ONLY 84??

If the books in the chief of police's office are to be believed, there are just 84 dogs within the boundaries of Klamath Falls.

For just that number of dogs in Klamath Falls are hearing licenses.

Five hundred would be a closer heck on the dogs within the city limits according to estimates of city patrolmen who patrol the streets daily.

Goldstein Brothers of Portland Win Release

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 1.—It became known here yesterday that Harry and Alva Goldstein, brothers, who were sent to the state penitentiary from Multnomah county for receiving stolen property, were paroled last Thursday after having served their minimum sentences. For months much pressure has been brought upon Governor Pierce to extend executive clemency to the two men, but this was refused until they had completed their minimum sentences. Their maximums were 2 1/2 years. Although they were sentenced March 11, 1920, they did not begin doing time until August, 26, 1924.

Under the terms of the parole the two men must remain within the state and refrain from the violation of any laws. They cannot again engage in the second hand business in which they were engaged in at the time of their alleged offense.

SAUCEDO LOSES FIRST SKIRMISH IN MURDER CASE

Alleged Killer of Florentino Navarro Bound Over to Grand Jury

HEARING THREE DAYS

Preliminary Drag on Because of Necessity of Interpretation

Luz Saucedo, stolid and illiterate Mexican laborer, lost the first skirmish in his fight for freedom yesterday afternoon when Justice of the Peace Ed Kendall bound him over to the grand jury on a charge of second degree murder. Saucedo is accused of having murdered Florentino Navarro, August 14, another Mexican, with whom he was working on a Southern Pacific section gang at Algona.

For three days the hearing dragged on. Every phase of the alleged murder was gone into, almost as conscientiously as if it were a trial in circuit court. The trial was somewhat impeded by the necessity of interpreting all of the testimony to Saucedo, who does not understand a word of English.

Saucedo was returned to jail and will await the meeting of the grand jury in prison.

No particular emotion was displayed by the Mexican when he had been informed of the verdict of Justice of the Peace Kendall. Without a word of comment, he willingly accompanied officers back to the jail where he must await the grand jury.

District Attorney E. L. Elliott and his deputy, W. A. West, handled the case for the state.

Conditions imposed by Mr. Word before he would even consider the appointment are understood to have been satisfactorily arranged at a conference between the governor and Mr. Word, in Portland, yesterday afternoon.

Arrangement of details of his personal business interests are said to be the principal cause of Mr. Word's delay in accepting the wardenship.

Indian Bound Over To Jury By Ed Kendall

Parents Identify Perry Johns as Intruder In Home

"His face is burned into my memory. I could not forget it."

Thus did a prominent woman of Chiloquin identify Perry Johns as the man who is alleged to have attempted a criminal assault upon her six year old daughter.

Johns was given a hearing yesterday afternoon and bound over to the grand jury on a statutory charge. His bond was set at $2000, which he had been unable to furnish up to noon today.

Both the mother and father of the little girl identified the reservation Indian as the man whom they surprised in the room of their small daughter one morning about 5:30 o'clock.

The father had identified Johns before the trial. He was taken up to the jail and picked him out of several score prisoners as the man whom he said he had driven from his home.

According to the testimony elicited from witnesses yesterday afternoon in juvenile court, a man who is thought to have been Johns entered the rear door of a home in Chiloquin, and made his way to where the two children of the house, a two-year-old boy and a six-year-old girl were sleeping.

The mother awoke. Noise of the intruder had disturbed her slumbers, and apparently thinking that the children were up, she stole quietly to their room.

Peeking through the door, she was horrified to see a man, an Indian, on the bed of her daughter. She called her husband and the intruder was driven from their home.

The hearing was held before Justice of the Peace Ed. Kendall.

COMIC OPERA IS SPEEDING UP AS EVENT NEARS

Few Changes Made Since Publishing of Very First Announcement

There have been a few changes in the cast of "The Pirates of Penzance" from the first published announcement. Chris Barnstable will play the Sergeant of Police and Mrs. Hazelrigg will play the character part of "Ruth." Mrs. Hazelrigg, professionally known as Nellie Andrews, was one of the best known American Prima Donnas, heading her own company for many years and also with many of the big New York successes. There were several names in the ensemble inadvertently omitted. Miss Pauline Chitt, W. C. Van Emon and Kenneth Maier.

Sunday night, Director Hazelrigg had his orchestra together for the first time and said after the rehearsal that he "had the surprise of his young life" as he was not prepared for such a good bunch.

Last night was a general rehearsal and the days of strenuous rehearsals and study are bringing results. The whole show is "speeding up" and tonight and Wednesday will be devoted to "ironing out the wrinkles" in professional parlance. The seat sale at Southwells is going over big and every member of the Kiwanis club is happy.

Charles Moore Sustains Fractured Skull in Crash at Roseburg

WAITRESSES INJURED

Speeding Driver Fails to see Barricade and Crashes Into Curb

ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 1.—Charles Moore, aged 24, whose home is believed to be near Medford, was killed and Marie Mead and Floy Swisher, local waitresses, were injured early this morning in an auto accident at the intersection of Mosher street with the Pacific highway in this city. Moore sustained a fractured skull when the car turned over, and died two hours after being injured. The girls were not seriously hurt.

The two waitresses, according to the information which they gave the police, went to Medford yesterday to visit a sister of Miss Swisher's. They started back late last night and at 1:30 this morning reached this city. Highway Blocked

The Pacific highway was barricaded for one block, while a ditch was being dug across to supply water to the new hotel being built at the intersection with Lane street and Moore apparently failed to see the detour until almost upon it.

According to Frank Stone, a transient hiker, the only witness, the car was traveling at a high rate of speed. When Moore tried to turn into Mosher street he was unable to make the swing and the car struck the curb and rolled over, fighting itself on a lawn, 35 feet from the curb.

Head Crushed

Moore's head was crushed and he never regained consciousness, death occurring at Mercy hospital at 4 a. m. The two girls were cut and bruised, but had no serious injuries.

According to the waitresses, Moore is supposed to have a ranch a short distance from Medford and is said to be quite well to do. Officers found $200 in currency when they searched him for marks of identification. The girls said they became acquainted with him while they were employed in Medford restaurants.

An investigation is being made of the case and an effort is being made to locate Moore's relatives, who are believed to reside in Virginia. An inquest will probably be held tonight.

Naval headquarters announced that PB-1 probably would begin her flight for Hawaii from the waters of the Golden Gate off Crissy field, instead of from San Pablo Bay, from which the other planes departed.

Chamber Will Stage Crater Celebration

Celebration Will Be Held At Rim Sept. 20

Dedication of a bronze plate to the memory of John W. Hillman, who discovered Crater Lake, June 12, 1853, will be undertaken by the Klamath chamber of commerce, it was announced this noon at the chamber of commerce board of directors meeting.

September 20 has been set as the date at which the bronze plate, with a suitable inscription, will be cemented into the rock over which Hillman looked when his eyes first viewed the wondrous beauty of the northwest, located in northern Klamath.

It is the intention to have a committee from the chamber of commerce journey to the lake on the dedication day and conduct ceremonies fitting to the occasion.

Opportunity to secure the credit for installing the bronze plate was due to Will G. Steel, Crater Lake park commissioner, who called it to the attention of a member of the board of directors yesterday.
