MINER'S MISFORTUNE BRINGS AID TO MAKE HIS DREAMS COME TRUE

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Isador Forlin now believes "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," for a misfortune that befell him helped him to realize a dream of years.

Forlin, a mine laborer at Blairsville, Pa., had an ambition for a long time to return to his home in the Tyrolean Alps and establish a tourist hotel. The savings mounted slowly, however, and the goal seemed far distant.

One day a pile of slate fell on him in the mine and caused an injury to his back which incapacitated him for further work. The Workmen's Compensation Board awarded him $12 a week for 500 weeks. Forlin applied for it in a lump sum. The board granted his request, and with the money he intends to make his dream come true.
