George C. Jewett, president of the Federal Land Bank of Spokane, Wash., will arrive in Klamath Falls next Frulay to spend several days surveying the Klamath territory, according to word received here by Mrs. L. B. Hague, secretary and treasurer of the Klamath Falls Naional Farm Loan Association.

He will be welcomed at a banquet in Malin Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock and will address the following day he will meet with officials of the chamber of commerce to discuss prevailing farm prob-lems. While here Mr. Jewett will discuss with farmers and business men the significance of federal farm

For about eight years the farm-Malin people on that occasion. The ers of Klamath county have been slowly availing themselves of the benefits of the Federal Farm Loan Act, and the loans made to farmers here during that period are considerably in excess of half a million dollars.

It speaks well for the thrift and loyalty of the members of the Klamath Falls National Farm Loan Association, when it is said that over 100 members have become responsible for over 100 loans, and during the eight years since its existence not one dollar has been assessed against any one, and not one farmer has failed to meet his amortiza-tion payment with a reasonable degree of promptness.

"We are having a little trouble now with delinquent taxes" says Mrs. L. B. Hague, secretary-treasurer of the association, "but the indications are that as soon as this season's crop is disposed of, every one of our members will be in position to say 'my loan is in good condition; no one will be called on to help me."

plan of these loans is such that it does not compete with local banks. In fact it is now conceded to be a vast help. It relieves us from 'frozen assets,' 'said one bank-er yesterday, ''and gives us more money to loan on short terms."

"The Federal Land Bank has been very considerate and generous in their treatment of our members. and I am sure the members only want an opportunity to show their appreciation. We have never before had an opportunity to meet with the officials of the bank.

"Personally I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Jewett twice, once at big in sympathy, broad in outlook, wholehearted service with all due regard for the interest of the investing public who furnish the mony for the loans to farmers. Mr. A. W. Cauthorn has been in agricultural work for many years, and in his work as director is striving to advance the cause of the farmer in every direction."
