

Heart Trouble

Is only one of the many ailments in which the science of CHIROPRACTIC excels in correcting.

This is due to the fact that the cause is eliminated by the application of scientific corrective principles applied to the specific spot that is troubled. No guessing, no time lost, your condition is bettered by the first adjustment and it continues to improve with marvelous rapidity.

DEAD IN BLAZE

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 11. —(P)—Joseph Distesano and his four children lost their lives in a fire which destroyed a six family dwelling early today. The mother escaped by jumping from a third story window.

Her youngest child, in her arms, was killed. The origin of the fire is not known.

RESIGNATION OF DR. G. A. MASSEY IS NOT FAVORED

Chamber Director Desires to Drop Activities Because of Business.

Dr. George A. Massey wants to resign as director of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

But the board doesn't want him to resign and frankly told him so at their luncheon in the chamber of commerce yesterday noon.

"I can't devote the proper time to chamber work because of pressure of my private practice," he said, "and I feel that it would be better for me and the chamber if I resign."

There wasn't a quorum at the luncheon yesterday noon so no action could be taken on Dr. Massey's resignation. But informally the physician was told that his resignation would not be accepted, even if it were pressed at the next meeting. They held that his work for the chamber was too valuable to give up.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH KILLING 15 PHEASANTS

A warrant issued for the arrest of an alleged game hog who it is charged shot 15 China pheasants in one day's shoot, it became known today. He is J. C. Gazely and according to reports is now in Roseburg.

Whether or not the sheriff's office will wire a warrant to Roseburg or await the return of Mr. Gazely to Klamath Falls before serving the warrant was not known.

Gazely, it is claimed, hunted through the Klamath basin country one day and before the day's hunting was through had 15 birds in his possession. It is charged.

Johnnie Trambitas And Starkey Both Have Hosts Of Supporters For Their Bout Wednesday Night

Complete Card of Boxing Announced by Matchmaker Sylvester—Indian Fighters Will Furnish Real Session—Big Crowd Expected

Did Kid Starkey have Johnnie Trambitas going when Trambitas fouled him in the ninth round two weeks ago? Would Starkey have put the Portlander away in the final canto of their torrid encounter? Did Trambitas' terrific body blows have the Klamath carpenter all in toward the end of their bout?

There are just a few of the questions which the ring worms are asking each other, and there's plenty of the boys willing to argue either way. And that is what is going to make their return go pack Scandinavian hall next Wednesday night. There is every indication that a few pennies may change hands on the result of their bout.

Britisher Gives Cherished Stone to New Building

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 11. —(P)—Presenting a stone from the Cathedral of St. Paul, London, to be included in the new building of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri, today, Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, said in part:

"The power of the press is a theme which has so often been discussed that I need not expatiate upon it here but I may say this, that the power of the press in a country like yours is probably greater today than it has ever been."

Having read newspapers in many languages, besides the English and American papers, Sir Esme said he has nowhere found what in his opinion was the perfect newspaper. "I often think that too much is made in the press, of those great twin brothers—Pep and Punch. A little pep is a very good thing, like a taste of mustard on a slice of beefsteak, but if you habitually have your beefsteak covered with mustard, you ruin your digestion."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11. —(P)—Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the Shenandoah commander, will be recalled Monday by the naval court of inquiry investigating the disaster in which her husband was killed, for questioning about statements made yesterday by the defense in the Col. Mitchell court martial.

Starkey is better than many of the local fans give him credit for being. He is always boring in and can take 'em without losing his smile. Any boy who can swap blows with Trambitas and win the popular decision has something in his two arms and fists and can head-line any man's card on the Pacific slope. For Trambitas has fought and beaten some of the best boys in his division up and down the coast.

Jack Crim and Wilbur Harrington both have a host of friends. Harrington is reputed to possess the flashiest right cross ever seen in this neck of the woods, while Crim has a left hook that spells disaster when it connects. It caught Harrington flush on the jaw in their last bout and put the Klamath Indian down for the nine-count.

But Harrington, by his slashing finish, got well earned draw, and both boys took such punishment that it was almost a certainty the bout could not have gone another round. Wednesday night they will be scheduled for six rounds and if they mix it like they did two weeks ago it is almost a certainty that one of them will drop and stay out.

Tommy Murphy and Bobby Allen will cross leather in a four-round bout, and Burke and Fleming will throw gloves at each other in the curtain raiser.

Allen is an old-timer in the squared circle, and is a shifty, heavy fighter with a real wallop. Murphy is reported to be a comer and figures to give Allen all the entertainment he wants.

This boy Fleming is no novice with the gloves and will give Henry Burke, ex-wrestler, a real trial. Burke is as strong as an ox and as tough as "Gyp the Blood." If he gets that right hand of his in working order Mister Fleming will see so many gloves he'll think he's in a glove foundry.

At the PINE TREE

"Remember, boys, that behind the government, and people even, there is the country herself, your country, and that you belong to her as you belong to your own mother. Stand by her, boys, as you would stand by your mother."

The heartfelt appeal to youth forms the underlying motive of the photoplay, "As No Man Has Loved," which comes to the Pine Tree theater today.

"As no man has loved" is based on "The Man Without a Country," the story by Edward Everett Hale which swept the country like a storm in 1863 and which many aver vastly strengthened Lincoln's determination to continue the struggle for national unity. Lieutenant Nolan, a fiery tempered youngster on duty at Fort Massac, Ohio, was lured from his true allegiance by Aaron Burr's charming eloquence. In a fit of temper, he uttered unpatriotic words. On trial by court martial, he cursed the United States and said he never wanted to see nor hear of the United States again.

At The LIBERTY

Gillon Landis, remembered for his character roles in some of the biggest pictures in the past few seasons, has a feature role opposite beautiful Dorothy Revier in the first of the Waldorf releases, "Enemy of Men," which comes to the Liberty Theater tonight.

Landis plays the part of a young doctor of wealth who opens a free clinic in the slums of New York and gives his services free to those poor devils who are too poor to pay or who are down on their luck.

Miss Revier is associated with a swell modiste. Her beauty attracts men of wealth. She loves the doctor, but because of the vicious act of one man who was almost unbelievably cruel to her younger sister, she determines to make all men pay.
