WHAT OTHERS ARE DOING

PIONEER PASSES

Funeral services for George R. Gibson, 69, pioneer of Wallowa and Union counties, who died Thursday afternoon in a hospital here, will be held at La Grande tomorrow at 2 p. m.

Mr. Gibson leaves to mourn his loss, his widow and the following sons and daughters: G. W. Gibson, Mrs. H.H. Bayless, Hazel Gibson, of La Grande; Mrs. Hugh Riley of Enterprise, and C. S. Gibson of Tacoma, Wash., besides a host of friends.—Baker Democrat.

EUGENE MAN HONORED

George E. Love, drum major and captain of the American Legion drum band bugle corps and head of the state aeronautics committee of the American Legion, has been asked by Harold J. Warner of Pendleton to be a member of a reception committee to welcome more than 50 fliers to the roundup there next Thursday. The aviators from Vancouver, Wash., will fly in mass formation to the eastern Oregon city.

Legion officials of Pendleton and officials of the roundup will comprise the committee on which Mr. Love has been asked to serve. The committee will welcome the fliers to the city and will entertain them while there. If Mr. Love decides to go he will probably fly east with one of the planes.—Eugene Register.

HUMAN SKULL FOUND

A human skull and a pair of overalls have been unearthed by workmen on the McKenzie pass, highway in the vicinity of Lost Lake. It has been reported to W. W.

Branstetter by District Ranger Smith L. Taylor, stationed at McKenzie bridge in the Cascade national forest, giving evidence of a possible murder.

The appearance of the find seemed to show that it has not been buried more than a year, according to word received by the coroner. Further investigation of the spot by the district ranger has failed to bring forth any light on the matter.—Eugene Guard.

WIFE NEEDED BEER

Too much devotion to his wife caused Louis Skjersaa to pay a fine of $150 in Acting Recorder R. H. Fox's court today.

A local physician prescribed beer as a cure for an ailment from which Mrs. Skjersaa was suffering shortly after the birth of a child.

Skjersaa, in the enthusiasm of his husbandly affection, made a considerable quantity of beer—just how much at one time is not known but when Chief of Police Peter J. Hanson raided the Skjersaa home last night, he found 500 bottles of it there.

Mayor Fox, hearing Skjersaa's story and its corroboration by the physician, decided there was some justification for his possession of beer, but not for having so great a quantity, fined Skjersaa $150.

"I dreamed that you cleaned out our cellar," Mrs. Skjersaa confided to the police while they were carrying the beer from its hiding place.

The police were "cleaning out" the cellar, for in addition to the 500 bottles of home brew, they took away several boxes of empty bottles, two empty malt barrels and one that still contained a quantity of malt.—Bend Bulletin.

S. P. SEEKS SUPPORT

The Southern Pacific request for support in its program of development in Oregon and for the exclusion of the Oregon Trunk extension will be decided at a meeting of the Marshfield and North Bend chamber of commerce at a dinner at the hotel North Bend next Thursday evening at 6:30. The public is invited to this dinner.

Just what action will be taken by Coos Bay is not known. Many favor the support of the S. P. program, while others favor the policy of hands off. The question will be open for discussion at the meeting.—Coos Bay Times.

TOO MUCH RADIO

Declaring that her husband spends most of his time and a great amount of his money experimenting on a radio set, Laura Lawrence Douglas has filed suit in the circuit court here for a divorce from Harlow Meserve Douglas. They were married in Portland in November, 1921, and have one small child.

"Instead of devoting himself to some gainful occupation in order to secure funds from which to support his family," the complaint reads, "he spent his time and such funds as he had, largely in experimenting with radio."

Other charges are also mentioned in the complaint, and a general allegation of cruel and inhuman treatment is made.

Mrs. Douglas asks the custody of the child and $25 a month for its support.—Salem Statesman.

In search of a slogan for the 1926 American Legion convention on Coos Bay, members of the convention committee have sent out a call for help from Legion and Auxiliary members and have offered a prize of $5 for the best six word slogan submitted.

Only a few have been received to date, according to Mair A. Dano, a member of the committee. Some of these follow: "See the Sea, Coos Bay 1926." "Coos Bay, hard to leave." "You've seen service—See Coos Bay." "72 hours of fun for buddies." "Bust away and bust Coos Bay."—Marshfield News.

MAY BE CANDIDATE

McMinnville may have an entry in the gubernatorial nominations, says the McMinnville Telephone Register.

W. T. Vinton has announced that he is considering "slightly" entering the lists. Friends are said to have urged him to enter but as yet he has not reached a decision.

A number of candidates are being groomed for the race but definite entries are scarce as yet.

Mr. Vinton with his associate Mr. Tooze, were both in Tillamook this week but Mrs. Vinton confirmed hearsay as to Mr. Vinton's candidacy but said he had made no decision.

Followers of Mr. Vinton point to his long residence in the state and his presidency of the Oregon senate as fitting preparation for the most important office in the state. Salem Capital Journal.

The men were taken to the hospital suffering from bruises, but otherwise unhurt. The driver of the car made no report of the accident at the police station and as yet his name is unknown. Injured to Dr. R. J. Conroy. The injured men

DEER HUNTERS FINED

George Holtsclaw was fined $150 and S. S. Smith was fined $100 in the local justice court today, following their plea of guilty to a charge of spotlighting deer. Both boys are from Glendale, but Smith, who is a member of the U. of O. football team, was supposed to report in Eugene today, but is being held until the amount of his fine is paid.

The two were arrested by Special Deputy F. M. Brown of the Portland office of the game department, Deputy Warden W. A. Cornell, also of Portland, and Deputy Warden Ed Walker of Roseburg.

The two men, accompanied by two Glendale girls, were seen by a resident of the canyon district shooting from the road near the Savage ranch. The wardens were notified and were given the number of the automobile, so that they easily succeeded in tracing the party.—Roseburg News-Review.
