

"Under Cover" Man Very Ill

W. E. Boyd Stricken With Pneumonia; in Local Hospital

W. E. Boyd, "under cover" man for state prohibition officers operating in this territory, lies dangerously ill in the Klamath General hospital suffering from a serious attack of pneumonia.

Boyd was taken seriously sick Saturday in his small home on East Main street. His condition rapidly became worse and Saturday night he was delirious.

Boyd has been very active in prohibition enforcement in Klamath county. While he is not a bonafide state agent or prohibition officer, Boyd has participated in all the big raids in Klamath. His condition was reported considerably improved but still serious by hospital authorities.

There is a lot of money in working, but it is hard to get.

PUBLIC AGAINST DRY RULE, VIEW OF SCHOOL HEAD

Present Situation Intolerable, Statement of University Chief

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—The tide of public opinion has definitely turned against prohibition, in the belief of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University. Last weeks senate debate, started by Senator Edge of New Jersey, was the beginning of what will be a successful movement to reform the "present intolerable situation," he thinks.

Voluminous correspondence on the subject, he said, in a letter made public last night, showed that thousands of men and women who had been sincere prohibitionists have changed their views and are asking leadership in a movement to reform the present laws.

Dr. Butler's letter was written to Mrs. Seggerman of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., and contended that "to drive prohibition out of the country has become a moral issue."

The violation of "fundamental and righteous in the futile and lawbreaking attempt to enforce a foolish and untruthful law," he wrote, is "the most immoral undertaking on which any government ever embarked."

"No immoral and unreasonable public act can long stand," he said, "the same argument was made for slavery 75 years ago that is made for prohibition today. As slavery was driven out of the constitution and out of the country, so prohibition will be, and we shall develop a plan to abolish the saloon, suppress the liquor traffic and to reduce drunkenness."

British House Worries Over Turk Problem

Labor Against Taking Mosul Mandate

LONDON, Dec. 21. (AP)—The house of commons today was debating the Mosul question on a government motion asking the house to approve the action of the British delegates at Geneva in accepting the league of nations award in the dispute between Turkey and Great Britain. This motion takes the place of a proposed opposition motion condemning the action.

The government has to combat a good deal of hostility from the laborites, liberals and some of its own followers.

John R. Clynes, laborite, speaking in the house of commons, stated that he would ask his party to leave the house when the government's motion regarding Mosul was reached.

This was in protest against the government's procedure in preparing a motion asking for approval of its Mosul policy just as parliament was adjourning for the holidays thus giving the opposition no chance to consider whether an amendment should be postponed.

Asks Acceptance of Christian Faith

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Accepting Jesus of Nazareth "not as a myth but as a man," Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free Synagogue, believes that the doctrines of the Nazarene are those taught by the Jewish elders.

If Christianity is impractical and unattainable as the Jews feel it is, Dr. Wise told a congregation in Carnegie Hall yesterday, it is because Christians have failed to live up to its teachings. The doctrines preached by Christ he said, form a code of ethics unparalleled in the history of morality.
