

SOCIETY

IN A HUNDRED YEARS

I WONDER at night, as I sit and gaze
Out over an ocean wide,
Who will be here in a hundred years
To watch the wash of the tide.
Will they love the glow of the cottage lights,
And the touch of the drifted sand
And the sunset shine on the little creek
That runs through the marshy land?
Will they see the moon and its Golden Path,
That leads to the Don't Know where?
Will they dream old dreams and miss old joys,
In the spray of the salt sea air?
And over their years will darkness steal,
Like grief that is close to tears?
Oh! who will be here, as I am now;
Who—in a hundred years?

It is but a short step from the golden season of Harvesting and the enjoyment of Thanksgiving with its delectable Feast, to the Merry-makings that mark that most wonderful time of all the year, the joyful festival of Christmas.

We are on the middle days of the great holiday month with its exchange of gifts, when love rules us rather than wisdom, when the happy hours give us a glimpse of what this world might be if we all lived our best. Being wise is one thing, being friendly, kindly and helpful is another.

Let us work to cherish and cultivate the true spirit of the day, which gives tenderness and sweetness and vitality to our actions the whole year through. It is a season of laughter and joy of glittering surprises and shining eyes, of the wiping of old griefs, an opportunity to do things that can be done no other time, than under the warm cloak of Christmas. It is a reminder of one's own privileges, a time when the magic of extra effort is most effective, a season when a flock of little messengers, each charged with its own individual personality, knocks on one's heart and begs the work-a-day world to open for them to come in. It is the only time when the crowding duties of every day dare not overwhelm the little duties outside its gray routine. It is a season of discovery, of delightful hard work, of chances to reassure old friends, to extend a hand to new ones, a time to make the little children laugh and the old people smile, to discover how much one needs everybody else and to show it.

Whether it comes garbed in sacrifice, or in luxury, it is one and the same old Christmas, and thank heaven for that.

EASTERN STAR HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION TUESDAY

TUESDAY evening marked the annual election of officers for the Aloha chapter of the Eastern Star. Mrs. H. G. Wortley was elected as worthy matron for the coming year, to succeed Mrs. Marion Hanks, who will retire from office as worthy matron on December twenty-second, when the newly elected officers will be installed. Following the installation a banquet and musical program are being planned for.

The newly elected officers for the ensuing year include Mrs. H. G. Wortley, worthy matron; Marion Hanks, worthy patron; Mrs. Lena Dennis, associate matron; Mrs. Nellie Wattenburg, conductress; Mrs. Harriett Hunter, associate conductress; Mrs. Dollie Virgil, secretary and Mrs. Mollie Belding, treasurer.

Following installation of the new officers on December 22, a musical program and social hour is being planned by the Star.

MRS. NEWELL HAS MERIAM CIRCLE TUESDAY

MRS. H. D. NEWELL was hostess on Tuesday afternoon to the ladies of Meriam circle of the First Presbyterian church at her home on High street. The afternoon was opened with the singing of a Christmas carol. The remainder of the afternoon found the ladies, sixteen of whom were present, busily engaged in completing novelties and various articles for the bazaar today.

CHRISTMAS PARTY TUESDAY EVE AT CUMMINGS HOME

THE annual Christmas party of the P. E. O. club marks the social calendar of Tuesday evening, December fifteenth at the home of Mrs. K. G. Cummings on Washington. A Christmas tree with a gift exchange will be one of the features of the evening. Mrs. L. L. Truax is in charge of the program and a number of Christmas carols will be sung. Mrs. C. P. Mason will assist Mrs. Cummings.

INVITATIONS ISSUED FOR CHRISTMAS PARTIES

INVITATIONS to some seventy of the high school set for Monday and Wednesday evening, December twenty-first and twenty-third, have been issued by Miss Hillis McCall and Miss Martha Jones. The affairs which will be among the outstanding social events for the young set will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Jones on Fifth street.

AMERICAN HOME DEPARTMENT TO HONOR PIONEER MATRONS

WHAT gives promise of being one of the most delightful events on the social calendar for the month of January will be the luncheon at the hotel White Pelican on the eighth, honoring mothers of this city who have kept house for half a century. The American Home Department of the Klamath Falls library club will act as hostesses on this occasion.

Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg who is head of this department, feels this is one way of honoring these faithful mothers and wishes anyone knowing of matrons entitled to be a guest of the club to phone her at 559 R. or write her.

