Harry Hartz Buys All-Steel Coupe

Prominent speedway pilots whose daring and skillful driving thrills thousands of automobile race fans at the important speedway races are fully aware of the risk and danger to which the sport constantly subjects them. These men, contrary to popular belief are almost invariably careful, thoughtful, considerate drivers in the city and on the highway.

"It is only natural that a driver whose safety and life depends upon the car which he drives several hundred miles at a speed above two miles a minute," says H. S. Wakefield, of Wakefield Motor Co., local Dodge Brothers dealers, should devote much attention to the mechanical condition of his mount. Back of that he is interested in the ability of the axles, steering knuckles, steering connections and other vital parts to endure the severe strains set up by the terrific speeds. "When a driver buys a car for his own use or that of his family he is, of course, interested in the strength and endurance of the chassis and in the safety of the body. "Harry Hartz, who finished second in a Miller eight cylinder car in the 250 mile Labor Day race, on the board oval at Altoona, Pennsylvania, bought a Dodge Brothers Special Business Coupe the day before the big event. When he drove this attractive new car to the track his friends began to ask him where he got it, why he bought it and what he was going to do with it after the race. Hartz explained, "I intend to drive it instead of taking the train to the rest of the speedway races here in the east and then to drive back to California." When asked why he bought the car he replied, "Because there is no doubt as to its absolute dependability—the all-steel body is safer than any wood framed body—and it has all the power and more speed than I need on the highway."

"That Hartz knows motors and motor performance and knows the importance of alloy steel in making a car safe is assured."

At the PINE TREE

"Confessions of a Queen," which comes to the Pine Tree theatre today was made by Victor Seastrom, who together with Agnes Christine Johnson adapted it to the screen from "King's in Exile," Alphonse Daudet's famous story.

"Confessions of a Queen" is a powerful story of love and intrigue. In tempo and theme it is unlike Seastrom's two preceding productions, "Name the Man" and "He Who Gets Slapped."

At The LIBERTY

"Gerald Cranston's Lady," is the intriguing title of the production which opens at the Liberty Theatre today. Even more intriguing than the title perhaps is the cast which shows two such distinguished names as Alma Rubens and James Kirkwood at the top.

The picture is a society drama, based on the novel from the pen of Gilbert Frankau, and is directed by Emmett Flynn.

"everlastingly fine performance!"

"Of the thousands of cars that drive these roads every year, the Willys-Knight is the only one that I have never seen with mechanical troubles" - statement of racer in one of the best known National parks in the West.

"The Willys-Knight is the finest automobile built regardless of price or size. It is a wonder in me that everybody who can afford the price is not driving one" - statement of a mechanic in one of the largest automobile repair shops in the West.

The above two significant quotations from men who know by closest observation tell the complete story of Willys-Knight, a motor car of superb power, wonderful riding ease, an extraordinary stamina. It tells the story of Willys-Knight favor among owners who never change back to other makes of cars.

Striking ability
In every test made upon the power plant by the hardest driving conditions, the Willys-Knight delivers 100% perfect performance. Silently, smoothly, and economically, it conquers mountain grades, long stretches of roads that are barely trails or keeps its place at the head of the procession on the high-ways.
In the first few thousand miles, or at 50,000 miles, or 100,000 miles, it delivers the same high standard of motor efficiency.
Where other engines lose in power and performance and cost more to run as their mileage grows, the engine of the Willys-Knight actually improves with use.
Tappet noises, valve adjustments, carbon troubles, loss of power through pitted valve seats, necessity for valve grinding are unknown in the Willys-Knight.
The patented Willys-Knight motor improves through the presence of carbon which deteriorates and kills the performance of other motors.

Used car values tell the story
Look through the list of used cars offered for sale—see the price of a used Willys-Knight as compared with the price of other cars in the same general classification—you will find a steady demand for Willys-Knight used cars at prices very much above other makes which originally sold in the same price scale.
Experienced automobile owners know that the Willys-Knight improves where other cars wear out, and that even with astounding mileage built up on the speedometer, the power plant is always good, always ready to deliver full measure of its rated ability.
Willys-Knight is as beautiful in appearance as it is in performance. In outline it is graceful and distinctive—in appointments it is rich and complete.
In any company it stands out as a car of rare grace and refinement. See this motor car. Familiarize yourself with its performance record. Especially consider the prices at which it is available now.

What is the Price of the Packard Six?

ASK five men the lowest price at which a Packard Six closed car may be bought and all but one will say four or five thousand dollars.
ASK
THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE
And, quite naturally, for it is hard to associate the beauty and distinction of a Packard with anything other than highest price.
Yet, these men, and women too, are wrong. To them Packard offers in effect a $1500 reduction, for the price of the Packard Six five passenger sedan is but $2585 at Detroit including all necessary accessories.
Furthermore, Packard cars may be bought on a payment plan—both down and monthly payments being small.
