

Bronchitis

The special brand of weather which we are now more or less enjoying makes us especially susceptible to this serious ailment.

Our children should be protected with every means at our command and one of the most efficient safeguards is a series of CHIROPRACTIC adjustments. The science of CHIROPRACTIC will build the system to the point where it will be immune and if you have already contracted it CHIROPRACTIC will throw it off in a very short time.

Avail yourself of the privilege of a free consultation. It may mean the difference between health and ill health.

OSCAR A. SMITH ACQUIRES LOTS ON WALNUT ST.

$13,500 Paid for Two Pieces of Fine Property Near to Business District

One of the choicest pieces of property bordering on the business district of Klamath Falls changed hands yesterday with the consummation of the sale of two lots on the corner of Sixth and Walnut streets.

The new owner of the lots is Oscar A. Smith, who for the price of $13,500 purchased the lots from Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McMaster. One of the lots faces on both Sixth and Walnut streets while the other abuts onto the corner lot, facing Walnut street. Two frame houses on the property were included in the transaction. Mr. Smith purchased the land as an investment.

OIL MACADAM IN COUNTY GOAL OF STATE ENGINEER

C. C. Kelley Tells C. of C. Directors Maintenance and Improvement Plan

Durable and durable oil macadamized roads will be carrying Klamath auto traffic within two years, if the recommendations of C. C. Kelley, division state highway engineer are adopted by the state highway commission. Mr. Kelley explained to the directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday noon just what the maintenance and improvement program is for the ensuing two years.

Mr. Kelley told of how the road beds are being tightened and stiffened by a clay binder; of how this same binder brings some mud the first year but hardens the second sufficiently for the spreading of oil; of how much more satisfactory oil macadam will be than the present type of road.

In Mr. Kelley's recommendation to maintenance work on state roads for next year, is included the considerable item of widening the Ashland-Klamath Falls highway from the top of Green Springs mountain to the Pacific highway, particularly the hazardous curves.

Thousands of yards of loose gravel will be spread on the Klamath Falls-Lakeview road, and the Dalles-California highway, plus a considerable amount of clay binder in preparation for the oil macadam which will become a reality in several years.

After mentioning the huge sum which must be used for maintenance projects within the four counties under his jurisdiction Mr. Kelley said:

"There is one thing that you gentlemen should consider, and that is the necessity of fighting any move to reduce the gasoline or license tax. There is hardly enough money now to keep the maintenance and new construction projects under way, and with the repeal or reduction of highway taxes, it would mean the serious curtailment and embarrassment of state highway projects in Oregon."

Concerning winter maintenance, Mr. Kelley explained to the board of directors that the Ashland-Klamath highway would be open during the winter and that the Dalles-California highway from the state line to Bend would also be kept clear of snow.

"There may be a few days when heavy snow fall will stop traffic, but not for long, as our maintenance crew will be on hand at all times," he said.

Klamath Concerns Bid Successfully

Two Klamath firms and one Portland firm were the successful bidders yesterday afternoon for the bridge material which will be utilized in the building of two spans across Lost river, one known as the Malone bridge in Langell valley and the second as the Midland State Line bridge on the California-Oregon state line.

Niedemeyer Martin Lumber company was the successful bidder on 3512 lineal feet of piling, submitting a bid of $507.76. One other bidder, the Lakeside Lumber company, bid $987.36.

Lakeside Lumber company underbid their closest competitors by over $100 in their bid for the 110,577 board feet of lumber that will be used on the two spans. Their bid was $2903.24. Other bids were: Swan Lake Moulding company, $3,037.55; Big Basin Lumber company $3,395.89; Niedemeyer Martin Lumber company $3,695.64.

A. F. Graham building material concern and contracting company was the successful bidder for the hardware on the bridges. The company bid $357.42; Lakeside Lumber company bid $397.63; and Roberts and Harvey $595.82.

No Quorum Present at School Meeting

Because there was not even a quorum present at the city school board meeting Monday night, no official board business could be transacted. So it was decided by the only two members of the board present, C. H. Underwood and Leslie Rogers and Secretary Miss Ida B. Momyer, that the board convene next Monday night.

The dangerous thing about shoveling snow is you are liable to fall down on the job.

Watters Talks But Fails To Bet On Nebr.

Local Man to Leave For East; Will See Football Classic

"Yes, I'm on my way back to Nebraska where I lived before I came here."

Which is Tom Watters' way of telling his friends that he is leaving Thursday for his native state, where he plans to spend several months.

"I'm going back to visit my family and friends, incidentally to watch Nebraska wipe up the earth with Notre Dame in the annual football classic."

When asked just how much of his Nebraska foot ball talk could be translated into money bets on his team, Mr. Watters was evasive.

"No need to bet any more," he ejaculated. "I have enough of your money sewed up now and I don't want to be accused of breaking newspaper reporters, whatever else may be laid at my door."

Mr. Watters will be away for two months. When he was in college he was recognized as one of the fastest football players who ever handled the pig skin at Nebraska.

Building Slacks Up in Cold Spell

Cold wintry days, a hint of snow and heavy rains have checked building activities in Klamath Falls, temporarily at least. That building construction vane, the building permit tabulation, discloses that but $14,650 was expended in construction during the past week. All of these permits were, however, granted by the city council last night.

Building permits were granted to E. W. Smith, a dwelling on Oregon avenue to cost $125; Thomas Langhead, a garage on Fulton street to cost $150; H. Hanson, garage and wood shed on East Main street to cost $150; J. Woodmore, a dwelling on Alameda street to cost $650; James E. Smith, a dwelling on Crescent avenue to cost $3000;

George W. McCollum, a dwelling on East Main street to cost $3850; George W. McCollum, a dwelling on Martin street to cost $400; T. K. Harper, a garage and wood shed on Lowell street to cost $350; L. A. Davison, a dwelling on Third street to cost $3800; L. A. Davison, a dwelling on Third street to cost $2200; E. H. Balsiger a dwelling on Lookout street to cost $1700.

Song Recital by

ELIZABETH SPENCER

This is a golden opportunity for Klamath Falls to hear the famous soprano. Assisting her will be Lucile Colléte, well known pianist.

Miss Spencer's appearance here makes it possible to perform an interesting musical experiment. In some of the numbers, the famous artist will compare her voice with its RE-CREATION by Mr. Edison's new phonograph.

PACKARD

The price of the Packard Six Five Passenger Sedan, including spare tire, delivered in Klamath Falls, is $2992.00.

1925—The Price Reduction Year

NINETEEN Twenty Five will go down in motor car history as the price reduction year.

Packard set the pace on the very first day of the new year and has since had some forty followers.

However, no one has equaled the mark set by the leader in reducing prices nearly twenty five per cent and at the same time retaining original models with important improvements.

For example, the Packard Six Five Passenger Sedan was reduced $790—actually $954.68 considering added equipment and saving in war tax.
