MANY HARDING LETTERS GONE

MARION, Ohio, Dec. 29. (AP)—A check of the index of the correspondence files of the late President Warren G. Harding, reveals that many letters have disappeared. 347 Geo. H. Van Fleet, editor of the Marion Star, in an article published in the Star today.

Mr. Van Fleet, who was for many years associated with Mr. Harding in the publication of the Star, declared that the charges that Mrs. Harding destroyed many valuable official papers when she brought his correspondence to Marion following Mr. Harding's death, are erroneous.

Mrs. Harding, Mr. Van Fleet said, bought five boxes of letters of the late chief executive to Marion, which she either saved or destroyed, at the same time checking them off the index. This check shows that many of Mr. Harding's letters never reached here. Where the missing letters went is not known.

The charge that Mrs. Harding had destroyed important official papers follows failure to locate some documents which had been in possession of the chief executive. What letters Mrs. Harding did destroy were those of a very personal and unimportant nature, the check shows. She saved those which she considered of interest to posterity, Van Fleet said.

Lee Is Given Verdict From Park Company

County Assessor Winner in Complicated Suit

William T. Lee, county assessor, is approximately $4000 better off this afternoon than he was this morning, due to the returning of a judgment in his favor by Circuit Judge A. L. Leavitt in the case of Lee vs. the Crater Lake National Park company.

According to the findings of the court, Lee, who had purchased seven cars to be used in the park run, was forced to default in his payments to the Portland Motor Car company when two months' payments were withheld from him by the park company.

The Portland Motor Car company was found by Judge Leavitt to be entitled to $3,985.35 from Lee and the park company jointly. The park company has in its possession $3356 approximately, and this is to be applied on the account.

Lee is given judgment for $1500 out of which he must pay the balance due the Portland Motor Car company.

Under the original agreement with the Crater Lake National Park company, Lee was to furnish transportation in the park and was to receive 85% of the proceeds.

May Be Fiance of Prince of Wales

LONDON, Dec. 29. (AP)—British society is again speculating as to whether a bride has finally been found for the Prince of Wales.

The speculation follows an announcement that Princess Astrid, niece of the king of Sweden, who is immensely popular with King George and Queen Mary, is to be a guest at Buckingham palace as soon as the period of court mourning for Dowager Queen Alexandra ends.

Astrid, who is 20, is one of the prettiest younger members of European royalty. She has an attractive personality, is a splendid dancer, is fond of country life and sports, and is well versed in domestic science.

She is a daughter of Prince Charles and Princess Ingeborg, and a niece, on her mother's side, of the late Dowager Queen Alexandra.

Lucien Applegate Painfully Burned

Applegate, was painfully but not seriously burned at his ranch home at Upper Swan lake Sunday night when a spark from his pipe caught fire to his clothing, as he was sleeping in a chair. Others in the room rushed to his aid and succeeded in putting out the fire before it had gained much headway. The burns were confined to his legs. In spite of his advanced years, 87, physicians say he will recover.

Tennant Stages Big Celebration

(Special to The Herald)

The Christmas entertainment at the Wildwood Christmas church Thursday evening by the children of the Sunday school under direction of Mrs. F. S. Ford was a splendid entertainment, well enacted and pleasing in every respect. The little play centered around Grace Gilen who went to bed Christmas eve and dreamed a wonderful dream. She dreamed first that the Christmas bells came in and circled around her bed, eight young girls dressed in silver paper costumes and carrying small bells which they rang, keeping time with them to the singing, next came six little boys representing Christmas stockings. Then Miss Elizabeth Gibson in a green paper costume as the Christmas tree, followed by Miss King all in white and carrying a star, was the Christmas star, then a lot of little girls in long colored dresses with high pointed red caps were the candles, then came Dorothy Dollarhide as a Christmas package, Wayne McDonald as the Christmas guest, and Morris Dollarhide as a huge stick of candy followed by Clarissa Opperud with a silver bell calling in the dinning, Harold Anderson as the turkey, Maxine Harper the cranberry sauce, Lucille Anderson the celery and Arthur Harper the plum pudding. Then after these had all said their little parts interspersed with singing and ringing the Christmas bells, the Christmas angels, a band of young girls wearing white robes and white wings came in and sang around the little girl's bed, then the entire ensemble sang beautifully. Reg'na and Byron Diskin, dressed as misletoe and holly sang about the legend of the holly and misletoe, taken altogether it was a wonderful dream for a little girl to have on Christmas eve. All did their parts so well and sang their songs so sweetly, while Mrs. E. D. McDonald presided at the piano.

