

AUTO FEES TOO HIGH
 PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 22. (AP)—Following a declaration by Secretary of State Sam A. Koser yesterday at a joint meeting of equity judges, sheriff's and district attorneys that automobile license fees in Oregon could be cut without impairing the highway program, H. B. Van Duzer, of the state highway commission said in an address today before the county judges that it would not be safe to undertake any cut in such fees until the eastern Oregon part of the highway program is completed.

INDUSTRIAL AND MILLS ADDITION GET BIG GROWTH

Adjacent Sections, Are Center of Most Extensive Residence Boom Here

BUENA VISTA IS HIGH

Outlying Sections of City Are Steadily Building up With New Homes

Where is the home building development of Klamath Falls, so apparent during the past year, concentrated? What sections of Klamath Falls are in the throes of the greatest development?

A comprehensive and careful survey of building records kept in the office of the police judge answers these questions conclusively.

Not only do the records tell where most of the homes are going up, but they tell what sections are being benefited by higher class homes and which additions, from the smaller structures.

Mills addition and Industrial addition were the outstanding home building centers of Klamath Falls during 1925. The two additions, adjacent to each other, include all that area on the east side of the S. P. railroad track, from Main street south to Reclamation avenue.

Industrial Addition High
 In these two additions, 115 new homes were constructed during 1925. In Mills addition 55 were built and in Industrial addition, 63, which is a new record for any one residential district in Klamath Falls.

It is the building up of a new section of Klamath Falls, a section not so long ago considered to be fair farm land. Now it is considered good residence property, which can be purchased at a reasonable price and on which permanent homes can be constructed.

But mere numbers do not tell the whole story. These two sections are the home of the workingman, of the man who cannot afford or who does not want to invest more than five or six hundred dollars in his home. It is true, no other section in the city can boast of as many homes in one year, yet the quality is far exceeded in certain other residential districts.

Better Class Homes
 Hot Springs addition is one example where the type of homes built during last year were of the better class. In Hot Springs addition 45 new homes were constructed, most of them costing from $1000 to $5000.

Another district in Klamath Falls which is emerging from the stagnation under which it has labored for several years past, is Buena Vista addition, the largest addition in the city, extending from California avenue north as far as Shippington addition. Fifty eight new homes were built in this area during 1925, some were shacks, others were not; but all contributed to the general development of the section.

Other sections of town that enjoyed a substantial development during the year were Fairview Second addition, with 35 new homes; Nichols addition, 24; Mills Second addition, 20; First addition, 34.

Outlying Sections Develop
 Of outstanding importance is the development in outlying sections. Darrow addition, for example, located in the extreme south east part of town, and more than a mile from the center of the city, had 15 more residences than a year ago; North Klamath Falls addition, 8; Williams addition, 5; Hillside, 9; Lakeview, 6; Lakeside, 5; and Hollister, 7.

Following, in tabulated form, is the number of new homes constructed last year in each addition in Klamath Falls:

At the PINE TREE

The "Lucky Devil," coming to the Pine Tree theatre for a 2 days run on Sunday, brings Richard Dix to the screen as the star of a story by Byron Morgan, author of "The Air Mail," and all the Wally Reid automobile hits.

Longing for an automobile of his own, Dix, as Randy Farman, wins a classy speedster at a fashionable charity bazaar. He starts off immediately on a cross country tour, but the first night convinces him that camping in the great open spaces is painfully different than arranging advertising display camps in a New York department store and he welcomes the assistance of Doris McDee, a charming little stenographer who is touring with her mother in a battered Ford.

While Randy falls desperately in love with Doris, the mother thinks she discovers something that proves Randy a notoriously wealthy young good-for-nothing. She and the girl leave camp with-out a word to him.

He follows them. Finally flat broke and with no accessories left on his car to trade in for gas, Randy meets Doris who has come to grief with a disabled motor and no money for repairs. Farman takes the gas from the flivver and tows them back to town.

Later, after an unsuccessful search for work and a near disastrous experience with a carnival show, Doris again meets Randy. Explanations are in order.

Winning two-hundred dollars by staying two rounds with "bug" at a carnival Randy enters his machine in a $10,000 road race. If he wins it, he's all set to go on with his long dreamed-of tour. If not—well.....? The picture shows just how he makes out.

