance to their fatherland, 30,000 Germans were forced to flee from Poland back to Germany. This shows the refugees huddled together in a primitive "Ellis Island" on the German border waiting to be examined by customs officials.

NAVAL AVIATORS READY FOR TRIP

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 21.—Flying two PN-9 and two PN-7 planes, the San Francisco-Hawaii flight naval aviators who have been here for several weeks making arrangements for the aerial voyage are to leave San Diego at six o'clock tomorrow morning for San Francisco.

Commanding the flight tomorrow will be Captain S. E. Moses, project commander, who is going to San Francisco to supervise final details. One of the PN-9 planes leaving here tomorrow and that is to be used in the islands flight is to carry Commander John Rodgers, in command of the Hawaiian fliers, and Lieutenant B. J. Connell, pilot and second in command, with their crew, and the second is to carry Lieut. A. P. Snody and Lieut. Arthur Gavlin, pilot, with their crew. Captain Moses will make the trip in Lieut. Snody's plane.

The two PN-7 planes that are to accompany the Hawaiian fliers to San Francisco are to be flown by Lieutenant A. Crinkley and Lieut. L. W. Curtin. All told, there will be 24 men on the two planes.

OLD PIONEER PASSES

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Adeline M. Smith, said to be the last living person in Oregon whose father fought in the Revolutionary war, died here late last night. She was born in Wales Center, N. Y., November 23, 1827, and came to Oregon in 1876.

Potato President Is in Fair Competition

"Did you remind Mr. Dehlinger I was living in the country?" demanded President Henry Semon of the Klamath Potato Association, as he strolled into the County Agent's office this afternoon. "Do you think I've been getting these prizes donated, losing sleep and hoeing potatoes overtime to let someone else walk away with that planter? Speaking of prizes, here's another for the potato men." Whereupon Mr. Semon proceeded to outline a new special for the potato exhibitors with a first prize offered by Wood, Curtis Company of $25 cash for the commercial potato raiser who exhibits the largest number of sacks in class 9 of the highest grade potatoes.

The potato exhibit is causing more commotion among the farming element than any other division of farm crops. This latest prize makes in addition to the $145 potato digger, $70 in cash prizes besides the regular fair board awards in potatoes.

At the close of the judging the potatoes will be auctioned to the highest bidder and the results go toward a revolving fund for the permanent display and awards of future fairs.

Arrangements were completed for the embellishment of the potato booth with an enlargement of the registered trademark which with a selection of the finest potatoes from prize winning sacks will go to the state fair.

Mr. Semon turned in his entries for the fair, which consisted of 15 pound exhibits of Bliss Triumph, Burbank, Early Ohio, Notted Gems, and Sweepstakes besides several sacks for the J. W. Kearns Special. Also Burbank wheat in the Martin Bros special.

"If you've got any influence with these progressive merchants in town tell some of them to come out and buy the best potatoes in the county," was Mr. Semon's parting remark.

PEAT LAND FIRE WORKS WAY INTO CALEDONIA BOG

With the fire temporarily checked, the farm land of the Siemens and Bloomingcamp ranch will not be flooded to extinguish the peat land fire that started Wednesday afternoon, according to reports received this afternoon from Wocus valley.

Before the fire fighters could stem the rapidly spreading blaze, the fire had worked its way into Caledonia marsh and was threatening the Mint Farm, owned by the Geary Bros.

Every effort will be made to stop the blaze without turning irrigation water onto the ranch lying along the Skillet handle, in order that most of the large volunteer grain crop can be saved.

Farmers Expect to Pay up Debts

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 21.—Beller that farmers of eastern Washington will liquidate their obligations to their bankers on a greater degree this year than in any other since the close of the war, was expressed here today by Harry C. Johnson, state supervisor of banking, now on a tour of east side communities.

"Farmers feel that they can and must wipe out the old debts this fall," said Mr. Johnson. "Already the effect of this feeling is apparent. Bankers feel that the liquidation is going to be large and that the number of failures in business and farming will be few."

HAITIAN CONSUL SMUGGLES BOOZE AND GETS FINED

Twenty-Six Trunks of Foreign Diplomat Yields 240 Bottles of Hooch

ASSUMES ALL BLAME

Ordered to Pay $1200 Penalty—Will not Disclose Names of Friends

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—Eugene Le Besse, honorary consul of the republic of Haiti at Manchester, N. H., arrived on the steamship Nickerie from Port Au Prince, accompanied by twenty six large and weighty pieces of baggage.

A customs agent asked for the keys to the trunks.

"Sir," said Mr. Le Besse, "I am a diplomat. I claim exemption from customs examination."

"Sir" replied the agent, "I suspect that you have liquor hidden among your shirts."

"Certainly," assented the honorary consul, "all the ambassadors bring in liquor."

"But you, sir," the examiner pointed out, "are not an Ambassador, nor even a minister, but a consul and an honorary consul at that."

Mr. Le Besse bowed to authority. "That trunk contains liquor," he said, "and so does that case."

They did hold liquor—240 bottles of champagne, vermouth whiskey and a precious morsel, a five gallon keg of best Haitian rum.

"I abide by the laws" the consul protested to Edward Barnes, assistant collector at the customs house, "I just brought this in for some of my friends. They did not give me the money to purchase it. I thought it was quite regular, never before has my baggage been searched."

Mr. Barnes fined him $1200, but offered him immunity if he would give the names of his friends.

"No," said Mr. Le Besse, positively, "if a crime has been committed, I alone am guilty and I alone will pay the penalty."
