IF THE weather looks like rain. Laugh it off!
 When you feel you must complain. Laugh it off!
 Do not sit and nurse your tears. Waste no time in useless tears. Put your faith in smiles and cheers.
 Laugh it off!
 If men say you're looking ill. Laugh it off!
 Should they recommend a pill. Laugh it off!
 Doctors, druggists and disease. Want to do just as they please. You can save their costly fees.
 Laugh it off!
 If life seems to go dead wrong. Laugh it off!
 Drown your sorrow in a song. Laugh it off!
 Do your work with smiling face. Look ahead and keep the pace. Be a winner in the race.
 Laugh it off!

Year has something of a reactionary, all of the vamp dolls seem to have been abolished. There are none on the market at all; none of the bathing suit beauties, the wicked flirtatious damsels of the goggle eyes; none of the shimmy shakers!

Instead, Santa has decided at last to begin at the beginning, and the newest thing in dolldom is the baby doll, an exact copy of little brother a few days after the stork paid his call. These dolls come singly, in twins, even in triplets, with complete little layettes, cradles and all.

It is significant that practically all of the dolls these days come dressed, many equipped with complete little wardrobes. The modern little girl doesn't know how to sew, and such a thing as the old-fashioned "work box" is simply unheard of.

The most expensive dolls on the market aren't for the daughter at all. They're for mother. These are the decorative dolls, for which from $50 to $75 is not an unusual price. Daughter might have a whole family for the price of one, but they're almost as much in demand as children's dolls.

You find the same stuffed, woolly animals you knew when a child, only the teddy bears have all taken to wheels, just like their elders.

Fundamentalists may rejoice that Toyland remains unpolluted. The dark Darwinian scandal hasn't reached the North Pole evidently, for Noah's arks, with old Noah himself and all the wooden animals, are back and going strong. The children know who he is, too, the saleswoman says. Yet, with a wide tolerance of childhood, the monkey enjoys equal rank with the other animals. In fact, he is rather popular, in spite of all his unfavorable publicity.

Almost every line of industry is represented in Toyland this year. There are moving vans for the children, who like to imitate their elders in the drama and struggle of this life; there are milk wagons and grocery trucks and horses that can be hitched and unhitched, for childhood has never been known to scorn ancient methods.

There are trucks and trains. Real phonographs in miniature, in place of the old fashioned Swiss harps that could play three different pieces, and a few cash registers seem to be the only concessions Santa has made to modernism.

No, it has not changed much these twenty-thirty and forty years.

ST. MARY'S ALTAR SOCIETY HOLDS REGULAR MEETING
 ST. MARY'S Altar society met in a regular session on Tuesday evening at Lyceum hall with Mrs. E. W. Renick and the Misses Lynch acting as hostesses. Following the regular business session the members completed plans for their annual bazaar on December twelfth, which will be held in the real estate office of Maguire and Maguire on Main and Tenth.

PELICAN COMMUNITY CLUB HOSTS AT NEW YEARS PARTY

WHAT gives promise of being one of the outstanding affairs of the holiday season is the dancing party being planned by the Pelican Community club of Pelican City. Invitations to the affair are being mailed this coming week to the friends of the members of the club, which is composed of the employees of the Pelican Bay Lumber company.

A six-piece orchestra has been arranged to furnish the dance music between the hours of nine o'clock and midnight. A special feature of the evening will be several vaudeville acts from Orpheum times, which the boys have arranged to bring here. For the guests who are not desirous of dancing other entertainments have been arranged for. The club will be beautifully decorated with the holiday season's colors and special electric light features. Favors and novelties will be given to the guests during the evening.

ANTLERS CLUB HAS DANCING PARTY ON FRIDAY

MEMBERS of the Antlers club, which is made up of the high school set, enjoyed a delightful dancing party last evening at the Elks temple. Close to seventy five of the younger set attended the affair. The Irene Lewis orchestra furnished the dance music between nine o'clock and midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, Mrs. A. F. Graham and Mrs. Gertrude Moore acted as patron and patronesses for the evening.

CHARLESTON PARTY AT AMICKE HOME

ACOTERIE of the younger high school set gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Amicke at 424 High street on Wednesday evening for a "Charleston" party. Miss Evelyn Amicke and Miss Addie Jenkins acting as hostesses. The Victrola dance music was enjoyed by the young set. Among those present were Misses Dorothy Dalton, Eva Powers, Genevieve Hensley, Addie Jenkins and Evelyn Amicke; Ernest Kaufman, Kenneth Maier and Alvin Bergvinn.

