

Mrs. Newbury Unperturbed In Dance With Governor Of Oregon; Former Local Girl

Of much interest to local people is an article which recently appeared in the Oregon Voter about a former Klamath Falls girl, Mrs. Don Newberry, nee Marjorie Delzell, who was raised and educated in Klamath Falls, where she has many friends. She is the wife of Attorney Don Newberry of Medford, who is the son of Mrs. Wilbur Jones of this city.

The article in part is as follows:
Waiving With Walter
Acceptance of any appointment under Governor Pierce is a source of embarrassment to any appointee whose self respect revolts at having to trim his convictions to suit the changing political course of the executive.

It was painfully evident at the recent meeting of the state textbook commission that its members, except Senator Milton A. Miller, were laboring under difficulties. Senator Miller, seasoned politician and parliamentarian, took excellent care of his own skin. He has not played the political game for more than thirty years without having learned the tricks of the trade. The members of the textbook commission were like a bunch of chickens being played with by a crafty old fox.

Mrs. Don Newbury of Medford was least perturbed. In fact, with true feminine reserve, she succeeded in suppressing any surface indication of embarrassment. She was a perfect lady. Her intelligence must have informed her that in reversing her opinion from moment to moment she was simply yielding to the necessity of obliging Senator Miller (and through him Governor Pierce), but she was so graceful in her reversals as an accomplished waltzer submitting to the leadership of a partner whose style didn't suit her, but whose signals she interpreted with instantaneous understanding.

The other three members are all experienced and successful superintendents. Each is actuated by the motive of straightening out the tangle with as little confusion and expense as possible, but each let himself be trapped by the wily chairman, Senator Miller, into action supporting Governor Pierce's efforts to raise a political issue between school patrons and textbook publishers. Mr. Hug, of Salem, betrayed few signs of mental anguish. Mr. Turner, of Dallas, managed to smile after his associates voted against a motion he made at their request in order to help them out of the hole into which he was permitted to walk alone, and Mr. Hampton, of Astoria (who did most of the talking) writhed pitifully under the ordeal of trying to be fair to Superintendent Churchill without sacrificing compliance with "his master's voice" as recognized through Phonograph Miller.

No Pierce appointee is to be envied—unless it is Mrs. Newbury for looking so lovely.

Miss Murdock Soon To Start Law Practice

Young Woman Klamath Soon to Hang Out Shingle

"Christine Murdock, Attorney at Law."

Painters are already preparing the shingle which Miss Christine Murdock, Klamath county girl, will hang out of an office building at Bakersfield, Calif., early next month.

Miss Murdock, whose parents reside near Keno, left this morning for Bakersfield where she will engage in the practice of her profession. She is a graduate of the Stanford university and the Stanford school of law.

She has been visiting with her parents here during the summer months, but has completed her plans for opening her Bakersfield office.

Miss Murdock disclaimed any intention of returning to Klamath Falls to practice law.

"You see, I'm loyal to California," she said.

Her father formerly was an attorney in this city and twenty years ago was postmaster.

TESTS NEARLY OVER

Dr. George D. Bishop, federal tuberculosis inspector, and C. A. Henderson, county agent, are today completing their inspections of Klamath county herds with the tuberculosis test. Thus far but 18 cattle have been found which were afflicted with the disease, and those will be shipped to Portland tomorrow.

Friday Will Be Children's Day At County Fair

On Friday, September 4th, from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. the school children of Klamath county will be given free admission to the county fair. It is reported that the meetings of the Teachers' Institute scheduled for Friday have been so arranged that the major part of the afternoon will be available for the teachers to visit the fair.

Owing to the interest exhibited in judging it will not be possible to judge both dairy and beef cattle the first forenoon of the fair, so it was thought best to postpone judging beef cattle, hogs and sheep until Friday morning, September 4th. Harry L. Lindgren, extension specialist in Livestock from O. A. C., will judge all cattle except dairy stuff, which will be judged by R. G. Fowler, assistant county agent of Jackson county. The new judging ring is under construction and will be a decided adjunct to the efficiency of handling cattle during judging, as heretofore the crowd pressed in too closely and at times fractions and mettlesome calves created havoc or some proud herd sire resented strongly the too close proximity of gaily colored parasols and dresses.

Dixon to Exhibit Many Vegetables

Percy Dixon, whose fine vegetable and berry patch has attracted much attention as one goes south under the flame on the Merrill highway, made his entry Friday at the office of the Fair Board. Mr. Dixon's entries show quite a range of the various garden produce that can be grown on a commercial scale in the neighborhood of Klamath Falls. In addition to a commercial sack exhibit of the Netted Gems, Mr. Dixon has entered a 15 lb. regulation display for the regular award, both for Netted Gems and Early Ohio spuds. Everbearing Strawberries and raspberries, early green string beans, wax pole beans, Hubbard squash, pickling and table cucumbers.

At the PINE TREE

On the vaudeville bill tonight is a novelty act featuring Prince Leo, "the pony with the human brain." He is marvelously trained; tells the time of day, the number of persons sitting in any row in the audience and how many are women and how many are men, and counts, subtracts and multiplies at the word of his trainer. His clever work is almost unbelievable.

Frank Juban, in a musical novelty act has a repertoire of snappy dancing numbers. The Three Melody Monarchs present their bits of comedy and harmony in the way you like it. They possess real voices and personality. Tobin and Vinton have a novelty juggling act and their character wooden shoe dancing is especially good. Murray and Park are two clever young entertainers in a lively skit with plenty of fun and good music. It is a well rounded vaudeville bill and guaranteed to be good entertainment.

Corinne Griffith cannot receive too much praise for the superb manner in which she dramatically interprets the role of Lady Helen Haden in "Deceit," which opens tonight at the Pine Tree Theatre.

Never has the little star lent herself to a part more admirably suited to her dramatic ability. It might have been written for her. Her gowns represented the latest fashions of this country and abroad.

Lloyd Hughes, in a not overly sympathetic part in the beginning, proves himself capable of handling a difficult role. Clive Brook, a newcomer to motion pictures from the English stage, performs creditably as Solomon. Other members of the cast include Louise Fazenda, Hedda Hopper, Rockcliffe Fellowes, Lilyan Tashman, Joan Standing, Eddie Lyons and Marlo Crillo.

At The LIBERTY

"A Fight For Honor," the thrilling railroad story which comes to the Liberty Theatre today has enough in it to keep you out of your seat during the whole performance. It deals with the choice that a girl has to make between her sister's honor and the life of her lover who was engineer of the limited as it came thundering on its way to destruction over the blown up bridge.

TO SPRAGUE RIVER
Fred Peterson, county school superintendent, left this morning for Sprague River, where he will inspect the public schools of that district.
