A Six-Room Colonial House, Convenient in
Plan and Distinctive in Appearance

House No. 130
Designed by Alfred Cushman Case, Architect
Copyright, American Four Brick Association

THIS house is designed along the line of the fine old houses that were built around Philadelphia in the days of the Colonies. A lot of architectural styles have been developed since the Colonial times, but for convenience of interior arrangement and for character on the exterior, few modern styles have approached it.

Colonial architecture has continued to make its appeal to large numbers of builders. Particularly has this been true in the last ten years. More and more home-builders are turning back to the various types of Colonial architecture, for those types best express the American conception of home.

It is only to be expected that such a house as this would be economical to build for our forefathers were a thrifty lot. They held to square lines and simple roofs—the two elements that make for economy in construction.

The floor plans of this house are unusually compact. Even a casual study will show that there has been no waste of floor space, and that all the space has been utilized to the best advantage. The architect has given thought to the woman who must "operate" the house and has grouped the rooms on both floors so that the housework can be done with a minimum of effort.

The porch, which is reached through the dining room, is placed at the back of the house where the family may spend the summer evenings in privacy and enjoy the garden view. The drying yard could be screened from the street by a lattice fence as indicated in the picture above.

Red brick would be best suited to this type of house. Interest would be added to the wall field by laying the brick in Flemish or English Cross bond.

The dimensions of the house are 26 feet 9 inches by 34 feet 3 inches so that it could be built on a city lot as well as in a more open suburban community. The ceiling heights on the first floor are 8 feet; and on the second floor 7 feet 6 inches.

CHANG TO KILL
MANY ENEMIES

TOKYO, Dec. 26. (AP)—The foreign office has received advices from the Japanese council at Mukden, that the Chinese governor has refused to promise mercy for the preservation of the lives of the defeated Marshal Kuo Sung-Ling's family and also for the lives of Kuo's principal officers. Consequently it is feared that a general execution of Chang's enemies is imminent.

The Japanese government is doing its utmost to prevent Chang from wreaking vengeance, the foreign office stated, but it is feared the governments efforts will prove useless.

Word was received from Shanghai by the foreign office that all of Kuo's troops surrendered and have joined General Chang's forces. In consequence the warring between the two factions, whose recent hostilities have centered around Mukden, the Manchurian capital is believed to be finished. The cruiser Hiyoko, which previously had been sent to Chingwangtao for the protection of nationals, was ordered to return to Port Arthur.

Minister of foreign affairs Shidehara conferred with Lieutenant General Gurgling the immediate recall of all Japanese troops stationed at Mukden. All Korean troops were ordered to return to Seoul immediately and the Kyushu troops early in January will return to Japan. Their places being taken in leased territory there by replacement troops. The spokesman for the foreign office stated that thus far no confirmation had been received of the execution of Marshal Kuo and his wife by Chang, but believed that the report was authentic.

Chang Tso-Lin is reported to be in Mukden, jubilant and happy, and besides celebrating his victory over Kuo is also celebrating the birth of a child by his fifth wife.

U. S. Marines
Off For China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (AP)—A company of American marines are enroute to China from Manila, but whether the movement has special significance in view of the Chinese civil war has not been made known by officials here.

Lacking official explanatory details, it will be the sailing of several destroyers with marines routine nature.

These included the reported capture of Thursday of Tientsin by the national peoples army, and the killing yesterday of General Kuo Sung.

The capture of Tientsin, the peoples army was said to have defeated governor of Chihli province.

Peking, it is thought, may be the destination of the marines sailing from Manila, since they would not likely be needed at Tientsin, where the army has charge of American military activities. Admiral Clarence S. Williams, commander of Asiatic fleet, recently informed the navy department that he planned to send destroyers to Shanghai as relief units, and possibly the marines will relieve others at Peking.

After many weeks and months of waiting, the street signs are now being distributed and put up by the city street department, according to announcement today at the chamber of commerce. The city forces will be employed for a week or two getting all the signs in place.

The street sign movement was started this past summer by The Evening Herald, which started a fund for the purchase of the signs and then contributed $50 from the proceeds of a baseball game. The chamber of commerce contributed $100, and local residents made other contributions to the fund. The street signs have long been needed, and their appearance in every part of the city will be greatly welcomed.

Federal Divorce
Bill Is Favored
By Five Jurists

Chicago, Dec. 26. (AP)—The federal divorce bill introduced in congress by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, was unanimously favored by five Cook county judges who have had experience in the divorce courts, though they suggested alterations, a symposium revealed today. The five have heard more than 75,000 divorces petitions in the last five years.

Judge Joseph Sabath expressed approval of an amendment which would require the prospective bride and bridegroom to give two weeks notice before they obtain a marriage license.