ART NEEDLE WORK CLUB MEETS WEDNESDAY

MISS LINSMERE LEAVING FOR DAYTONA, FLORIDA

MISS VIRGINIA LINSMERE, who for the past year has been business manager for the Chevrolet Sales and Service company, is leaving tomorrow morning for Daytona, Florida, where she will reside. En route south, Miss Linsmere will visit one day in San Francisco with Mr. and Mrs. John Kingston, expecting to arrive at Daytona on Sunday, the thirteenth. She will reside with Miss Grace Conboy, formerly of Klamath Falls, who is now living in the far south with her parents. Miss Linsmere will be missed by a host of friends in Klamath Falls.

GUILD HOLDS ALL DAY SESSION AT JONES HOME

MATRONS of St. Paul's Episcopal Guild met on Thursday for an all day session at the home of Mrs. Caleb Jones, to complete articles and plans for their annual bazaar on Friday and Saturday, December eleventh and twelfth in the Hart building on Main and Seventh.

Late in the afternoon Rev. J. Henry Thomas met with the members and addressed the gathering. At five o'clock a pot luck dinner was enjoyed.

The various committees were named to be in charge of the bazaar. General bazaar—Mrs. Charles Martin, general chairman; Mrs. D. V. Kuykendall, Mrs. Gary Conrad, Mrs. Caleb Jones, Mrs. C. C. Sealey, Mrs. Cottrell and Mrs. N. D. Ginsbach. Tea tables: Mrs. E. D. Lamb and Mrs. Caleb Jones. Candy booth: Mrs. V. E. Parker and the girls of the Tri S Club. The cooked foods will be in charge of Mrs. A. R. Morrison.

There are many, many families who never come in any more direct contact with tuberculosis than that the thought is brought home to them by these same Christmas seals. Such families often look upon the disease with horror, secretly consider themselves far removed from it, and dismiss the subject at the first opportunity. But, no one is immune. One can't dismiss the germ of tuberculosis with a mere gesture, a turning off of the thought current, for everyone is exposed to this malady every day. Its germs are in the very air about us, whether we live in town or country. No one knows whom they will strike.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB TO AID COMMUNITY CHEST

PLEDGING themselves to aid the Community Chest in every way possible, the Friendship club members held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. R. H. Dunbar on Friday afternoon. Plans for the Christmas holidays were made and committees appointed to be in charge of placing holly wreaths and Christmas cards in both hospitals.

Among the members present were Mrs. B. Schultz, Mrs. George McCollum, Mrs. W. D. Cofer, Mrs. H. L. Wickorsham, Mrs. A. Balater, Mrs. W. J. Steinmetz, Mrs. B. F. Owens, Mrs. Viola Jones, Mrs. Irene Louche, Mrs. T. R. Skillington, Mrs. A. M. Parlane, Mrs. M. J. Harpes and Mrs. Dunbar.

The next meeting of the club will be on January twenty-second at the home of Mrs. Victor Palmer.

FIRST OF SERIES OF DINNER DANCES

ONE of the most enjoyable social events of the past week was the dinner dance on Wednesday evening at the hotel White Pelican, the first of series of weekly affairs to be given at the hostelry during the winter and early spring months. Bud Lynch's orchestra recently of Portland, who furnish music through the dinner hours on Wednesday and Sunday evening of each week, provided the dance music.

The dinner to be for the entire staff of each store in the city.

CENTRAL P. T. A. HOLDS DECEMBER MEETING

MRS. H. D. NEWELL and Mrs. John Siemens were in charge of the December program of the Central school Parent-Teachers' association, held on Tuesday afternoon. In the absence of Mrs. Ray Reed, president of the association, Miss Augusta Parker, vice president, presided.

Rev. J. Henry Thomas, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, gave the address of the afternoon, urging closer cooperation between the teachers and parents.

The program included: Opening number, "America, the Beautiful"; First grade pupils of Miss Sally Folsom, a song; Piano number, Lydia von Bethel-dorf; Piano number, Mrs. Russell Austin. Speaker of the afternoon, Rev. J. Henry Thomas.

