

A beautiful church is a pleasure to the whole community.

I trust the community and the congregation will enjoy this building as much as I have enjoyed my part in making it beautiful.

H. R. Perrin

One of the greatest assets in the community of man is the kind and benevolent influence of the church.

The work of this great church in the advancement of ideal and service in Klamath Falls is assured by the progressive activity of its pastor and congregation in constructing this beautiful edifice of worship.

Come to Church

St. Paul's Episcopal Church
"The Friendly Church"
Eighth and Jefferson Streets

Sunday Services
Opening Service 11 a. m.
Evening Service 7:30 p. m.

Preacher on both occasions, the
Rt. Rev. Wm. P. Remington,
D. D., Bishop of Eastern Oregon

The opening of the new Episcopal Church is an architectural addition to the town. The exterior lines of the building show the esthetic ideals of the architect. And he has happily carried them into effect. The general idea is the model of a historic parish church of England. Opinions will vary as to which is the most beautiful exterior angle. The writer likes best the view from the northwest corner on Eighth street, at the back of the church where the roofs beautifully blend, balance and run into one another. And right well have the builders carried out the artist-architect's ideals.

The interior is commodious and churchly, tho not yet completed. The next few weeks will see an endeavor to make the interior beauty match the exterior graceful lines.

And why this care and effort after beauty? The Good Book says "Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

We invite you to join us. True worship is the lifting up of the heart and mind to the throne of the True God above the cares and pettiness of the work-a-day world. It gives peace and calm here and now and happiness in the hereafter.

*Yours in His happy service,
J. Henry Thomas.*
