

FEDERAL OFFICER HERE

C. McCredie, federal prohibition agent, and recognized as one of the most efficient and fair officers in southern Oregon, arrived in Klamath Falls last night from Medford. This is not Mr. McCredie's first visit to Klamath Falls. Just a short time ago he came to Klamath and materially aided state and county officers in apprehension of liquor vendors and manufacturers. Mr. McCredie was not sure just how long he would remain in Klamath on this visit.

HERE FROM FORT

Jerry Slemore, well known rancher of the Fort Klamath country, was in the city yesterday on a brief business trip.

BACK FROM SOUTH

Rollin Rodolph has returned to his home here after enjoying a vacation in San Francisco and other California points.

LINTNER HERE

On one of his typical visits to Klamath Falls—that is, arriving late one night and leaving early next morning—G. V. Lintner, assistant chief engineer for the S. P. and S. and Oregon Trunk railroads, arrived in Klamath Falls last night. Mr. Lintner was here in connection with the surveys made by the Northern lines from Bend south to Klamath Falls last summer and fall. During the period when the Northern lines and the Southern Pacific were running surveys of proposed lines in Klamath and northern California, Mr. Lintner spent practically all of his time in the Klamath territory. Mr. Lintner is a resident of Portland.

TRACTOR MAN HERE

H. Thomas of Medford arrived in Klamath Falls last night to spend several days attending to business matters. Mr. Thomas is connected with the Robertson Tractor company and is in Klamath for the purpose of interviewing prospective buyers of tractors. He is stopping at the Hall hotel.

MR. LUCAS LEAVES

Sad news of the death of Mrs. E. M. Lucas, mother of F. M. Lucas local business man, was received here Sunday. Mr. Lucas immediately left for his mother's home in Hallowell, Kansas, yesterday morning.

CHURCH WOMEN TO MEET

The women of St. Paul's Episcopal church congregation, especially those of the church guild, will meet at the home of Mrs. E. D. Lamb, on 104 Park avenue, for the purpose of repairing the choir robes for the opening of the new church. The meeting will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Lunch will be provided.

RANCHER IN TOWN

Charles W. Elk, who conducts a ranch in the Hildebrand district, was in town today to attend to business matters. The residents of Hildebrand are in good spirits these days, principally because of the recent announcement by County Judge R. H. Bunnell that the Hildebrand market road will probably be surfaced this year.

THE WEATHER

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy shows the barometric pressure to be slightly higher today. A continuation of present weather is probable.

Forecast for next 24 hours:
Fair and cool with moderate winds.

The Tyco recording thermometer registered maximum and minimum temperatures today as follows:
High, 34; low, 17.

Father Richard predicts "a disturbance of considerable energy entering by both North and South commencing the 13th." No signs, as yet, of this.

ON BUYING TRIP

M. G. Mordoff of the Mordoff and Woolf furniture store, left for Portland, Seattle and other northern points on a buying trip, expecting to be gone about two weeks. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mordoff.

TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

Nomination of all officers for the current year will be made at the regular meeting of the Klamath Sportsmen's association, which has been called for next Monday evening at the chamber of commerce quarters.

OIL COMPANY TO MEET

A meeting of stockholders of the West Coast Oil and Gas association will be held on the evening of January 20, according to a call issued by the board of directors. A report of the geologist who has been investigating prospects for the association will be made at this meeting.

HERE FROM CORVALLIS

Miss Helen Cowgill, head of the home economics department of the Oregon Agricultural college, is in Klamath county this week and is a guest at the White Pelican hotel.

HERE ON BUSINESS

Fred L. Colvig of Medford, connected with the office of the Internal revenue collector, is on one of his frequent business visits to Klamath Falls.

HERE FROM MEDFORD

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Looney, visitors in Klamath Falls from their home in Medford. They are former Klamath residents and well known throughout the county.

VISITING KLAMATH

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson of Calgary, Canada, are in Klamath on a combined business and pleasure trip.

IS MUCH IMPROVED

Helene Breitenstein, society editor of the Evening Herald, is recovering from a severe attack of grippe, and was able to return to her apartment in the Winters building yesterday after being confined in the Klamath Valley hospital.

