At the PINE TREE

The vaudeville offerings are very good this week and will be thoroughly enjoyed. Charles and Helen Polley are genuinely versatile, doing a little bit of everything and doing it well. The La Salle Trio in "Eighteen feet of harmony" are possessed of rich melodious voices that blend harmoniously. The Dancin' Lunds present "Stepping Out" which is a charming and clever dancing act. Fred and Elsie Burke do comedy singing, talking and eccentric dancing and are unusually good. Lefever, the master comedy cyclist is a clever all-round entertainer.

The annual Midnight Matinee is planned to welcome in the New Year in a far more elaborate manner than heretofore. The doors will open at eleven and the program starts promptly at 11:15. An entirely different vaudeville program has been arranged, and there will be a full orchestra. Favors, cigarettes, refreshments and newspapers will be distributed, and promptly at twelve o'clock the noise making contest will be on. A prize will be offered for the noisiest celebrator, so come prepared.

An automobile race which for thrills rivals that of the annual Indianapolis Classic, furnishes a real "smash" climax in more than one sense of the word for the production, "Not so Long Ago," which will be shown tonight at the Pine Tree theatre.

On a street lined with more than five hundred people—an exact replica of Fifth Avenue, New York, in the late 50's—the race is run between the first horseless carriage ever built and a man on foot.

Mounted high on the rattling, wood-consuming contraption, Betty

Bronson, featured with Ricardo Cortez in the leading roles of the picture, and Dan Crimmins, who plays her inventive father, race Laurance Wheat, in an antiquated trace outfit, the remarkable distance of one city block.

Due to a faulty start upon the part of the horseless carriage, it is necessary to begin the race again. The judges are still trying to decide the winner, inasmuch as the horseless carriage blew up just as it was crossing the finish line.

At The LIBERTY

Pete Morrison and Lightnin' Morrison's wonder horse, are to be seen in their partnership role in "Triple Action," starring Morrison. The picture will be screened at the Liberty theatre commencing today.

"Triple Action" is a story of border rangers and outlaws and is featured by one spectacular incident after another. There are wild rides by the daring Morrison, thrilling rough-and-tumble fights, the dash of an airplane through the sky and a dare-devil parachute drop from the wing of the airplane with Morrison making the plunge. Through it all runs a double-barrelled romance with a beautiful American girl and an equally beautiful Mexican senorita in love with the hero. The picture has its comedy, which is interpreted at just the right moments.

Boxers Are On Edge For Their Big New Year's Night Card At Scandia Hall Tomorrow Evening

Frank Farmer And Willie Keeler Both Confident of Victory—Hogan and Jim Fleming to Furnish Real Thrills—Bouts Look Best Yet

All of the boys are in the well known "pink" and awaiting the tap of the gong which will send them out to face each other at 8:30 tomorrow night in the big New Year's night boxing card at Scandia hall.

Frank Farmer, Tacoma logger, who faces Willie Keeler, champion of the Rocky mountain states, pronounced himself in readiness for the fray, and predicted he will beat Keeler well within 10 rounds.

"I came down here to even up the score with Keeler and avenge myself for the home-town decision he got against me at Kellogg, Idaho, last August," said Farmer. "You can bet your young life I'm not going to leave here until I have shown Keeler I'm still too good for him."

Keeler was equally positive today concerning what he would do to Farmer.

"I had him nearly out in the closing rounds at Kellogg, and I expect to have him clear out inside of seven tomorrow night," promised Keeler. "This attitude is just to my liking. I am in perfect condition, and expect to send Farmer back to the home folks a sadder but wiser man. I'll show him there was no home-town flavor to that decision I got against him at Kellogg."

With the two principals throwing such fiendly little bouquets at each other, it looks like the fur and leather and a few other things will fly through the air when these two behemoths square away against each other tomorrow night in the main bout of the card. Both have their supporters and both are out to win. The winner has been promised a bout with either Nig Yeager or Tiny Herman on an early card.

"One Round" Hogan, pride of Malin and Jim Fleming, aspiring and perspiring bridegroom, will renew their sensational quarrel of two weeks ago in six rounds or less of the semi-windup. Although Hogan rules a slight favorite, there appears to be plenty of nickles ready to back Fleming, and the interest in this bout is almost as keen as in the main event between the two widely heralded heavyweights.

