Malin Farmers Not Interested in Mass Meeting

(Special to The Herald) MALIN, Sept. 28.—W. C. Dalton, assisted by Frank McArthur, of Alturas, and two other men, are making a final house to house canvass of the Malin community in a last effort to get the residents to oppose the entry of the northern lines into this territory.

Sunday night burglars visited the residence of Franks G. Myers and ransacked the house. Mr. Myers lost a diamond stick pin valued at $110. All this means nothing to Darrell. In a small tin box-like affair Darrell had placed two bracelets and a package of letters from a girl friend now in Kansas. The bracelets were found but the letters are gone.

WINTER BOUQUETS

By Jane Suedicor This is the ideal season of the year for gathering materials for the winter bouquets, for why allow the vases to stand empty all winter when a single trip into the country will furnish a wealth of materials which add so much to the beauty of any room?

PT. ORCHARD SOLD

One of the largest recent individual real estate transactions in the county was completed early this week when Robert Hunstock of Los Angeles, Cal. purchased the Butte Creek orchards a short distance above Eagle Point from S. J. Greenwood at a price reported to be $125,000.

CAVEMEN PLAN STUNT The Cavemen will provide an entertainment stunt at the banquet of the Oregon Irrigation Congress on October 6. A committee is now working on a plan for a feature that will help the delegates remember Grants Pass. Cavemen will be out in uniform that night, all members of the organization belonging to the irrigation congress.

It was also decided that the Cavemen do all in their power to forward the meeting of the Rivers and Harbors committee at Crescent City on October 7 and 8. This, it was explained by H. R. Saltmarsh, of Crescent City, is an important event, as it will undoubtedly tell whether the harbor is built at Crescent City by the government or if they forget it entirely. Over a dozen Cavemen last night signified their intention of making the trip.—Grants Pass Courier.

BOOST C. A. HOWARD Superintendent of Marshfield schools and candidate for nomination as state superintendent of schools to fill the unexpired term of State Superintendent Churchill when he resigns is being urged by Howard's friends in this and other sections of the state.

The North Bend chamber of commerce took formal action yesterday, instructing the secretary, J. E. Snyder to write Governor Pierce a letter recommending Howard.

Howard said today that he could not say whether he would accept an appointment but that probably he would. — Marshfield News.

Mr. Hunstock will not live on the place, leaving it in charge of a foreman. Before he left today for Los Angeles he arranged for the orchard and buildings to be put in first-class condition. The deal was made through local and Los Angeles real estate companies. — Medford Tribune.
