California will plunge into the coast conference race with a game against Oregon. The teams meet at Portland. BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 24.—The Schneider Cup race at Bay Shore Park, postponed today because of bad weather, will take place Monday, weather permitting, instead of tomorrow as first announced.

Hostile Advance Denied by Greece

ATHENS, Oct. 24. (AP)—The Athens agency maintains that the continued advance of Greek troops on the Bulgarian frontier is destined merely to relieve a post at Demir-Kapu, which the Bulgarians still are attacking in order to prevent the Greeks from re-occupying it.

The agency insists that the commander of third Greek corps has been forbidden to billet troops or civilians in Bulgaria, but that the Bulgarians are continuing hostilities.

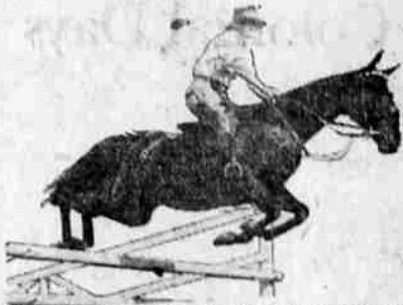

The agency also denies that the town of Petrich was deliberately bombed by the Greeks and maintains that only a few shells were fired, these being directed against the railway station to prevent the embarkation of two companies of Bulgarian reinforcements from Dubnitzan.

America's Greatest Horse Show

MRS. ROGER PEIRCE OF HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA, ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S MOST NOTED RIDERS, AND HER HUNTER, "JOHN PELL"

The Pacific International Horse Show, Portland, Oct. 31st to Nov. 7th, again takes the front of the stage in 1925 with the largest offering of premium money in America.

$28,000 for the 85 classes to be shown of which $19,000 is in stakes—seven of $2,000 and five of $1,000—make this a phenomenal prize list. The stake events are: Olympic Hotel, Seattle, $2,000, for five-gaited horses; Seattle Horse Show Association, $2,000, to be shown in two divisions as follows: $1,000, five-gaited mares and geldings; Northwestern National Bank, $2,000, for roadsters; Portland Chamber of Commerce, $2,000, for heavy harness ponies; Sovereign Hotel, $2,000, hunters and jumpers; Portland Hotel, $2,000, heavy harness horses; Maitmoad Hotel, $2,000, three-gaited horses; W. F. Turner, $1,000, junior five-gaited horses; Henry Thiele, $1,000, Shetland ponies; Olds, Wortman & King, $1,000, polo mounts; Benson

Hotel, $1,000, fine harness horses; and Imperial Hotel, $1,000, steeplechase driving.

The greatest series of horse shows ever known is being held now in California at Stockton, Sacramento, Ventura and Pomona, all former shows being augmented by a flood of newly purchased show horses. According to General Manager O. M. Plummer of the Exposition and Horse Show Manager, A. P. Fleming, a train load of livestock, of which 14 carloads are horses, will come from the east to Portland this fall, as will all the horses now showing in California.

The result of these additions will unquestionably enable the Pacific International to break the size and quality records now being made in the south.

The growth of the horse show feature of the Pacific International is one of the most significant facts of the comeback of the horse.

Tree Planting Campaign Meets With Remarkable Success Here

(By A. M. Leavitt, Chairman of Publicity)

The extent to which public spirited citizens will give of their time and energy, gratis, for the general benefit and improvement of the community in which they live was demonstrated last night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms when heads of the tree planting campaign committees met together to discuss ways and means and for a general review of what has been done up to date.

Any of the committee heads who were inclined to be a bit discouraged were buoyed up and reinspired to work harder by the splendid report turned in by Mrs. H. N. Moe. Every person living in the Third, Washington and Jefferson streets district has been interviewed and his or her remarks and orders catalogued. A relative brief span of years will see these streets lined with Cork Elm, Mountain Ash, Silver Maple and Horse Chestnut trees, thanks to Mrs. Moe's zeal.

Others reported favorably on the work in their districts, but none had reports complete with the exception of this one. There are those who have met with indifference or open hostility, but such cases are few. Many citizens placing orders for the more expensive varieties have asked for a guarantee that the tree will grow and be a healthy specimen.

"This is something," said Jack Kimball, chairman of the evening, which we will be unable to do, principally because the life or death of a tree in nine times out of ten depends upon the care given it during the first year after planting. Furthermore, it should be understood that we are not superhuman beings endowed with psychic power but are simple, honest, well meaning citizens doing our best according to the direction of the majority. The nursery, on the other hand, which is furnishing the young trees and shrubs, offers a guarantee that all trees will be perfect and healthy at the time the purchaser receives them.

