Charlie Chaplin

in "The Gold Rush"

The Alaska of the days of the Klondike gold rush; The lone prospector; miners, big and little, and old and young; dance halls and mining camps; assayers, ship's officers and crews—all these are pictured in this greatest of all comedies. Through it all is the Charlie of old; the Chaplin of the little derby, the trick cane, the baggy trousers, the little moustache, the sloppy shoes—with all his inimitable comedy drama. Only the genius of a Charlie Chaplin could make a picture like this.
