German Sues for Money in Defunct First State Bank

That the bank is to blame for not being able to deliver him his money, deposited in the savings department, is the contention of Ambros Fischer, according to a petition filed yesterday by A. R. Campbell, deputy superintendent of banks, in charge of the liquidation of assets for the First State and Savings bank, defunct.

Before acting on Fischer's claim, plus, E.O. Nord, president, and mitted the proposition to Judge A. L. Leavitt for an opinion. Fischer, a former Klamath resident, returned to Germany in 1921.

Oregon Pioneer Ends Visit Here

A real Oregon pioneer, Mrs. Nancy Jane McCoy, 76, mother of Mrs. L. O. Arens of this city, left Thursday for Vancouver, Washington, where she will visit with relatives. Her home is now in Palo Alto, Calif.

Mrs. McCoy began her pilgrimage to Oregon at the age of one year, entering the state in a wagon train with her parents in 1851, coming from Illinois.

"Klamath Falls is a fine place to visit, and I like the people, but I have one criticism to make," said Mrs. McCoy before she left. "Whenever it rains the streets and sidewalks in some parts of the city are muddier than any wagon trail I ever saw in the early days."

POPULAR COUPLE QUIETLY WEDDED

Greta Madison Becomes Wife of John Linman Yesterday Afternoon

Two of Klamath Falls most popular young people, Miss Greta Madison and John Linman, surprised their hosts of friends late Thursday afternoon when they were united in marriage at the parsonage of Sacred Heart church, with Father A. F. Loser performing the ceremony.

The bride is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Mills of 539 Alameda, and has made her home with them for several years.

Mr. Linman is a well known young business man of Klamath Falls, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Linman, Sr., of Shippington.

They left by motor for San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Old Mexico, where they will spend the coming three weeks touring.

Upon their return home they will be at home in an apartment in Hot Springs addition.

Chamber to Hold Picture Contest

"Tell it with pictures" is the slogan of the Klamath Falls chamber of commerce. All because a new folder is to be printed, one to be replete with pictures.

A contest for pictures opened today and will close February 15. Prizes will be awarded by the chamber, $5 for the best photograph submitted and $1.00 for each other selection.

In entering this contest all photographs should be delivered or mailed directly to the Photo Contest Editor at the chamber of commerce. Write your name and address on the back ground and state if you wish them returned.

Fishing and hunting scenes are especially wanted. The picture of Crater Lake which the chamber has will be used, so none of this scenic spot will be accepted.

The lava beds are to be pushed, particularly now that it has been made a national monument.

BABY GIRL BORN TO LOCAL COUPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mueller Proud Parents of Healthy Child Wednesday

The baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mueller on Wednesday evening at the Klamath Valley hospital has been named Anne Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Mueller are well known residents of Klamath, Mr. Mueller being identified with one of the local lumber concerns.

CAMPBELL FROM LORELLA Will Campbell is included in the out of town visitors today from his farm in the Lorella district.

Advertising Plans Will Be Furthered

A further conference on the community advertising project which southern Oregon cities are contemplating is being held in Ashland today to map out definite plans for the campaign. Representing the local chamber of commerce are Lynn Sabin, Ben H. Stevenson, W. W. McNealy and H. S. Matthews, who motored to Ashland this morning.

Hershberger Boy's Funeral Services Saturday Morning

Funeral services for little Jackie Hershberger, 14 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hershberger of 16th and Washington, who passed away early yesterday morning at the family home, will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 from the Whitlock funeral parlors with Rev.

A. F. Simmons of the First Baptist church officiating. The child will be laid to rest in the family plot in Linkville cemetery.

Building Takes Spurt in Town

With building permits aggregating $4200 issued over Friday in the office of Police Judge Gaghagen, the year 1926 gives promise of being a banner year, providing this record continues.

A permit was issued to George Bolton to erect a residence costing $2500. Erection of a garage and remodeling of a home to cost in the neighborhood of $1200 was the request for which a permit was issued to J. W. Kerns.

MISS WALKER AWAY

Miss Mary Walker of the Hector Shop is enjoying a ten days' visit at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grimes. Before returning to her position Miss Walker expects to visit for a short time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Butler Walker, at Ashland.
