

DE MOLAY WILL INITIATE NINE ON THURSDAY

On Thursday evening, December 10, Klamath chapter, order of De Molay will confer the initiatory degree on a class consisting of the following boys:

Gracie W. Sanders, John L. Hawkins, Max A. Brown, Frank H. McCoyack, Wm. J. Morgan, Gilbert W. Fleet, Don Otey Soule, Wm. S. Lewis and Kenton D. Hamaker.

The initiation will be in Masonic hall starting at 8 p. m. The new officers of the chapter will use their new robes, which have been recently acquired, this being the first time the degree has been conferred in this city with the officers in full regalia. Master Masons are invited to be present.

Merchants' Bureau Will Meet Tonight

Mrs. Elsie V. Baxter, who will be the principal speaker at the Merchant's Bureau dinner to be held this evening at the chamber of commerce at six-thirty, has chosen "Applied Efficiency" as her subject.

The dinner which is the monthly affair of the local merchants will be for the store managers and the sales force. A number of talks will be given which will help the store managers and sales force as well.

WITH MRS. JONES

Members of the D. A. R. met at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Jones this afternoon for their regular monthly meeting. The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. H. M. Ackley.

POWELL FIGHTS O'CONNOR, DAVIS FOR DECENCY IN CIVIC AFFAIRS AND DARLING TO APPEAL TRIALS

Copco-Underworld Gang is After Him Because of His Honest Efforts

As a result of the efforts of Councilman Powell to accomplish something for the benefit of the people of the city, he has already become the target of the Copco-S. P. crowd and through the columns of their mouthpiece, he has been included in the coterie that worthy sheet seeks to term "The Beast" appropriating the term from an age in the past, when the city of Denver was under the control of the power and traction crowd. In those days Judge Lindsey took up the gauntlet for the people and drove "The Beast" to its lair. In this city Powell is undertaking to do the work that Lindsey did in Denver, and as a result the power company and underworld gang are lining up against him, the first gun being fired over the granting of pool room licenses.

Back in Denver they charged Lindsey with being in league with the underworld, and even tried to "frame" him, but he was honest and won. In the fight that is just now starting, Powell has the unwavering support of Mayor Goddard, and it is hoped that he will be as successful in his efforts as was Judge Lindsey.

Ten days ago when the question of granting certain pool room permits was before the council, Powell's was the only voice raised in protest. He demanded a meeting of the police committee, but when the time came for the gathering, Chairman Stuckey had gone to bed, retiring before 7:45, and Councilman Cofer "had company." At the council meeting, held a few nights later, Powell forced a rejection of the license and demanded of the members why the chief of police had never been called before the police committee when these licenses were under consideration.

Another matter that has stirred the ire of the opposing members of the council, is Powell's determined stand on the garbage ordinance and his demand that those who have to pay the bill be first consulted before they are compelled to pay exorbitant fees for the removal of garbage. That is interfering with the "flesh pots" of the council, which is anxious to reward those who have helped deliver the city to the S. P. and Copco.

But the fun is just starting, and by the time Powell and Goddard get through with that crowd, they will look as if stem rollers had passed over them.

Three Men on Way to State Pen, Decided to Take Cases to Higher Court

Three men, who are now on their way to the state penitentiary, have filed notices of appeal to the state supreme court. They are Roy Darling, convicted on a statutory charge and sentenced to seven and one half years in the penitentiary; and Harry Davis and Tom O'Connor, convicted of operating a still and sentenced to serve two years each in the state prison.

Despite the fact that the three prisoners have appealed their respective cases, they must serve in the penitentiary until their cases are finally settled.

Darling was accused and convicted of a particularly grave statutory charge. O'Connor and Davis were accused of having operated a still in the Miller Hill district. They were caught red handed with the still by prohibition officers early this fall.

Darling, O'Connor and Davis were taken yesterday afternoon to Salem where they will be dressed in today and begin to serve their long prison terms.

Local Boy Scouts Enjoy Long "Hike"

Eighteen boy scouts, tenderfoot and second-class scouts, under the leadership of Scout Executive E. O. Nord and senior patrol leader Merle Swansen of troop number one, left the chamber of commerce at ten o'clock Saturday morning on an all city hike. Fort Rock, on the old Fort Klamath road, was the point to which the boys hiked.

While on the hike the boys practiced some of their scout songs and yell, and after reaching their destination they began to prepare for the various tests. The tenderfeet passed in cooking, use of the knife and hatchet, compass and tracking, while the second class scouts passed the tests in advanced cooking, signaling, axe work, judging of distances and weight and size.

The Massey brothers cooked a hunter's stew, which was considered especially fine for boys of their years. The boys made their own fires with only one match, passing the firebuilding test.

An all city hike each month will be planned for the scouts by Mr. Nord. These hikes will be supplemented by the hikes of the scoutmaster of each troop.

Longfellows Will Elect Wednesday

The permanent organization of the Longfellows club of Klamath Falls will take place on Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the chamber of commerce. Directors and officers will be elected at this meeting according to announcement by E. O. Nord, temporary chairman of the club, which held its first meeting on Saturday evening, with twelve members present.

At the first meeting on Saturday evening, the members discussed the possibilities of longer beds, longer bath tubs, higher mirrors on dressers, higher awnings, longer operating tables in hospitals, better fitting clothes, more space between theatre seats, higher chandeliers and higher chairs.

A wire has been sent to Benjamin Ostlund, president of the tall men's association, asking him to be present at the annual meeting to be held on Wednesday.

The tallest man present on Saturday evening was six feet eleven inches and the shortest was just six feet even.

Campfire Girls Will Sell Candy

Camp Fire girls of Mills Addition school will sell candy tomorrow afternoon at a meeting of the Mills Addition Parent Teachers' association. The meeting will be held in the school.

The camp fire girls met last Wednesday under their new leader, Mrs. V. E. Parker, and Mrs. Parker's assistant, Miss Ruth Miner. Seven new members were accepted by the girls' organization.
