NEW PHYSICIAN COMES TO CITY

Dr. Haberer arrived at Klamath Falls yesterday from St. Louis, Mo., and joined Dr. Dietsche and Dr. Burchard, specializing in different branches of internal medicine such as blood diseases, bacteriology, tropical diseases, etc.

Albert Haberer was born in Baden (South Germany) in 1864. He studied medicine in Strasburg and Wurzburg and in 1896 he obtained the degree of Doctor of Medicine (M. D.) at Wurzburg. He then studied Natural Philosophy in Berlin and Munich and in 1898 the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (Ph. D.) was conferred upon him at Munich.

From 1898 until 1904 he made scientific expeditions in China, Japan and Formosa by order of the Academy of Munich. He undertook deep sea researches in the Sagami Bay near Yokohama and in China for Fossil Mammalia of the Tertiary Period. Over sixty new specimens of this peculiar Fauna were discovered about which appeared great publications by German Scientists, such as Schlosser, Maas, Doflein, Fischer and others.

During the Boxer expedition in the years 1900-1901 he served as scientist and as interpreter for the Japanese language.

From 1904-1906 he studied Tropical diseases in the famous institute of Hamburg, and in 1906-16 served the German government as physician and commissary in Cameroon to fight against sleeping sickness, malaria, hookworm and other diseases peculiar to tropical countries.

In the years of 1910 and 1911 he accompanied Duke Adolph Frederick, of Meckenburg, in an expedition to Central Africa as Scientist. The reports of this expedition: "From the Congo to the Niger and Nile," came out in two volumes.

In 1910 he received the large medal for Arts and Sciences from the Bavarian Academy, Munich.

Dr. Haberer has written the following books:

- On Leprosy in Hawaii.
- The Norma Occipitalis of Man and Ape.
- Skulls and Skeletons from Peking.
- Reports of the expeditions in Cameroon 1906-14.
- On Congo and Cameroon 1911.
