Excited by Magic, U. S. Official Dies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(AP)—A heart attack coming at the high point of the performance by a stage magician caused the death last night of Frederick C. Hicks, alien property custodian. Slumping in his chair at the Belasco theater just as the magician hypnotized a woman and caused her to apparently float over the stage, Mr. Hicks died before a physician could reach him.
 Mr. Hicks, who last April succeeded Thomas W. Miller as custodian after the latter's resignation, had served in the house of representatives from New York from 1923 to 1925. Mr. Hicks was born at Westbury, Long Island.

Bank Sells Assets for Sum of $800
 MEDFORD, Ore., Dec. 16.—The closing chapters in the failure of the Bank of Gold Hill, Gold Hill, Ore., in March, 1924, were written in the records of the circuit court, when upon recommendations of Superintendent of Banks Bramwell, bids for the remaining assets of the defunct institution were ordered.
 The assets consist of a house and a lot and collectible notes of Percy H. Bell, former president and cashier, whose sentence of ten years in the state prison was recently reduced by Governor Pierce, followed by a parole.
 Walter Zimmerman bid $500 for the house and lot, which is encumbered by a mortgage of $1700, held by the Jackson County Loan association and Albert Pankey bid for the notes, $300. Both bidders live in Gold Hill and the bids of both were accepted.
 Honestly, the best policy is to let all's well that ends well enough alone.
