

Main Battles For Next Week Are Signed Up Christmas Benefit Card Wednesday to be Thriller

Boxing fans always want to see new faces and a different brand of milling, and the Klamath fans are going to get just what they want next Tuesday night at Scandia hall when two new fighters travel through the ropes in an effort to make themselves a solid in the adopted home.

These boys are Billy Watson and Micky Gibbons, both of Euroka, and both of them leather heavers of real ability, according to the columns of press clippings their manager carried around with him.

Watson, a two fisted boy with an educated right hand, will meet Mike De Pinto of Portland in a ten round bout at the top of the card. De Pinto boxed Kid Starkey here a month ago and put up a real battle against the clever carpenter.

Micky Gibbons, weighing 143 pounds, will tangle with Chuck Sams, who twice held the Bend Wildcat—Earl Stolz—to a well earned draw, and who later defeated the tough Frankie Doyle. These boys will go six rounds.

Six months ago Sams looked like a third rater, when he fought here during the summer months. But he started training in earnest and has developed wonderfully. He always puts up a good battle, is always boring in every minute of the time and is willing to step out and trade punches with the most dangerous opponent.

Gibbons' press clippings tell several stories of how he appeared to be hopelessly beaten and was nearly out on his feet, and of how he came back fighting like a crazed wildcat until he battered his man down for the fatal 10-second count.

The boxing commission, promoters and fighters have agreed to donate 10 per cent of the proceeds to the Evening Herald's Kiddies' Christmas fund, which ought to bring out a big crowd of folks who never before attended a boxing match.

A class card of preliminaries was announced today by Matchmaker Johnnie Sylvester. Sid Herbert, formerly of the Pelican Bay company, and Kid Clark, a husky, hard-hitting welter from Portland will battle four rounds in an extra special event that ought to give the ring worms a run for their money. Herbert has been training a lot of the boys during recent months and has finally decided to step back into the game where he always was able to take care of himself and stand the fans on their feet with his slashing style of milling.

The opener will see two more new faces when Ed McDonald of Venice, Calif., and Kid Thomas of Portland will cross leather for a quartet of rounds. This bout is far above the usual curtain raiser and will start off a card that ought to be brimful of real battling from the first to the last of the 24 rounds.

In response to a general demand of boxing fans, Sylvester announced a new referee would be on hand for Tuesday night's card, while the commission will select its judges with more than usual care in order to insure the best possible decisions for all bouts.

Tickets will be on sale at the Waldorf, Mecca, Smoke and Rex billiard parlor, starting tomorrow morning so the fans can get their favorite seats in plenty of time. Because of the real interest that is being shown in the card fans are advised to get their tickets as early as possible in order to be sure of getting the best possible seats.

HIGH WIND WILL HALT SNOW PLOW

BEND, Ore., Nov. 25.—High winds in the vicinity of McKenzie Pass over the Cascades may interfere with the snow motor negotiating the pass today. It is felt at Sisters, according to word from those who were to meet the motor on this side at 2 o'clock today. A stiff wind was blowing in Sisters as well as in Bend.

The snow at the summit is less than 3 feet deep, according to C. N. Sorenson of Sisters who was up there day before yesterday. There is no snow at Sister nor in Bend. The high winds of yesterday and today in the higher country are thought to have blown down the telephone wires of the Deschutes national forestry service, according to local officials.

SAN LUCAR DE BARRAMEDA, Spain.—Paintings, tapestries and jewels valued at $460,000 have been taken by burglars from the house of Infante Alfonso of Orleans, the king's cousin.

LIQUOR CHARGES HELD AGAINST 3

"Got a pretty good load there, haven't you boys?" "Uh huh," granted Ed Stewart and H. Quade, struggling with the burden of a 30 gallon keg of moonshine whiskey.

William Cole, special state agent, flashed a star, and the respective chins of Stewart and Quade dropped. "Guess you'd better come, along with me," he said, and they did.

Stewart and Quade had just looted the home of C. Wenzel of 30 gallons of whiskey, when Cole stroled along. They were caught in the act of taking it from the Wenzel property.

Cole continued his investigation on the Wenzel property, south of Malin and near the state line, and the investigations revealed a large still, several more kegs of moonshine and other paraphernalia giving evidence of recent moonshine operation in the vicinity.

A charge of possession of intoxicating liquor was preferred against Quade and Stewart while a charge of possession of whiskey and possession of a still will be held against Wenzel.

All three are lodged in the Klamath county jail.

Renewed Interest Is Shown In Trees

After three weeks of comparative quiet the matter of tree planting is again occupying the time and attention of the committee and of J. A. Farley, who has been engaged to do the planting. The renewed activity was inspired by the arrival this week of the first shipment of young trees. Due to the mildness of the weather a great number of the trees received in this first order will be planted at once.

Just what part of the city is getting the first trees was not learned today as Mr. Farley could not be reached at a late hour this afternoon.

The next few days should see the arrival of a second shipment of the trees, which were ordered by committee on tree planting at the close of the active drive, Novmbr 10.

Jackson has represented the Klamath Indians before in the national capital and knows the ways of the lobbyist. He is personally acquainted with numerous government officials and believes he will be able to get the needed recognition.

German Girls To Be Taught Use Of Rouge

BERLIN, Nov. 26. —(P)—The real art of wielding lipstick, rouge pad, powder puff and eyebrow pencil soon will be taught to the Berlin maiden at fifty cents per lesson. The scope of a school for training theatrical makeup artists has been extended to embrace the woman for training theatrical makeup has been extended to embrace the women in the capital. The theory is that more users of cosmetics are to be seen on the streets than on the stage, and the makeup of some of them is not always highly artistic.

Ernst Lotz, for twenty years facial art director of the municipal theatre at Nuremberg, will be director of the new institution. Visited in his studio, Lotz was showing a woman how, by skillful application of cosmetics, she could reduce the apparent size of her nose. He decried what he terms the promiscuous manner in which flappers, and especially elderly women, bedaub themselves with paint and powder. In the majority of cases he said, they defeat the very objects for which cosmetics are applied.