At The LIBERTY

Charlie Chaplin's new picture, "The Gold Rush," coming to the Liberty theatre next Monday, is announced as a comedy drama with a story of laughter and tears and of hope deferred. It is a rugged story with the spectacle of a valiant weakling in search of gold in the biting blizzards of the north.

"The Gold Rush," brings Charlie Chaplin to the topmost peak of his dazzling career. His work in this picture will place him secure as the greatest pantomimist of all recorded time.

This story of the Alaskan gold rush; interwoven with all the labors of fate that well can come to one who is typical of life—almost reaching the goal, and watching its shadow disappear with the pained expression that only a Chaplin can wear—is a story crowned with the majesty of enterprise and the futility of it.

Laundry to Hold Big Opening Soon

Formal opening of the New City laundry, will be the outstanding event in the building fraternity of Klamath Falls, next week, it became known today. Although plans have not been definitely laid as to what date the opening will take place, it is expected to be either Friday or Saturday or next week. The new laundry building, with equipment and property, represents an investment of approximately $75,000. It is located on the corner of Fourth and Klamath avenue, an ideal situation both for service and also because of its proximity to the heating plant. The New City laundry is under the control of the Munger Laundry interests, a concern which has established a chain of laundries up and down the coast. With the purchase of the laundry from the former owner, the Munger interests immediately began laying plans for construction of a new building, a building which would guarantee them sufficient room for additional equipment and comfortable space for their employees.

Benny Dotson And Gorman To Fight Feb. 2nd

A pair of fast and clever boys will furnish the top-line thrills in the next boxing bout to be staged here on Feb. 2, according to announcement by the city boxing commission. The boys are Joe Gorman, former featherweight champion of the Pacific coast, and Benny Dotson, who now claims Klamath Falls as his home. Both boys have signed articles for the 10-round main event.

Gorman is a ring veteran whose ability is known to fans up and down the coast, and who a few years ago staged one of the greatest battles Madison Square Garden ever saw when he went 10 whirlwind rounds with Earl Beard.

Dotson has come to the front with rapid strides during the past two years and has made himself a drawing card in Portland and in other of the larger fight centers on the coast. He has been working out here for the past several weeks and is in good shape for a real battle.

The commission announces that a supporting card of more than average caliber will be signed up for the three preliminary bouts. The lighter boys will be given the call on this card in order that real speed and fast boxing will rule. Announcement of the other bouts will be made some time next week.

Public workouts will be held at Scandia hall, starting at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon.

REGISTERS PROTEST

PEKING, Jan. 22. (AP)—M. Karakhan, the Soviet envoy to China, has presented a vigorous protest to the Chinese foreign office detailing "the abominable conduct of Chinese soldiers, in the struggle between the Chinese and the Soviet for control of the Chinese Eastern railway. The trouble arose out of a refusal by the Russians, who are in control of the line, to carry Chinese troops free of charge. The protest also cites alleged acts of violence committed at Harbin.

An artistic building properly laid out costs no more—and is a better investment

This comedy-drama-tragedy of the Alaska of bygone days is called Chaplin's greatest picture for two seasons. It is said to represent his intellectual and artistic growth fresh from his dramatic triumph. A woman of Paris, and secondly, it uns the entire gamut of human emotions; the blended panorama of life, the subtle and vital essence of it, the defeat and the victory and growth of a soul in struggle.

And through all the picture Charlie has not forgotten the children. There is a tenderness in the little comedian for the children of the nation. They were his first admirers and well he knows it. It was their response that led him on to fame and fortune. And always, in the making of comedy, he considers them.

And yet, in his role of the hard-luck scurdough, Chaplin presents the biography of a life with complete understanding and sympathy. And while the pathos and sufferings of the character are converted into laughter, there is linked to the picture a chain of circumstantial tragedy that is relieved by the great comedian's ribald mastery of pantomime and comedy.

Charlie Chaplin in "The Gold Rush" fresh from its triumphant presentations in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and other large cities will be shown in Klamath Falls for the first time next Monday evening at the Liberty theatre where it is booked for a limited engagement.
