KLAMATH DAIRY HERDS IMPROVED

Highly Bred Holsteins Raise Standard of Dairy Livestock in County

During the month of December four highly bred Holstein bulls were placed at the head of as many Holstein herds in Klamath county, it was announced today by C. A. Henderson, county agent.

These bulls were purchased from William Bray by Klamath stockmen; they were shipped in from Seattle, having originally come from Wisconsin.

S. P. Dehlinger, Mt. Laki, purchased Major Mechthilde Sadie Vale Newman; Oscar Schultz, Henley, bought Billy Sadie Vale Newman; J. E. and S. E. Enman, Mt. Laki, purchased Dickie Sadie Vale Mechthilde; and Al Durant, Spring Lake, purchased Dickie Newman Sadie Vale. These four bulls are very closely related and carry a high percentage of the blood of Margie Newman, also such noted Holsteins as Sir Chimaecum Wayne, Chimaecum Wayne Boon and Kink Korndyke Sadie Vale. The four bulls are sired by Major Newman Sadie Vale, while Dickie Sadie Vale Mechthilde and Major Mechthilde Sadie Vale Newman are out of Margie Newman Mechthilde, with a seven day record of 22.79 pounds of butter and 868.20 pounds of milk.

Blue Records

Dickie Newman Sadie Vale and Billy Sadie Vale Newman are out of Margie Newman III, who has a 7-day butter record at age of 3 1/2 years of 23.11 pounds and is a maternal sister to the sire of Colony Sena Newman with a record of 1079.54, Colony Anthe Newman with a record of 1012.75, Colony Aagge Cornucopia with a record of 982.25, and Lady Cornucopia Mercedes with a record of 979.34 pounds of butter.

In addition, twin bull calves, sired by Major Newman Sadie Vale, out of Margie Mechthilde, were offered as prizes by Mr. Bray to the boy or girl making the best record in Klamath county during the coming year in the care of their dairy livestock. It is felt that the addition of these six bulls, carrying the breeding they do, will be a very material benefit in building up the quality of Holstein cattle in Klamath county.

Prohi Fund Is In Good Shape Report Shows

Big Sum From Fines is Collected Since June 30, 1925

From almost bankruptcy, Klamath's prohibition fund in the past six months has swelled and flourished and is now on a more solid financial footing than ever before, the semi-annual report of County Treasurer Vera Houston revealed this morning.

A little over six months ago, the fund boasted of just $620.57, not enough to maintain extensive prohibitions in Klamath. Fines and taxes brought in during the period from July 1 to January 1, the sum of $15,849. Continuation of the prohibition enforcement program in Klamath necessitated the expenditure of $11,415.32 which according to the report leaves $5,046.82 in cash which is now on hand in the prohibition coffers.

Never before, in a similar period, have liquor fines rolled in with such consistency. Last year Klamath received a good name because there appeared to be better prohibition enforcement in Klamath than elsewhere. But from the amount of liquor fines, which exceeded in many months those levied in Multnomah county, there arose a feeling in the state that Klamath was second to none in point of liquor distribution.

William Canton Leaves on Friday For Bend, Oregon

William Canton, office engineer for the state highway department, leaves tomorrow with his family for Bend, Ore., where he will assume a position as engineer under Charley Wanzor, division engineer of the state highway commission, in charge of the Klamath and Lake county territories.

Mr. Canton came to Klamath Falls from Medford about two years ago. Since arriving in this community he has been prominently identified with civic activities, in particular the Amplexian Legion. He was elected vice-commander and service officer of that body and was indefatigable in his work for the organization.

DEATH REACHES OUT AND TAKES LOCAL PREACHER

Rev. W. E. Bobbitt Succumbs at Woodland, Cal. From Cancer

A minister of the gospel of Klamath Falls passed away in Woodland, California, late yesterday, a victim to the malignant disease of cancer. The body of the pastor will be laid to rest tomorrow and memory of him in Woodland will undoubtedly fade, with the passing of years.

But in Klamath Falls the memory of his brilliant mind and his attractive personality will be perpetuated for years by the House of Worship, now under construction, which was the result of his indefatigable work while pastor here.

The minister was W. E. Bobbitt, pastor of the First Christian church, who died yesterday.

The church is located on the corner of Ninth and Pine streets and nears completion.

Ravages of cancer finally downed the versatile and militant pastor. He had come to Klamath in February 1924, from Woodland, California seeking a higher altitude in the hope that it would improve his broken down health. The disease gained such a headway in the summer of 1925 that the minister was forced to return to Woodland and enter a hospital.

The Rev. Bobbitt had been pastor of the Woodland First Christian church for years prior to coming to Klamath Falls. Many offers were made to him, when he decided to move from the California town, but he chose Klamath Falls.

Funeral services will be held in the Woodland First Christian church at Woodland, California, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lila Bobbitt.

Mr. Bobbitt was 54 years old and was a native of California. His father died when he was three years old and his mother re-married. Shortly after he was sent as a small boy to the home of an aunt and uncle in Missouri to live.

Was Newsboy
He started selling papers as a newsboy when he was nine years old and a few years later he became a news-butcher on a train, working at that for nearly four years.

From the time he was 13 years old he maintained himself and lived his own life. From his earnings as a news-butcher he was able to educate himself in the public schools, and later he worked in a packing plant to pay his way through college.

In college he became a noted football and baseball player, and he earned his money to put himself through a theological school by playing professional baseball. He played on Kansas City and Topeka league teams for three years while attending college and studying for the ministry.

Football Coach
He came west 20 years ago, first settling at Payette, Idaho, where he remained for several years. He was pastor of the Christian church at Woodland, California, for 15 years, during which time he coached the high school football team continuously.

Even after he came to Klamath Falls with his health gradually failing, Rev. Bobbitt was a close follower of athletics of all kinds. During the world series baseball games he could always be found in The Herald office, getting the play by play report hot off the wire with enthusiasm equal to that of the most rabid fan.

Toulouse, Enders Are Fined $250

Just as philosophically as a business man accepts the theory of depreciation of value in machinery and the like, do bootleggers accept the fines levied when they are caught by prohibition officers. And Karl Toulouse and Bob Enders were no exceptions to the rule. They were fined $250 each on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor and paid their fines without a murmur.

It is a necessary risk, liquor purveyors have decided. A risk that is worth while by the large profits derived from liquor sales. Every bootlegger says constantly: "Well, I guess they'll get me next," and continues to sell liquor as actively as ever.

DAGGETTS LEAVING
Prominent local residents who will leave for San Francisco in the morning are Mr. and Mrs. Claude Daggett. Their visit will be an extended one with relatives and friends.

"I Ain't Mad at Nobody"

Dainty Dorothy Waters

Until recently playing supporting parts for such screen stars as Mary Pickford, Beba Daniels, Charles Ray, etc. She will be seen tonight at the Pine Tree in a clever offerings of songs and dances.

"The Lyle Harmony Four" are known as "The Singing Jesters" and render perfect harmony and natural comedy in new songs. Wally & Harcourt, a versatile pair of entertainers, appear in a novel idea of presenting a comedy which speaks for itself. The Arrowsmiths present an athletic novelty which is unusually interesting. Leroy and Betty in "Covering Territory" are two artists of ability and class and offer some very amusing songs and chatter.

On the screen Percy Marmont and Alice Joyce are featured in "Daddy's Gone A-Hunting," a dramatization of a famous stage play. Rather darling—but very good.
