MORE LAW DEFIANCE

Pending before the city council is an ordinance that has for its purpose the vacating of certain streets in the vicinity of the city hall. The object of the vacation is to turn the property over to the Big Lakes Box company and the Klamath Falls Heating company. Opposed to the move are many of the residents in the neighborhood.

The sentiment of the council is for closing the streets. This is not surprising, for ever since the present council took office it has pursued a policy of open defiance of law in favoring the closing of these streets it is just running true to form.

Under the law the city council has not power to close these streets. It is immaterial that the city charter has a provision under which the council may claim authority to act. The state law says that the council cannot do what it is planning on doing. So, also, does the state constitution. But, as a more or less noted congressman once remarked, "what is a little thing like the constitution between friends," and this seems to be a deal between friends—a deal whereby city streets are to be closed and turned over to private interests.

Fortunately for the people there is a man occupying the office of mayor who has shown that he is watchful of the people's interests. He has prevented more than one grab, and it is not unlikely that he will prevent this latest one. When Mayor Goddard learns that the council has exceeded its authority, that it is surrendering public property for private use and benefit, it is not likely that he will approve such an ordinance.

KILL IT

The city council should not hesitate to kill the resolution which the mayor has vetoed, granting to the Strahorn line the right to cross Sixth street. It should be the policy of the city council to grant no such right to any railroad unless coupled with it is the common user provision. The people of Klamath Falls are overwhelmingly opposed to any railroad bottling up this city, and it comes with very poor grace on the part of Mr. Strahorn to ask for the sixth street crossing franchise without the common user condition, when the very thing that made his road possible was the belief on the part of the people that it would furnish common user advantages for any railroad that might desire to enter this city.

If the council adopts the crossing resolution it will mean that each member will face a recall.

Ford

"It Certainly Is a Smart-looking Car"

That's what everyone has to say who has seen the Latest Ford cars.

That such attractive motor cars could be offered without the slightest increase in prices, seemed incredible to a public long familiar with Ford values.

Yet enthusiasm for the smart new appearance can never supersede the fact that it is the quality of materials and workmanship that has made the Ford the world's leading automobile value. New beauty has not crowded out traditional Ford reliability.

The very volume of Ford output demands absolute accuracy of every working part. The steady flow of production is dependent upon parts fitting together perfectly; inaccuracies would interrupt and delay assembly. And to this precision must be largely credited the uniformly fine performance and freedom from trouble of all Ford cars.

Closed cars now shown in color are unusually pleasing; new and finer upholstery gives an artistic harmony to the cars. Bright nickeled radiators feature the closed cars and nickeled headlamp rims are on all types. The fenders are larger and longer, and the running boards are wider.

Comfort is increased by the cars' lower center of gravity, by the low, deep, wide seats, by the added foot room, and by many other refinements that contribute to your ease, convenience and safety.

Here is the ideal car for a woman's personal use—good-looking, trustworthy, easy to handle and inexpensive to maintain. Here, too, is a practical car for any family—that every member of the family can enjoy.

We Apologize

For not being able to serve all our friends and patrons who responded so well on the opening days of our sale of the grocery stock purchased from the sheriff. Notwithstanding that he had 15 clerks to serve you we were unable to serve you all. We want to call your attention to the fact that Thursday is the last selling day. In the confusion, many of the items you asked for were reported out of stock, but we find that we have lots of everything—plenty of eastern corn—plenty of tomatoes—all at prices that will surprise you.