HAS THE FLU

James Maguire, Jr., is confined to his home with a severe attack of flu. He was reported as some better this afternoon, but will be unable to be at his office probably until the first of the week.

BACK TO RENO

Judge John S. Orr of Reno returned to his home Sunday after attending the funeral of his brother, Marshall S. Orr, Langell valley rancher, who died New Year's night.

Practically all misunderstandings are caused by people who don't understand they don't understand.

MRS. MAULIFFE RETURNS

Mrs. Jack McAuliffe of Fort Klamath returned last night from San Francisco where she has been with her husband who is recovering from the effects of carbon monoxide poisoning. Mr. McAuliffe has not recovered from the terrible experience, which so nearly took his life, on the road to Lakeview last June. Mrs. McAuliffe registered at the Hall hotel.

JENSON SUCCESSFUL

Word was received here today that Joseph Jenson, former county road engineer of Klamath county, had successfully passed the examination which qualified him as a licensed engineer of Oregon. Mr. Jenson is now in southern California recovering from the effect of a serious illness of nearly a year ago. He hopes to return to Klamath county some time in the future.

LIBRARIAN SICK

Miss Esola Hawkins, city librarian, is confined to her home with the grippe, and her condition last night was said to be quite serious.

VISITS IN CITY

W. L. Frain was a business visitor in the city this week from his home at Berkeley, California, on the Klamath river. Mr. Frain recently sold his ranch in that section to Copco.

FROM BEATY

F. J. Schmitz is one of the higher merchants of Beaty. There aren't many pioneer merchants in that reservation settlement because there are only two or three business establishments, but Schmitz is one of the first. He comes to Klamath Falls occasionally to purchase supplies and attend to business matters and it was for that reason that Beaty came to Klamath Falls last night. He is stopping at the Hall hotel.

DOWN FROM ALGONA

G. Thompson, a resident of Algona, was a visitor of Klamath Falls last night. He is stopping at the Arcade hotel.

W. L. CORNWALL HERE

One of the stockholders of the Klamath Meadows company, otherwise known as the Weed ranch, is W. L. Cornwall of Los Angeles, who arrived in Klamath Falls last night from Los Angeles to spend several days attending to his business interests. The interest of all those connected with the Klamath Meadows company is now centered about the two half million dollar damage suits brought against the California Oregon Power company, the land concern alleging damage to their holdings incurred by the raising and lowering of the Klamath lake level by the power company. Mr. Cornwall is stopping at the Hall hotel.

NYE SEATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12. — (P) — The senate voted today to seat Gerold P. Nye as a senator from North Dakota.

JAKE STEIGER, SR. HERE

One of the names prominently identified with the Klamath lumber industry is Jake J. Steiger, Sr. Mr. Steiger for years has been active in the Klamath lumber business, particularly in the territory adjacent to Chiloquin. He formerly operated a saw mill on the Williamson river. Now he is residing with his family in Medford. Last night he returned to Klamath Falls for several days to attend to his business interests in this county. He registered at the Hall hotel.

CATTLE SHIPPER HERE

Jack Magner of San Francisco is connected with the cattle business. He is not an owner nor a buyer. He is a shipper and to supervise shipments south to San Francisco he arrived in Klamath Falls last night. He is stopping at the Hall hotel.

Local Man Finds
Way to Win Wife

After a year of discord, another Klamath husband this week found the way to his wife's heart. The remedy took the course of least resistance, followed the crowd and showed her a good time at Seaside ball where good music furnished by the Tantalus made his task easy. Next big dance Wednesday night—take this tip and be on hand if you like good music, a good floor and a congenial crowd.—adv.

All Because Somebody Stepped on a Match

A brand new house was destroyed, two people were killed and five others hurt because someone accidentally trod on a match and touched off a gas-explosion on Christmas afternoon at Topeka, Kas. The people were inspecting the house, which was unoccupied, and there was a leaky gas pipe. Photo shows the ruins, with the damaged wall of a neighbor's house in the background.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Mustard Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker
Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, in the form of a white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).