"THE NERVOUS CHILD" DISCUSSED BY CLUB

MEMBERS of the pro-school age division of the American Association of University Women met with their leader, Mrs. A. L. Rice on Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. H. Radcliffe discussed the book "The Nervous Child" by the English author Cameron in a most capable manner. While the author took the child of England as his subject, still the American mother can find it beneficial in many ways.

Among those present were Miss Mary Ball, Mrs. A. M. Collier, Mrs. J. J. Villair, Mrs. P. O. Landry, Mrs. R. H. Radcliffe and Mrs. Rice.

The next meeting of the division will be held with Mrs. Rice on January fifteenth. Miss Mary Ball will give a book review at this time.

D. A. R. MONDAY AT HOME OF MRS. JONES

MONDAY afternoon the D. A. R. members will meet at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Jones on Second and High. Mrs. H. M. Ackley will lead the discussion "The Mayflower Pact."

THE CHRISTMAS SEALS AND WHAT THEY MEAN

IT IS NOT very costly to purchase a few dozen of the Christmas seals distributed by the National Tuberculosis association at this time of the year. But how very, very costly it is to the victims of this dread disease, if one omits buying them.

It is very little, yet it means so very much, the purchasing of these little gay seals that send a wish for "Merry Christmas" clear around the world. One doesn't doubt the good intentions of the public at large to buy quantities of the little gummed bits of paper, nor its wish to help stamping out tuberculosis, but a word here may serve as a reminder to each and everyone of us.

There are many, many families who never come in any more direct contact with tuberculosis than that the thought is brought home to them by these same Christmas seals. Such families often look upon the disease with horror, secretly consider themselves far removed from it, and dismiss the subject at the first opportunity. But, no one is immune. One can't dismiss the germ of tuberculosis with a mere gesture, a turning off of the thought current, for everyone is exposed to this malady every day. Its germs are in the very air about us, whether we live in town or country. No one knows whom they will strike.

No one is immune from tuberculosis—this, we repeat for it is a statement of a scientific fact. So, when one buys generously of the Christmas seals, one may inadvertently be buying a certificate of health and welfare for oneself, one's friends, one's family, for the stranger in the land. But, most of all, one is aiding humanity in distress.

In this season of giving magnificently, joyously, is it too much to ask that one give freely to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, to help those who are already afflicted, to brighten the days of patients whose lives may be a lingering matter of a year, or perhaps a month?

"Merry Christmas and Good Health" is the slogan that these wax Christmas seals should carry into the farthest corners of the earth, on letters and post cards, on trunks and packages, by express, mail, parcels post.

And of course, since America always rises to a need, there is not the slightest doubt that she will once more, this Christmas season of 1925.

MISS MYRTA JAMES VISITS LOCAL LODGE

Reservations to be made through Miss Jo Upp of the First National bank.

HOME COMING MEETING OF PRESBYTERIAN AUXILIARY

THURSDAY marked the Homecoming meeting of four circles of the Presbyterian church when the members of the auxiliary met at the parlors of the church. The greater part of the afternoon was spent in completing plans for the annual bazaar which is to be held next Saturday, in the basement of the church. During the reports of the afternoon, it was learned the auxiliary has donated two hundred dollars toward the pipe organ fund of the church.

The following committees were named to be in charge of the bazaar: marketing, Mrs. Marion Hanks, chairman, Mrs. Dolle Virgil and Mrs. Percy Evans. Apron booth: Mrs. J. B. Reed, chairman, Mrs. D. S. Shell and Mrs. O. D. Mathews. Fancy work booth: Mrs. Albert May, chairman, Mrs. C. E. Jay and Mrs. W. R. Boyd. Miscellaneous: Mrs. George Grizzle, chairman, Mrs. A. G. Pearson and Mrs. A. B. Lund. Home cooked foods: Mrs. A. M. Worden and Mrs. John Sargent. Tea tables: Mrs. E. S. Veatch, chairman, Mrs. Warren Hunt and Mrs. Fred E. Fleet. Display, which will be on Main street, in charge of Mrs. C. L. Harvey, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Dolle Virgil, Mrs. Keyon and Mrs. Jennie Hurn.

Little Katherine Spannan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Spannan, sang "Long, Long Ago" in a delightful manner, although just a child, her voice having a most unusual range.

Mrs. J. A. Houston, Mrs. A. M. Worden and Mrs. George Spannan were hostesses for the afternoon.