Use Smudge Fires For Citrus Fruit

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 29. (AP)—Hot blasts from hundreds of smudge pots early today were sweeping many citrus groves in Florida to combat the onset of chilling winds from the north. The burning of smudge pots was in response to a warning of killing frosts and freezing temperatures issued by the U. S. weather bureau. Assisting in the preventative work were the Florida Citrus Exchange, which last night issued telegraphic warning to many of its members and through radio station WDAE of the Tampa Daily Times, which was broadcasting warnings every half hour.

WHAT'S SMART IN MEN'S WEAR

Formal clothes for evening play a larger part in American life

AMERICA is just coming out of the pioneer stage in many ways. The pioneer, while he was conquering the wilderness, enjoyed a good many things we now call luxuries—wild turkeys, mallard ducks, quail, grouse, venison; lobsters, terrapin.

But he lacked many of the amenities of life—notably clothes. They were hard to get, so he made himself believe he didn't want them. For hundreds of years, the Englishman and the Frenchman, living in countries where the pioneering was finished a thousand years ago, have been learning to play. Social recreation—the dinner, the opera, the salon, became an art. Clothes developed along with other refinements. There were clothes for sport, for lounging, for travel, for business and for formal wear.

For at least a generation America has led the world in wealth and material comforts, but the pioneer spirit died hard. A dozen years ago a few men played golf, and they played it in their old clothes. Now thousands play it—and dress for it. Comparatively recently few men "dressed for dinner." Now there are many public restaurants and hotels where diners who wear formal clothes are in the majority. No one would think of going to evening affairs in society without them. Full dress, of course, is the correct thing for strictly formal evening wear, but the dinner jacket is overwhelmingly popular among college men and young men generally. The style scout of Hart Schaffner & Marx tell us that the double-breasted dinner jacket is the newest thing in London and at the Florida resorts. A lightsweight dinner jacket, worn with a belt and not

RUBBER PRICES MOUNT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. (AP)—The best method for the United States to follow in combating high rubber prices is to use as little of the product as possible and to build up independent sources of supply. Secretary Hoover declared today, in commenting on developments growing out of charges against an alleged British rubber monopoly.

FLOODS GROW WORSE

PARIS, Dec. 29. (AP)—The flood situation, due to the recently heavy rainfalls and the melting snow, is getting worse. At the PINE TREE

Evans Brown, master magician, is featured on the Pine Tree program tonight and will offer a varied and entertaining act. Besides being a master of magic, Mr. Brown is a musician of note, especially with the French and Italian harp. The picture offering is also unusually good and moves with the speed of an express train. It is "Excuse Me," the picturization of Rupert Hughes' famous stage farce, and tells of a pair of newlyweds who find themselves aboard an express train at night searching for a minister whom they never find. The characters in this uproariously funny photoplay are brought to life by a cast of tried and true favorites, Conrad Nagel and Norma Shearer are the anxious bride and groom, and Leonee Adoree is the French friend who almost disrupts their romance. The supporting cast is very good. This is the fastest, funniest picture the Pine Tree has had for many a day.

Great preparations are being made for the New Year's Eve midnight matinee at this popular playhouse. The tickets are now on sale and indications are that the house will be crowded. Refreshments and cigarettes will be served and a special vaudeville program will be presented. At midnight there will be a noise making contest, so come prepared. Various noisemaking devices will be given out, and there is no doubt but that the New Year will be ushered in with lots of fun.