The matter of planting was next taken up by the committee and here a decided difference of opinion arose as to the time of year trees should be set out. Advice had been secured from various sources, principally from Elmer L. Applegate, a local horticulturist who has studied plant and tree problems as presented by the weather conditions in Klamath county; and from F. A. Farley, who also concurred with Mr. Applegate's advice.

An opposite school of planting was expounded by a nursery man from Woodburn who has had a great deal of experience planting trees and shrubs in and about Portland. It is Mr. Applegate's contention that in most instances trees should be ordered in the fall and heeled in until the ground thaws out in the spring and then planted. Mr. Farley also feels that that method is best for Klamath county.

On the other hand he thinks those buying trees cannot be too strongly advised to plant this fall as he feels that there will be less danger to the tree planted separately from the ravages of a cold frosty winter.

The committee from the Woman's Library club and the men's committee from the chamber of commerce and luncheon clubs went on record as preferring to leave the matter of planting up to the purchaser of the trees.

Those wishing to plant this fall are advised to do so and those who believe in the spring planting are likewise to be encouraged. Anyone wishing to talk the matter over with Mr. Farley, who has agreed to plant the trees, may find him any morning at the chamber of commerce rooms from nine until one o'clock. He is spending his mornings there for the convenience of people who wish to inspect colored cuts and drawings of trees and shrubs before placing orders.

It is estimated that more than two hundred orders have been placed and paid for up to date.

A memorial arch, to be dedicated by Dr. H. D. L. Stewart, will be erected by the Rotary club at some future date to the memory of World War Veterans, Spanish-American War Veterans and members of the G. A. R. who have died in Klamath county. This was decided yesterday at a committee meeting of the club in connection with their share of the tree planting campaign.

Besides the arch there will be a tree planted in the Linkville cemetery for each dead hero, thus augmenting the number of trees by 40. The kind of tree or the exact location to be chosen for planting was left until a later date for decision.

NEW SCOUT HEAD STARTS NOV. 1st

Feeling that the joint arrangement with Medford has not proven satisfactory, the local scout committee has terminated the cooperative agreement with that community and has secured the services of Everett O. Nord as scout executive for the Klamath district. Cecil A. Cook, under the former arrangement, had divided his time between the two cities, maintaining an office and headquarters in Medford and spending a part of his time in Klamath Falls. Mr. Nord, after the first of the month will devote his entire time to the furtherance of scouting in Klamath Falls and the surrounding territory.

Active experience as a leader of boys in camp and in the home scouting field for several years, and the completion of a course in scout principles and leadership, have given Mr. Nord a good foundation of preparation for the work which he is now entering. As a volunteer helper in this city he has been a lively booster, and friends of the scout movement are anticipating good things for the boys under the leadership of Mr. Nord.

Space in the chamber of commerce offices has been granted for the use of the executive and will be used by Mr. Nord when he is not out exchanging some idea for the good of the boys.

Richard H. Hovey Acquires Another Small Pine Tract

One more small timber tract was acquired yesterday afternoon by Richard H. Hovey, prominent California timber man who has been active in buying up small tracts of timber in Klamath county for the past two years. From C. D. Willson, Hovey bought a small 160 acre tract in the eastern part of the county, for $1500.

At The LIBERTY

Tom Mix and Zane Grey! The screen's most picturesque western star and narrator of western life again combine in motion pictures.

The dynamic Tom Mix has already portrayed two fisted characters of Zane Grey's in "The Last of the Duranes" and "Riders of the Purple Sage." Now comes "The Rainbow Trail," which opens on Sunday at the Liberty theater.

Tom once more comes to the fore with a vivid interpretation of the historic frontier westerner, adding to the fictional qualifications of the story the daring and fearlessness for which he has long been noted.

At the PINE TREE

An ocean liner actually blown to atoms, a live leopard escaping from his cage aboard the ship and driving panic stricken passengers from the lifeboats, a fight between Lloyd Hughes and the leopard—these are some of the spectacular thrills that will be shown on the screen at the Pine Tree theater when "The Half Way Girl" is shown there next Sunday and Monday.

Doris Kenyon and Hughes are featured in this picture with a supporting cast that includes Hobart Bosworth, Tully Marshall, Sam Hardy and others.

Earl Hudson, who produced "The Lost World," supervised the making of "The Half Way Girl" and he has attempted to produce the greatest picture of its kind in the history of filmdom.
