ARMISTICE DAY

Fires of patriotism will be rekindled tomorrow when the American people join in commemorating the anniversary of that fated hour when the guns of the warring nations were stilled and peace once again settled down upon war-torn Europe.

It was seven years ago tomorrow, at the hour of 11 o'clock in the morning, that the armistice became effective. It was the pact which released millions of men and returned them to peaceful and gainful occupations.

A surge of thankfulness and happiness swept over America when news was flashed across the sea that the war was over. The people of this country joined in a celebration never before equalled.

Armistice Day has become an American institution. Just as it was on that November 11, 1918, so it is today—a day of mingled revelry and memories. And it is just such a day as has been planned for Klamath Falls. The program of the American Legion post calls for both joy and solemn reflection. It is a day dear to the hearts of America's ex-service men. As they wish it, so should it be observed.

THE CHRISTMAS CHEST

Strong support should again be accorded the Christmas Chest campaign which will get under way tonight with the appointment of the several committees to carry on his relief and charitable work during the Christmas holidays.

A Christmas Chest, with all agencies of the city working in close cooperation, will avoid unnecessary duplication and will give assurance that all of the city's deserving poor will be remembered on Christmas Day.

The movement as initiated last year, proved to be both sensible and practical, and it is to be hoped that the Christmas Chest this year will meet with the same success.

PIONEER PASSES

Albert T. Frame, pioneer resident of Bend, died suddenly this morning of heart failure. Besides his widow he is survived by a daughter residing in the east and a sister in Iowa. Funeral arrangements will not be made until word is received from the relatives in the east.

Mr. Frame, who has been janitor in the Bend Clinic building, went to the furnace room to build the fire as usual this morning and after he had been gone a long time and smelling no smoke coming from the chimney at the clinic, Mrs. Frame went over to the building and looked for him. The doors of the furnace were open but she did not see her husband. Several trips were made to the furnace room before the body was located inasmuch as he had evidently stepped back to get some kindling wood, falling while doing so.

Mr. Frame was a well-known pioneer of the Bend country and was for several years a rancher on the high desert, moving later to Bend, where he made his home since. He was 65 years old.—Bend Press.

Little is known of his life. He was a very reserved man and had

NEW ROUTE TO LAKE

Col. C. G. Thompson, superintendent of Crater Lake National Park, left Tuesday morning for the lake on business connected with road construction within the park boundaries.

Col. Thompson, announced prior to his departure that a new route had been discovered which will afford a grade of not to exceed six and a half per cent from the west entrance to the rim of the lake. There appears little doubt as to the feasibility of the proposed new route, but a landscape engineer has been called out to prove the route, and if his report confirms the preliminary survey a vast improvement will result in the road to the lake rim from the west entrance.—Medford News.

MAY BE VALUABLE

Live oak may become a valuable resource of Siskiyou, if a preliminary survey under way gives its sponsors sufficient encouragement. Millions of feet of the sturdy oak are growing in Siskiyou and much of it is accessible to easy transportation. Heretofore, it has been used occasionally by ranchers for fence posts, but to develop it into a high grade flooring type of lumber has never been attempted.

Preliminary tests with the wood show that it is finer grained than the white and red oak of commercial value; that it will not check as readily as the other oaks and that it takes an excellent polish.

Fred Talbot of the Cherry creek region interested Yraka men in the wood and a survey of utilizing the wood is being conducted here.—Siskiyou.

NASH ANNOUNCES NEW LOW PRICE

The Nash Motors company has announced price reduction ranging up to $200.00 on the Advanced Six and Special Six lines. The new low prices are effective November 1st. No change has been made in the Nash models themselves, and the character and quality of the cars remain exactly as before. This sweeping Nash cut in prices is, in effect, a double reduction according to E. H. McCarty, general sales manager of the Nash Motors company. "When the new Nash models were nationally introduced July 23, says Mr. McCarty, "they presented new and original body designs, far reaching improvements in construction and many refinements in engineering and equipment all of which entailed large increases in manufacturing cost. If Nash sales and production had not been smashing all records for volume at that time, we would certainly have been compelled to increase prices materially. But Nash prices were held at the same figure and the response on the part of the public to this offering of greater value and greater quality was instantaneous and country wide. In the three months' period since national Nash inaugural day, July 23, when these new cars were first placed on display, sales have more than equaled one-half the sales for the entire year of 1924, which was a banner year for Nash. So that it is now possible for us to make these sweeping reductions on the Advanced Six and Special Six lines and thus pass on the savings benefits.

New Willys-Knight Model Coming Soon

Continuing its policy of bringing out new models only as demand by automobile purchasers, Willys-Overland now announced production of a new seven passenger Willys-Knight Six.

Ever since the Willys-Knight Six was first introduced last spring there has been noted a constant demand on the part of new car owners for a seven-passenger car to round out a complete line of this model. In producing the new Willys-Knight Six for seven passengers, Willys-Overland has made several important changes in construction and equipment which add to the beauty of the car as well as to the comfort of its occupants.

Because of the success of the Willys-Knight Six engines no changes have been made in it, while the chassis remains unchanged with the exception of an increase in rear spring strength to care for additional passengers.

Conspicuous among changes in the new seven-passenger Willys-Knight Six is the mounting of the spare rim on the left hand side of the body forward of the left front door, adding considerably to the long sweeping lines of the car and presenting a completely filled out body at the rear.

Star Coach Gets Much High Praise

The new Star Standard Coach which was recently introduced to the public at a new low price continues to attract many, according to H. E. Hauger, local Buick and Star dealer.

"This model has many features which are very appealing to those who appreciate real value," continued Mr. Hauger. "The power is without comparison just as in other Star models which makes it more than ever one of the world's greatest values.

"Low cost buyers have made the coach popular and it has been a problem to keep enough of these cars on hand to fill the many orders that are now being received by us.

"With the coming of winter and the first showers, coach sales will be on a steady increase. Reports from the factory show that they visualized the demand for the coach and made preparations for greater volume production."
