New Inmate Of Poor Farm Is Kitchen Chief

Pearl M'Clinden, Dusky Law Violator, Now Flapjack Tosser

Inmates of the county poor farm are getting some real southern cooking during these brisk August days. They're living high, those unfortunate souls out there at the poor house.

For they have acquired a new cook, and a good one. She is Pearl M'Clinden, dusky-hued and buxom, who recently was sentenced to 60 days in jail for driving an auto while under the influence of liquor.

But the county hasn't a jail-house for its unruly or luckless fair sex. In other words, Pearl was all trussed up with no place to go.

Then somebody—identity unknown—got a wise idea. They'd send Pearl out to the county poor farm to do her "bit." So off she went. The superintendent, being a conservationist, decided to put Pearl to work. He gave her an apron and free reign in the kitchen.

And now the folks at the poor farm hate to see the day when Pearl will quit. It's been quite a treat for them, and they sure like the way she handles the skillet.

AWARD GIVEN

California Prune and Apricot Growers was given judgment by the New York federal court against W. A. Higgins & Co., of that city, for $288,000 for refusing to complete contract for prunes sold by the association. The suit had been pending since 1920.

LORELLA

Mr. Curtwood and family, who is employed as railroad surveyor at Bonanza, and Mrs. Ada Parsons spent Sunday as the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Bieler and family at the Gerber dam.

Ben Brown has started threshing and is getting along nicely. He expects to do most of the threshing for Langell valley.

Mrs. Tuttle and daughter, Mrs. Nelson Smith made a trip to the Lakeview country for wild plums on Sunday and were successful in obtaining three sacks full. Wild plums are reported plentiful this year.

Mrs. Alfred Keller is getting along as well as could be expected after a major operation and hopes to be able to leave the hospital within a few weeks.

A special meeting of the Langell Valley Community club was held at Lorella community house last Saturday evening, but owing to the busy season of the year, the attendance was smaller than usual. Mr. Henderson gave a very interesting and encouraging talk on his Owens valley trip, and the Langell valley people are very optimistic in regard to getting the valley settled as soon as the city of Los Angeles does its part in paying the Owens valley farmers for their land, as Mr. Henderson reports that these people are very highly pleased over prospects in Langell valley. Dr. Bishop accompanied Mr. Henderson to Lorella and gave a very instructive talk regarding preventive measures being taken to eradicate T. B. among cattle.

Dan Cleary, who has been in the sheep business for a number of years, is reported to have sold his sheep and expects to return to his native land, Ireland.

Sol Dewey, who had the misfortune to receive an injury to his knee about two weeks ago, has been taken back to the hospital after being out for a few days. The knee had not improved sufficiently for him to make the trip home. It is now in a cast and his friends hope he will soon be able to be out again.

The U. S. R. S. camp, which has been stationed at Lorella for the last two years, was closed down last week indefinitely. Ben Danfels and family are planning on a trip to California until operations are resumed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins and little daughter have returned after having spent a few weeks with Mrs. Hopkins' mother in Tenino, Wash., who has been seriously ill.

KENO

Mrs. Turpin and Nellie Doten drove to Algoma last Wednesday to visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edwards and children and Mr. Edwards' mother, Mrs. Clara Edwards, all of Myrtle Creek, were guests at the Nelson ranch the first of the week. Before returning home they visited with other friends in and near Keno, which was their home some years ago.

Howard Seaver is making his parents a visit this week.

C. Showgoose and son, Ben, were business visitors to the Gordon ranch at Worden Sunday. Augusta Puckett and Wanda Wal-

Giant Fielder Is Seriously Injured

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(P)—Roses Young, New York Giants right fielder, suffered a fracture of the right hand in two places when hit by a ball pitched by Pete Donohue, Cincinnati twirler, yesterday and probably will not be able to play again this season, it became known today.

who also was notified today that he had been fined $100 by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, for precipitating a row with Donohue after being hit by the ball that caused his injury. At that time, however, the damage was not apparent.

Donohue was not punished as he was not held responsible for the disturbance.

Germans say American tourists don't drink much. It all depends on how much is much.