D. A. R. MEETS WITH MRS. WILBUR JONES

THE regular meeting of the D. A. R. Ladies was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Jones on High street. Mrs. Harry Aekley was in charge of the program, the subject of discussion being the Mayflower Compact. Special guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Sarah Harshbarger, past state regent of California; Mrs. Lois Ambler, vice regent of Willamette chapter in Portland. Mrs. Ambler gave an interesting talk on the work of the northern chapter. Mrs. Edythe Morrison and Miss E. McKenzie, both of Olympia chapter of Olympia, Washington, were also guests.

LAST OF FALL PROGRAM GIVEN MONDAY AFTERNOON

CONCLUDING the fall program of the study department of the Women's Library club, "The Matrilarch" by G. B. Stern, was reviewed in a most interesting and capable manner by Mrs. Thomas White Delzell. Being a most difficult book to review, much credit should be given the young matron. Perhaps the largest attendance the club has enjoyed this fall was that on Monday afternoon. The matrons of the city have greatly enjoyed the reviews and the attendance has been most gratifying.

The winter season will open on January 11, with Mrs. Levant Pease giving a review of "Mark Twain's Letters."

BAZAAR OF PRESBYTERIAN LADIES PROVES SUCCESS

WITH various booths displaying attractive novelties, hand-made articles and tempting cooked foods on display, the ladies of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a most successful bazaar sale today in the basement of the church. Throughout the afternoon hours tea was served, with Mrs. John Sargent and Mrs. A. M. Worden presiding at the tea tables.

GLEANERS CIRCLE MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. EPPERSON

THE Gleaners, one of the four circles of the Presbyterian Ladies' auxiliary, met with Mrs. A. B. Epperson on Tuesday afternoon at her home on North First. The social hours were passed in completing articles for the bazaar which was held today in the basement of the church. Nine of the ladies of the circle were present. Assisted by Mrs. Russell Austin, the hostess served a dainty luncheon at the close of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi McDonald announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Joan, to Mr. Leland Willis, of this city.

The wedding will be an event of Sunday, December twentieth, nineteen-hundred and twenty-five, at high noon.

MRS. JENNIE HURN TO BE HOSTESS WEDNESDAY

MRS. JENNIE HURN will be hostess on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Fourth and Pine to the members of the Art Needle Work club.

CHRISTIAN LADIES READY FOR ANNUAL BAZAAR

LADIES of the Christian church have completed plans for their annual bazaar on next Saturday, to be held in the location recently vacated by Bellman on Seventh and Main. In conjunction with the bazaar the ladies will have tempting cooked foods for sale.

EPISCOPAL GUILD HOLDS ANNUAL BAZAAR TWO DAYS

FRIDAY and today were the days chosen by the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church for their annual bazaar and cooked food sale. Committees in charge of the affair pronounced the annual event a wonderful success this afternoon.

FRIENDS HONOR MRS. LESTER SAILING

IN courtesy to Mrs. Lester Sailing who left for southern California on Wednesday, to spend the winter months, a number of her close friends honored her with a delightful party on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Cain, on North Tenth. The hours were enjoyed by the guests in playing 500 followed with a musical program. Mrs. Frank Confer giving several delightful vocal numbers. Among the guests who honored Mrs. Sailing were Mr. and Mrs. William Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Allen, Mrs. Georgia Wilson, Miss Marjorie Cain, Miss Mary Blanas, Miss Marlon Cain, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Cain, Les Sailing, Frank Cain, Walter Gardner, Roy Cain and Freddie Sailing.

SOCIAL MEETING OF WOMEN'S LIBRARY CLUB

THE Women's Library club held their regular social meeting on Friday afternoon in the club rooms of the library. Close to eighty guests were present. A musical program was greatly enjoyed at the conclusion of which "white elephant" gift exchange took place. The Misses Margaret Cummings and Marjorie Folsom distributed 130 gifts.

On the program the following numbers were included: "Nowells Christmas," "What Child is This," traditional, by Miss Vera Houston and Mrs. Bert Call Thomas; The Oriental Rug, Mrs. Leslie Rogers; There's a Song in the Air, (J. G. Holland) and Long, Long Ago, by little Mary Thomas, Marie Collier and George Duncan, Mrs. Williams accompanied on the piano. AU-REVOIR COURTESY FOR VICTOR CARLSON

AS A FAREWELL courtesy to Mr. Victor Carlson, who left this morning for Aberdeen, Wash., a number of his friends honored him on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Eva Jordan on High street. Dancing, cards and music passed the hours for the guests. At the conclusion of the evening Mrs. Jordan served a prettily appointed luncheon. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Darroll Clark, Mrs. Beulah Bemis, Mrs. Nell Osborne, Mrs. L. L. Davis, Mrs. Moda Stansbury, Mrs. Eva Jordan, Mrs. Waine Monilton, Miss Tina Nitschelm, Miss Laveda Stinton, Miss Helene Osborne, Charles House, Carl Davis, Ernest Nitschelm, Dale Laing, Donald Jordan, Ott Ellis, Willard Cooper, Bill Nitschelm, Jack Jewett and Victor Carlson.