Kid Short and Buck Weaver will furnish the thrills and knockdowns in the four-round special event. Although these boys may be a bit short of science, they're chock full of ambition and dynamite blows, and it looks like one or the other of them will drop and stay put while Referee Joe Shirk tools off the fatal 10-count. Any way, it's going to be a real hot battle while it lasts; the kind of a fight the fans like to stand up on their hind legs and yell about.

Carl Floyd and Kid Sullivan will start off Friday's big show in a scheduled four-round preliminary which promises to give more than the usual action for certain reasons.

The time is tomorrow (Friday) night; the place is Scandia hall; the hour is 8:30 and the card is a "wow"! Advance sales indicate the house will be sold out.

WASHINGTON—Nobody in Congress is so favorably situated for having a good time as a party delegation of one.

A member of a big delegation has to submit to party discipline. He's a cop. True, he can insure, but he's hated if he does, which costs him political advantages he'd enjoy otherwise.

A delegation of one has none but himself to think about. He isn't a rebel. He's a minority party and gets recognition as such.

Senator Henrik Shipstead, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, is distinguished thus in the upper, and Representative Victor L. Berger, Wisconsin Socialist, in the lower house.

Shipstead had a fellow Farmer-Labor Senator, Magnus Johnson, in the last congress, but not in this.

In the house, with Berger, sits another member, Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York, who classes officially as a Socialist. La Guardia however, really is a Republican who couldn't get his own party nomination in the last campaign and had to run as a Socialist. Actually, Berger flocks alone.

Shipstead and Berger stand well. They have good committee assignments. Shipstead notably on foreign relations and Berger on labor. On these, among other subjects concerning which they are exceptionally well informed, they're regarded as authorities.

Their influence is considerable, from the very fact that, as between the big groups, they're quite disinterested.

The "regulars" attitude toward them is altogether different from the "regular" attitude toward the insurgents, who claim to belong to a big party when the big party doesn't consider that they do.

DAMASCUS.—Hassan El Kharrafi, Druse rebel, who detailed forty men to behead M. de Jouvenal, French high commissioner, has lost his own life in fighting outside the city.

ONE Master Recipe for FIVE kinds of cakes

It's certainly a pretty custom to serve cake when guests come. But, since we all do it, there is danger of monotony.

It is to escape that, and escape work, that women find the Sperry Master Recipes so helpful. By learning only three Master Recipes and simple variations of them, they find they can make some two dozen kinds of cake.

One of these Master Recipes—for Layer Cake—is given below. Notice how simple it is and how easily it makes five kinds of cake.

The Sperry Master Recipe for Layer Cake

1/2 cup shortening
1-1/2 cups sugar
2 cups Sperry Drifted Snow
Flour sifted with 2 teaspoons of baking powder

3 eggs
1/2 cup milk or water
1 teaspoon each of vanilla and lemon extract

Cream shortening until it may be beaten with a spoon; add sugar gradually beating until mixture is creamy; Separate the whites and yolks of the eggs. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored; add to creamed butter and sugar; beat vigorously; then add flour and liquid alternately, stirring the whole until batter is smooth; and fold in the well-beaten whites of eggs and flavoring. Bake in three well-greased layer cake pans in a fairly hot oven (360° F.). Use your favorite filling.

Walnut Loaf Cake

Prepare the Master Recipe, adding one-half cup of finely chopped walnuts to the cake batter before folding in the beaten whites of eggs. Bake in a greased loaf cake pan about 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350° F.).

Golden Cake

Prepare the Master Recipe, using four egg yolks and one whole egg. Add these well-beaten to the creamed butter and sugar. Bake in a loaf (350° F.), or in layers (360° F.).

Small Fancy Cakes

Prepare the Master Recipe. Pour batter into a well-greased, shallow baking pan. Bake from 15 to 20 minutes. Cool, then cut into fancy shapes and ice. Chocolate, pink, and white icing will give variety, and the tops can be decorated with chopped nuts, coconut, and candied fruits.

FREE booklet of Sperry Master Recipes
The fifth kind, White Cake, made with this same Master Recipe, and other Sperry Master Recipes for cakes are given in a new booklet, "EIGHTY Food Delights from EIGHT Master Recipes." All of your baking will be simpler and surer with these Master Recipes. Write, I'll send the booklet FREE.
