montag means healthful economical heat!

Safety,
—economy,
—dependability,
—in-built features of every Montag Furnace.

AN abundance of warm, moist, healthful air—evenly distributed to every part of the home—that's "safe heat"—the Montag way.

No "hot spots" or "frigid zones"—no shivering and no suffocating—just the balminess of spring in every room on the coldest days.

Stuffiness—poor ventilation—are unknown in a Montag heated home because Montag is more than a furnace—it is a heating and ventilating SYSTEM.

Over forty years' study of climatic, fuel, and construction conditions, in this section—and building heating systems to meet them—are the foundation of Montag's success in providing safe heat for your home.

The years have taught Montag that—building a good heating plant isn't sufficient—it must be correctly installed—scientifically engineered into your home—by men who are thoroughly familiar with local conditions.

That's why our installation requirements are so rigid—why we must have ample time to study your home and plan every detail of your Montag installation.

Buy Now! Order your Montag TODAY. Waiting—putting it off—won't help either of us. You want safe heat and plenty of it. You want economy and simplicity of operation. We want to give you these things—and more. We want to do the job RIGHT—and we want a little time to do it in. Place your order with us today—arrange for payments later.

Klamath Leads State In Booze Raids For Aug.

More Arrests Effected Here Than in Multnomah County

A doubtful victory was scored by Klamath today, a victory which indicates this county as the worst for liquor traffic in the state of Oregon.

Announcement was mads from the district attorney's office that more arrests and convictions on liquor violations were secured in Klamath county by state prohibition forces during August than in any other county in the state, including Multnomah county.

The cold and indisputable figures as reported to District Attorney Elliott by the state prohibition department are as follows: Arrests in Klamath, 24; convictions, 23; fines assessed $3261.50; fines paid, $2,651.50; number of days liquor violators served in jail, 140.

Multnomah county, the most populous in the state, comes next, the prohibition report shows, with 17 arrests and 12 convictions. Compared to Klamath, neighboring counties are pure and unsullied. Jackson county shows 11 arrests, five convictions, and $800 in fines, during August. In Deschutes county, seven were arrested, one convicted and $250 in fines paid. Not one arrest for violating the liquor law made in either Crook county or Josephine county. Lake county shows one arrest, one conviction and one fine of $100 during August.

They hand out stiff jolts in Lane county, the report discloses. Twelve were arrested during August on liquor violations, six were convicted and were assessed fines aggregating $3335 and sent to jail for 1010 days.

Hunters Have Good Luck Opening Day

Crack! Pop! Bang! Bang!

Farmers living near haunts of ducks and geese awoke this morning about 3 a. m., some believing an invading army had appeared and others that Fourth of July had come to life again too soon. Both suppositions were wrong. Scores of hunters greeted the dawn this morning and plugged away at the morning flight of game birds.

Some had success. Others did not. Among those who did return with heavy bags, "Sully" Sullivan, John Stewart, Clay Howard, four hankers and a large bag of ducks shot near Miller Hill school house; Dr. E. D. Lamb a nice bag of ducks and geese brought down in the Tule lake country; R. B. Amicke and George Fife, limit of ducks at Tule lake.

Hunters reported that an unusually large number of game birds are in Klamath, considering the early season.