LOVELY SHOWER GIVEN MISS JOAN McDONALD

MISS JOAN McDONALD, bride-elect of this coming week, was honored on Wednesday evening when Mrs. Robert Sloan, Mrs. Rodrick Smith and Mrs. Nate Otterbein were hostesses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Otterbein with a miscellaneous shower. Three tables of bridge were in play throughout the evening at the conclusion of which the guests gathered in the dining room where the gifts were showered upon Miss McDonald. Twenty of the intimate friends of Miss McDonald, who is one of the most attractive and charming girls of the city, were present. Her wedding will be at high noon on Sunday, December 20, to Mr. Leland Willis, one of the prominent young men of this city.

At the conclusion of the evening the hostesses served dainty refreshments at small tables which were centered with miniature Christmas trees. The place cards were cleverly carried out in tiny bashful brides. Among those present were Mesdames Paul Noel, J. D. Conway, Nate Otterbein, Robert Sloan, Rodrick Smith, Docia Norris, Floyd McMillan, Laura Willis, Charles Lambert, Levi McDonald, Louie Hoagland, Rex La Prairie, Robert McLaughlin and the Misses Margaret Johnston, Ruth Dixon, Pauline Cliff, Vera Thompson, Grace Hoagland, Wyma Brotherton, Pansy Robertson, Joan McDonald, the honor guest and Mrs. Helene Breitenstein.

MUSICAL OF SACRED HEART PUPILS TUESDAY

THE first of a number of musical recitals planned by the faculty of Sacred Heart Academy was given in the delightful parlors of Mrs. G. C. Lorenz Tuesday, Dec. 8. Mrs. Lorenz's home was a most charming place for the little folks to have given a recital. The wide parlors, furnished in rich brown, were enlivened with the bits of color of potted plants and cut flowers, and made a dainty setting for the little misses in their pretty silks and the little masters in their more somber suits.

The following program was rendered:

- Birds in the Woods—(Bert R. Anthony); Hush Little Blue Eyes—(Harold Leston)—Jean Connors.
 - Morning Song—(Charles Huerta); Dancing on the Beach—(Bert R. Anthony)—Jean Beard.
 - What Grandmother Sang to her Babies—(I. Watts)—Norm McAuliffe.
 - At the Races—(Bert R. Anthony); Catch Me—(Arnold Sartorio)—Estelle Bell.
 - A Farmer Went Trotting—(Geo. F. Hamer); Dance of the Little Indian—(Florence Barbour)—Donald Kirkpatrick.
 - Sailing Dolly in the Bathtub—(Mathilda Bilbro)—Mary Thrasher.
 - The Recruits—(Otto Barth); Hunting Song—(E. McDowell)—Richard Curran.
 - Blue Bell Waltz—(M. L. Ahearn); Barcarolle—(Arnold Sartorio)—Merle Crawford.
 - About Butterflies—(James H. Rogers)—Cleo Champayne.
 - Pollyanna Waltz—(Anna Smith)—Edith Almeter.
 - Wooden Shoe Dance—(James Rogers); Holiday Time—(Krentzina)—Gwendolyn Lorenz.
 - Gavotte—(Jules Devaux); Sunshine—(Bert R. Anthony)—Virginia Houston.
 - Elves—(James Rogers); Periwinkles—(Bert R. Anthony)—Eileen Hargraves.
- It would be an injustice to the others to select any special numbers for comment, as all did so well. However little Nora McAuliffe, just six and one half years old, was a well poised little Miss as she played and sang "What Grandmother Sang to Her Babies."

After the program the little Misses Gwendolyn Lorenz, Virginia Houston and Jean Connors assisted Mrs. Lorenz in serving ice cream and cake to those who had taken part in the program, as well as their friends who had assembled to hear them. Every one was pleased that so much had been accomplished by the little ones in memorizing these selections, as it foreshadows what may be accomplished as they progress in memory work and become more skilful in execution and technique as the years go by.

CARD PARTY WEDNESDAY EVENING AT MASONIC HALL

WEDNESDAY evening, December sixteenth, the Eastern Star lodge will entertain at Masonic hall with a card party and social evening. The affair is for the members of the order and their families.

KEDRON CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY AT BALL HOME
